ARMY URGES REICH CONTROL SWITCH

Big Street Program Mapped

Council to Ask Specifications

By SHELDON BINN

An ambitious, 16-unit Mansfield street improvement program for 1949 was announced by Fifth Ward Council Fred Miller yesterday.

First action on the program will be taken Tuesday night when requests that the city engineer prepare plans and estimates on the seven paving, six resurfacing and three grading and graveling jobs are placed before city council.

Miller, chairman of the council street committee, said the committee feels that the streets chosen for improvement in 1949 are those most badly in need of repair.

"We may have to cut part of the program out, after we find out how much it will cost the city," he explained.

Funds for the purpose are limited. Cost of the program will not be known until the engineer completes the estimates.

Among the measures expected to be offered to council Tuesday will be a request for plans and specifications for resurfacing Park avenue west from Main street to Park drive and widening it from Mulberry street to Bowman street.

The Park avenue west proposal probably will be contested, spokesmen said. It has been argued that it is not worth widening the street at the expense of the shade trees that line it on either side.

7 TO BE PAVED

Of the seven streets marked for paving, three are hold-overs from last year. They are Chilton avenue, from Main street to Scholl road; Bentley street, from First street to Park avenue east; and Shady Lane, from Park avenue west south.

The four new proposed street paving projects are Glenwood Heights, from Mendota street to the end of the present improvement; Brickman avenue, from Park avenue west to North Linden road; Crouse street, from West First street to Glessner avenue; and Sloane avenue, from Poplar street to Bartley avenue.

Scheduled for resurfacing, in addition to Park avenue west, are South Adams street, from East First street to South Diamond street; West Sixth street, from Sycamore street to either North Main or North Mulberry streets; State street, from South Main street to the end of the present improvement; and Bowman street, from West Fifth street to Springmill street.

The three streets marked for grading and graveling are Highland avenue, from Euclid to Fairlawn avenues; Platt street, from Wayne street east, and Harrison street, from Central avenue to Fifth avenue.

Priest Shot In Church

NEW YORK —(AP)— A man walked into a Catholic church yesterday, unwrapped a rifle and fired into a confessional, wounding a priest in the leg.

The man then fled, pursued by a woman from the church, but she lost sight of him several blocks away.

The shooting occurred at the St. John the Martyr Roman Catholic church while a number of women and children awaited their turns at confession.

The wounded priest, Rev. Vincent J. Campbell, was taken to a hospital, where attendants said the wound in the calf of his leg was not serious.

The priest said he was seated in the confessional at the rear of the church when he heard the shot and felt a stinging pain in his leg.

Seize Five Slots

DOVER — (AP) — State liquor agents reported they raided the Moose lodge here Friday night and seized five slot machines. The agents also visited three other clubs holding liquor licenses but said they found no gambling devices.

'Smear' Tactics Shield Communist Conspiracy, Investigator Reveals

By ROBERT E. STRIPLING
(Chief Investigator, un-American Activities Committee, 1938-1948)
Edited by Bob Considine

* * *

This is the first of a series of twenty-eight articles examining the communist conspiracy in the United States. Mr. Stripling was until recently the sparkplug of the House committee that uncovered widespread communist propaganda and espionage. In this exclusive series he will show the reader, for the first time, the inner workings of the House un-American Activities Committee. Mr. Stripling will name names, describe Red infiltration into Government circles, and give pertinent background to cases now in the public eye.

* * *

At the beginning let me attempt to outline, without conjecture, the scope of the communist conspiracy against the government and people of the United States.

To do so is to invite the charge of fascist, red-baiter, witch-hunter, smear-artist. To fail to do so is to capitulate supinely to a resourceful enemy who can endure any counter-attack except exposure.

That a conspiracy exists is more than obvious, though the conspirators, who are anything but fools, have been able to spread devious doubt about the nature of their continuing activities.

The conspiracy operates astutely within the texture of our Constitution and the resilient borders of our native tolerance. For 25 years it has made steady inroads into our institutions and utilized respected American individuals.

Even Presidents of the United States inadvertently have served its purposes.

The roots of the conspiracy are as clearly defined in the writings of Marx, Lenin and Stalin as were the roots of the comparatively less ambitious naziism in Hitler's "Mein Kampf." Its growth can be vividly traced in the known activities of its agents in this country for a quarter of a century. It is continuing as you read these words.

Reds Order Arrest of Top Chinese

Threats Lodged Against Leaders

NANKING —(AP)—The Chinese communists coldly told Acting President Li Tsung-Jen yesterday he must arrest Chiang Kai-Shek as a war criminal or "you will be punished" without mercy.

The communist radio in North China accused Vice-President Li of "conniving" in the flight of government leaders from Nanking. It wanted all other government officials on the Red list of "war criminals" arrested.

Since Chiang and almost all others on the list long since have gone south, it is impossible for Acting President Li Tsung-Jen to comply, even should he wish.

The communists demanded a prompt reply, but there was no official public reaction. Acting President Li, inside his strongly-guarded home, was the only responsible official left in the capital. Not a single cabinet member could be located.

The victorious communist armies were idling on or near the north bank of the Yangtze at many points. Coupled with this, the new political demands plunged Nanking hopes of a negotiated settlement to new lows.

The communist broadcast, by an unidentified spokesman, also angrily demanded rearrest of Lt. Gen. Yasutsugu Okamura, last Japanese commander in China. He was acquitted of war crimes before a Chinese government military court Wednesday.

The communist statement declared:

"We hold that your present activities are a scheme to use hypocritical peace negotiations as a cover for regrouping your forces and war preparations, including a plot to bring the Japanese reactionaries to China to join you in butchering the Chinese people."

Tipping Now Includes New Automobiles

NEW YORK —(AP)— Big tips aren't unusual at the plush Stork club but the one bartender Thomas Fioretti got took his breath away.

It was a shiny, 1948 Cadillac cabriolet, gift of an out-of-town automobile dealer whose name Fioretti declined to disclose.

The bartender said he had known his benefactor for four and a half years. During that time he did him a number of favors, including getting hotel reservations for him whenever he visited New York.

5 Americans Caught In War

RANGOON, Burma — (AP) — United States and British embassies sought last night to rescue their nationals, including five Americans, stranded in a civil war battle zone less than 100 miles west of Rangoon.

The Americans are missionaries whose names are not known here. The number and identity of the Britons was not reported. They were trapped when their plane was grounded by the weather at Bassein on the Irrawaddy delta. The city fell to Karen rebels Friday.

No word has been received of the foreigners since they landed. Bassein has been cut off from radio contact with other sections.

BUYS HIS OWN—Employes in the county auditor's office were surprised, but not stumped when a dog appeared Friday carrying a dollar bill and an application for a dog license. Miss Mildred Vogel (above) duly issued the tag. The dog, Skippy, a two-year old Spaniel and bird dog male, is owned by Mrs. Mae Hering, 161 East Fourth street. Skippy was taken to the courthouse by a neighbor, J. H. Bonham. It was the first case on record in Richland county of a dog purchasing his own tag.

B-36 Sets Load Record

Carries 42 Tons Of Bombs Aloft

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A United States B-36 bomber carried 42 tons of bombs aloft yesterday—greatest bomb load ever lifted—and dropped them on a California bombing range, the air force announced.

The bomb load consisted of two guided missiles. The two huge bombs, without explosive charges, were dropped suddenly.

The B-36 took off from Carswell Base, Texas, flew to a bombing range at the Muroc, Calif., air test base, and returned to the Texas field. Time over the target and other deviations in the route brought the total distance to 2,900 miles.

Air speed of the bomber as it released the missiles was better than 350 miles an hour.

Both the bombs were carried in normal manner within the huge bomb bays of the B-36, one in each bay. In previous tests the 42,000 pound bombs have been dropped by B-29s, each carrying only one bomb and this shackled to the underside of the airplane because it was too large for the B-29 bomb bay.

Reveal Two New Guided Missiles

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Air Force said yesterday it has developed two new high altitude rocket guided missiles, with controls which can aim them from the ground at a target while in flight.

One of them, the 774, was described as "potentially capable of attaining altitudes of more than 100 miles."

Statistics Look Discouraging

Divorce Rate Follows Hot on Cupid's Heels

Mansfielders married in 1948 will have to battle against statistics to make their marriages stick if the divorce rate set during the year continue at the save level in the future.

That conclusion is based on courthouse records of the number of marriage licenses issued compared to the number of divorces sought last year. For every 20 marriage licenses there were 12 divorce petitions filed.

Probate court records show 788 marriage licenses were issued while common pleas court records total 474 divorce petitions filed.

The preceding year odds on matrimony were slightly better—only 11 divorce suits filed for every 20 marriage licenses issued. Records for 1947 revealed a total of 923 marriage licenses and 503 divorce petitions.

MANY DISMISSED

However, many of the divorce actions were dismissed during both years. In 1948 the records show, 27 alimony actions were filed, a slight increase over the 21 alimony suits filed in 1947.

The marriage rate continued to decline, according to the records. The all-time record in the number of marriage licenses issued at probate court was reached in 1946 when the figure reached 1,046. In 1947 the numbers dropped to 923, and last year the figure dropped still further, to 788.

The 1946 peak is attributed to returning war veterans, courthouse officials say. Last year's number of licenses brings the rate back to normal, they claim.

Along with the drop in marriage licenses issued there was a drop in the number of divorce petitions filed between 1947 and 1948, from 503 to 474. However, the decline in the divorce rate was not as pronounced as the decline in marriage rate.

Last year's records reveal one petition was filed asking for an annulment of a marriage. The annulment was granted.

Five Perish In Flames

TOKYO —(AP)— Five American soldiers burned to death and 10 others were believed missing in a fire which swept the two-story barracks at the Yokata air force base early yesterday.

At least 15 others were injured, five of them seriously.

Smoke and heat awakened Staff Sgt. Carl R. Nilson of Tacoma, Wash. He sounded the alarm, but flames already were licking through the barracks, which housed 90 men.

Headquarters said five bodies, none immediately identified, had been recovered. Search was under way for 10 more believed missing.

The base is about 20 miles west of Tokyo.

Federal Aid Pours Into Storm Area

Clear Spell Aids In Rescue Work

(By Associated Press)

President Truman stepped up federal aid Saturday as clear cold weather came to most of the blizzard-stricken west.

The weather was a boon to expanding rescue efforts, but an additional hardship for hungry, snow-stranded livestock.

The cold wave, which extended east to the Atlantic, also relieved the present threat of major floods in the midwest.

The President authorized Defense Secretary Forrestal to dip into funds set up for river and harbor control to speed relief work in the disaster areas. Forrestal can spend for blizzard relief such funds as are available in the military establishment.

The President will ask Congress for a supplemental appropriation to replace blizzard relief funds spent by the military branches. He also sent to Congress a request for a supplemental relief appropriation of $500,000.

Meanwhile, the Fifth Army started moving into the blizzard disaster area, where it already has sent bulldozers, half-track weasels, and snow plows.

C. W. Anderson, divisional Federal Works agency engineer from Kansas City, was named to supervise storm relief work in Nebraska and South Dakota.

Two Air Force heliocopters, brought in from Kansas, flew over snow-clogged Nebraska communities on relief missions. The two helicopters will be used principally in transporting doctors to their patients and vice versa.

No Peace For Greeks

ATHENS, Greece —(AP)— The Greek government today pledged relentless war on communist-led rebels until they lay down their arms.

This was the reply of Press Minister Michael Alianos at a news conference to reports published abroad that the Greek government had accepted a cease-fire proposal from the rebels.

"There is only one act which can put an end to the war," said Alianos. "Let the bandits lay down their arms. This is not a condition nor a proposal, but must come from the bandits alone."

Only when and if the rebels have been crushed or surrender unconditionally will Greeec hold normal democratic elections, the cabinet spokesman said.

Expand Staff At Home

A caseworker and two governesses have been added to the staff at the Richland county children's home following a survey conducted by the state welfare department, George W. Reece, home superintendent, reported yesterday.

The new case worker is Mrs. Allan Sanford, graduate of Northwestern university, where she majored in sociology and took phychology as a minor. Mrs. Sanford had experience with the Children's Receiving home in Evanston, Ill., as a volunteer worker before coming to Mansfield on Jan. 24.

The governesses are Mrs. Elizabeth Miller and Mrs. Ray Myers of Galion. Mrs. Myers expects to move here soon. Mrs. Myers formerly was assistant superintendent of a girls' home in Detroit, Mich.

A second case worker will be added to the staff not later than June, Reece said. She will be Miss Demetrius Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Clark, 464 Beechwood drive, who now is attending Ohio State university.

Population of the home now is 48, including three pre-school age children. By April 1, the home must house only school age children and its population can't be more than 50, if the state survey recommendations are carried out.

MAKE IMPROVEMENTS

Other improvements made in the home within the past few months include:

Rearrangement of children's quarters so that children of similar age groups are on each floor; family grouping in the dining room and the completion of suggested kitchen improvements.

Kitchen projects included installation of fluorescent lighting, covered work surfaces, improved dish washing facilities and linoleum on the floor.

When the re-organized Richland County Child Welfare board began its operation in April, 1946, there were 84 children in the home. By Dec. 31, 1948, the number had been reduced to 49.

The decrease was made possible

Taft Begins 'Stumping'

Initiates Fight Against CIO-PAC

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Senator Robert A. Taft disclosed for the first time yesterday he will tour every one of Ohio's 88 counties this fall in an attempt to gain re-election in 1950.

In fact, he hold a news conference:

"My campaign for re-election already has started. I can't spend as much money as I hear the CIO-PAC is going to spend in its attempt to defeat me.

"I understand they will buy a lot of radio time and you can be sure they'll knock me every time. But I assure you that we'll make this up by spending more time campaigning in the state from now until the 1950 November election."

The Ohio Republican said his fall stumping will begin Sept. 1 and continue for three months. It will not be primarily a speech-making affair, he said, but rather an effort to get together with county organizations. He said he will spend a day in each county.

U-Boat Yields Grisly Cargo

HAMBURG, Germany —(AP)— The bodies of more than 70 men, women and children have been recovered from the hulk of a sunken German U-boat in Kiel Bay.

The submarine apparently was carrying refugees fleeing before the advancing Russian armies in 1945 when it was trapped on the surface and sunk by allied aircraft in the bay, known as "the graveyard of the German navy."

Most of the people were from Danzig. Bodies of 54 have been identified. Records are being checked to identify the others.

Blast Rocks Warren

WARREN —(AP)— An explosion on the slag dump at the Copperweld Steel company yesterday shook Warren homes and blew out several plant windows. Plant officials said the blast was causcd when hot slag was dumped onto the water soaked ground.

Appeal Made to President

Calls Job State Department Duty

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The army, appealing to President Truman, wants the administration of the U. S. zone of Germany turned over to the State department as soon as possible, it was learned last night.

Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall urged the switch in a formal recommendation to the White House.

Neither the White House nor State department, however, wants to rush through any quick change in the American setup in Germany, a political and economic battleground in the cold war.

General Lucius D. Clay reportedly is again pressing officials here to be allowed to retire as military governor, but President Truman is represented as anxious to keep him on the job a while longer.

Responsible officials said disposition of Royall's proposal will turn largely on the advice to be given President Truman by Secretary of State Acheson.

ACHESON SWAMPED

Acheson, in office little more than a week, has been swamped with other matters.

Moreover, insiders regard it likely that he would want an exhaustive review made of the whole German problem, including the specific issue of administration.

Royall's recommendation to Mr. Truman, with copies to the secretary of state and other interested officials, is reported to have been made in mid-January. He returned from a tour of Germany January 3. Yesterday he left Washington for a visit to Japan.

The military have made repeated attempts in the past to shift the occupation task to the state department. It was decided long ago that the start should be made in Germany with the changeover in Japan to come along later.

Some informants said that what lends a quality of urgency to the present situation is that General Clay has become more emphatic in expressing to Royall and others his desire to retire.

Any move to replace him, however, will be complicated by Russian propaganda, which in the past has dealt with rumors and reports of his possible retirement as evidence of a change in American policies in Germany.

Clark Hints Rent Action

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Attorney General Clark has instructed federal district attorneys to study carefully any mass issuance of eviction notices for evidence of illegal conspiracy.

This was announced last night by the Justice department, which said the attorneys were directed to present any possible law violations to a grand jury.

A property owners group in Tulsa, Okla., has ordered a number of evictions of tenants within 60 days and has called on landlords in other cities to follow suit.

The Justice department's statement said Clark "instructed all United States district attorneys to examine with care the so-called 'Tulsa Plan' concerning mass eviction of tenants and ascertain if there might exist any conspiracy to violate the Housing and Rental act of 1948 or any other applicable statutes."

Cosmogony Moves Closer to Genesis

Scientific Study Now Supports Words of Bible

NEW YORK —(AP)— The Bible's story of creation gets support in a new scientific study reported to the American Physical society yesterday.

Cosmogony, the scientific version of creation, always has differed tremendously from both the events and timing of the Bible. Today's cosmogony shows three revolutionary changes closer to Genesis.

The study was reported by Doctors Ralph A. Alpher and Robert C Herman, of the Johns Hopkins Applied Physics laboratory. They credited recent studies by Professor G. Gamow of George Washington university. Funds were supplied by the U. S. Navy Bureau of Ordnance.

Genesis' first sentence says God created the heavens and the earth. Today's new science says the earth was created at the same instant as the heavens, that is, with all the rest of creation.

The Bible has God's creation taking six days. In the scientific version today the essential creation was all done in one hour.

In Genesis, third sentence, God said: "Let there be light." The scientific story starts with light, instead of matter.

The story is told in the following seven steps:

"1—Beginning—Universe starts to expand—Consists almost entirely of radiation.

"2—First few minutes—Very dense and too hot to form the chemical elements.

"3—At end of about four minutes matter consists of some protons, mostly neutrons, and the density of this matter is about one millionth of the density of water. The temperature has dropped to about one billion degrees.

"4—By end of first hour. Chemical elements formed in essentially their present abundances."

"5—First ten million years—Universe continues to expand and cool.

"6—At about 10 million years densities of matter and radiation about equal."

"7—From 10 million years to present, three billion years, stars form and evolve in galaxies, and galaxies acquire observed shapes (cartwheel) due to their rotation.

This new theory accounts for the present expansion of the universe seen in giant telescopes and for some other puzzles of astronomers.

Br-r-r! It's Cold at Last

Yes, winter has finally arrived. The proof — if any is needed — is given by temperature figures provided last night by the CAA communications station at Mansfield airport:

Random Shots . . .

With

Don Miller

Just a polite word of warning—don't anyone mention beaver to me for the next six months. Mal Hartley and I bundled the women into a car last Sunday and set out on the trail of the beavers reported in Richland county.

Net result—one cold, one white duck, and no beavers.

Never let it be said we aren't persistent, though. Another trip has been lined up. See what you get into when you take up this line of work?

To Nicolas M. Klupp:
Dear Nick:

Thanks for your kind letter, and I'm sorry I couldn't find which lake you were seeking. However, don't let that worry you. There are 11,500 lakes in Minnesota and many of them are seldom fished.

Among the better lakes and ones which are very hard to reach are some of those in the Superior National forest, just below the Minnesota-Ontario line. Bass, wall-eyes, muskies, and plenty of trout can be found there, with June and early July the best season to try your luck.

Mosquitoes are more plentiful than fish but such a trip is well worth battling them. I've never fished the Superior forest myself, my trips having been around the Mankato, Rochester, and Sleepy Eye vicinity, but Robert Page Lincoln gives the forest area his O.K.

That's plenty good enough for me! If you'd care to leave your car some place and take a canoe trip, I'll be glad to help you map one out. —D.M.

I notice that the bill to place quail on the list of game birds has again been presented to the state legislature, and hereby pass along my own opinion.

Don't let that bill pass in Ohio! Shooting pressure is so heavy here that the quail would take a terrific beating. In the south where the population isn't so dense and there's more cover, an open season on quail provides a lot of shooting pleasure. But Ohio doesn't have enough quail nor sufficient cover to maintain the bird population at a reasonable high.

This particular bill wouldn't provide for an open season, but would take quail off the songbird list. This would enable the state conservation department to aid in propogating the birds.

On the face of it, that would seem like a very good measure, with but one exception. Once the quail are off the songbird list there will be a lot of pressure brought to bear by those who would rather see the quail shot than flying around loose.

Don't get me wrong. I get a big kick out of quail hunting, but I hate to think of what a covey would look like by the time six or eight or more hunters finished taking a crack at it in one day.

The calendar tells me it's almost time for the regular meeting of the Richland County Fish and Game Protective association. That will be Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the North Lake park pavilion. Don't know what's on tap, but it's about time for the group to start outlining special activities to help pay for the newly-purchased farm.

These could take the form of a dog show, sportsman's show, skish tournaments, special gun shoots, or what have you. How about dropping out and sticking an oar into the conversation! The more ideas presented the more money the group can make. And it couldn't go to a better place.

Of course everyone is entitled to his or her opinion, but I'm all set to sound off again. Take it for what it's worth, and if it doesn't agree with yours just let me know. We'll get a row started around here yet!

Despite a lot of protests from animal lovers (who for the most part don't contribute anything to the welfare of these same animals except a lot of excess wordage) fox drives are sporting and serve a useful purpose. They help to cut down the predators which destory a great deal of bird and smaller animal life. At the same time, they are a good example of how men can enjoy themselves in the field whether or not anything is caught.

Considering the number of men who get out on each of these drives, results are almost nil. Three men and a pack of hounds can kill a lot more fox than a hundred men on a drive. All in all, it develops that these drives are more or less away to expend that energy which stores itself up during the long winter months.

On one point, however, I differ with the drivers. I don't care much for the idea of killing owls, either great-horned, barn, or others. Most owls are beneficial to man in that they kill and eat reptiles and small rodents. Even the great-horned owl can claim to break about even on his diet. Oh, sure, he'll take a young rabbit now and then but he'll get more mice, snakes, etc.

How about letting the owls go and directing efforts towards clearing out the 'wild' house cats? These are a real threat to our wildlife.

Memo to Nicholas Klupp: I overlooked one question in your letter, and just happened to notice it. You wrote that you believed Ohio ranked third instead of second in the sale of fishing licenses last year, so I checked my figures again.

Darned if you aren't right! Michigan managed to top Ohio but played second fiddle to California. Glad to see the interest you've taken in the page, and stick with us. We'll have some good material coming along in a short time.

3 Mountain Lions Bagged

WILLIAMS, Ariz. — (AP) — Les Cravey, local predatory animal hunter, reaped dividends recently when he bagged three mountain lions in three hours to net him $150 in bounties.

Cravey's three dogs treed an old female lion and two six-month-old cubs about three miles north of here after tracking them through the snow. Three shots brought the cats down.

The hunter said the animals were fat and sleek indicating a toll on the cattle of stockmen in this area. The hunt was made during a lull in Cravey's duties with the state game department.

Know Your Fish

'Mr. Whiskers' Deserves a High Rating

He's a rugged sort of fellow, built like a heavyweight boxer, and his appearance is often called gruesome. With brilliantly colored trout and record breaking bass taking charge of the headlines in outdoors magazines, he merely plods away in the same old groove, furnishing more meat for the table and more excitement for the average angler than almost any other kind of fish.

It's old "Mr. Whiskers," the lowly catfish, who comes in for discussion at this time. Incidentally, how did that word 'lowly' creep in there?

There's nothing low about him at all unless it's his habit of hanging near the bottom of a lake or stream. When it comes to just plain "orneriness" and plenty good eating, put 'Whiskers' right up there on the top of the list.

From the ten-inch bullhead to the 40 and 50 pound mud catfish of the Mississippi river, he's a favorite with many fisherman.

Catfish aren't particular about their food. It it's dead, they'll eat it. If it's alive they'll run it down and swallow it whole.

If it smells like $20-a-whiff perfume, they'll gulp it down. If it smells like the village garbage can they'll use the same tactics. They're hungry critters.

A good many catfish are caught by accident while the fisherman is seeking bluegills, crappies, or bass, but the man who sets forth with just one thing on his mind, catfish, is in for some real thrills.

Slow moving water is the usual habitat of all members of this varied family except the channel cat, chief fighter of them all. Most persons who have spent any time near water have seen catfish feeding, lazing along the bottom, tail slightly higher than the head, and whiskers bending against the water's force. Dead fish, worms, and almost anything at all disappear into a mouth which looks almost like the scoop on a steam shovel.

Blue cats, silver cats, mud cats, yellow cats, bullheads, or any other of a few hundred names are applied to the family but the silvery-sided channel cat is tops for both eating and sport. This species is streamlined, has a narrow head as compared to the broad head of his fellows, and has a number of small spots flecking the silvery side. The tail is forked and soft as against the fan tail of the bullhead (horned pout) and the larger mud cat.

Fairly swift water produces most of the channel cats, and a sandy or gravely bottom seems to be the best. He often is mistaken for a bass since he comes clear out of the water in pursuit of minnows. Many times they are caught on artificial plugs by fishermen casting for bass. And eating? The white, flaky meat of a channel cat is something to make even the most elusive bachelor propose marriage!

As for the other members of the family, they are about as good for eating but a little short of the fighting ability of the channel cat. As against the two to four pound size of the channels, yellow and mud cats come in a variety of sizes, mostly large. These larger fish are taken by means of a trotline, a long length of heavy cord with hooks tied on about every six feet, or by jugging.

The latter is fast developing into one of the better known means of catfishing and the equipment is simple.

A few two quart or gallon jugs, some three feet lengths of line, some nice smelly bait (the more it smells the better it is) and a boat and motor. The jugs are capped and sealed, the lines tied to the handle, and the hooks baited. With a dozen jugs scattered about a large river, the fisherman is in for a hectic time.

First one jug and then another will disappear, with the fisherman chasing along behind in the boat. Usually a fairly fast river is chosen for this sport, so it's a job just to keep within sight of the jugs. When the cats start biting and jugs plunking under, it develops into a regular free-for-all. The air in the jug soon tires the cat out, and it'll bob back to the surface. About the time the boat draws near, the cat has recuperated and the chase is on again.

FIND 'EM ANYPLACE

Where can you find these catfish? Anyplace there's water. What is the best bait to use? Cotton soaked with cheese (again limburger is a delicacy they love); large minnows, dead or alive; gobs of nightcrawlers; in fact, just about anything you can name.

Don't let those sharp spines scare you. A little practice will soon enable you to put two fingers ahead of the lateral spines and the thumb and two smallest fingers behind.

If it's a fairly large cat, just stick a thumb in his mouth and let him hang on. He'll pinch your thumb a little but you won't lose it. And if you did, what's the difference? You have another thumb but a good big catfish is worth a thumb any day.

As for cleaning the cat, don't waste your time trying to scale him. He has no scales but possesses a tough skin. For snappy dressing just nail his head to a board, slash around his body just behind the head, and pull the skin off with a pair of pliers. Some fishermen favor dipping him into scalding water first, but this discolors the flesh slightly and the skin is just as easily removed without the scalding.

Don't sell him short, the catfish is just as American as hot dogs, baseball, and—well—fishing.

Hunter Took Out License A Little Late

BISMARCK, N. D.—With only about two hours of North Dakota's 3-day deer season remaining, G. C. Grenz, who lives south of Bismarck in Emmons county, walked into the state game and fish department headquarters at Bismarck and asked for a deer hunting license.

"You won't have time to get a deer before the season closes, will you?" asked a puzzled clerk as he made out the license.

"Oh, it won't take me long to run down there and shoot one," replied Grenz confidently, plunking down the $5 license fee.

He hurried out of the office, license in pocket, and headed for Emmons county.

There is a piece of wooded country was a freshly-killed, untagged deer.

There also were some game wardens.

Grenz was fined $50 and costs for illegally shooting a deer.

Woman Sets Fish Record

Snow flurries may worry Ohio sportsmen, but they fail to bother the women down in Florida. This past week one of the feminine anglers set a new women's record for sailfish taken on a nine-thread line by boating one which reached out seven feet and 11 inches.

However, her fish takes second place in the standings of the annual silver sailfish derby. Leading the field is another taken by a woman, an eight foot, one-inch sail. It was landed by Mrs. L. K. Unger of Norristown, Pa.

And who says fishing's for the young? Mrs. Unger is 80 years old.

Cripple Runs Sitter Agency

DOVER—(AP)—John Miceli, unable to walk for four years, operates a rapidly growing baby sitting service from his home.

A victim of scelerosis, Miceli has a staff of ten sitters, mostly high school girls who learned infant care by looking after younger brothers and sisters. They must be over 13 and have the consent of their parents.

Miceli acts as a clearing agency, receiving calls from parents and relaying them to the sitters.

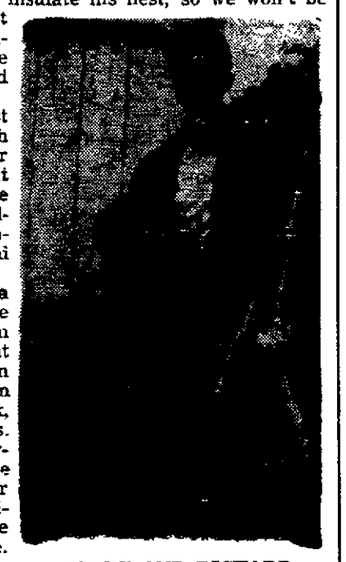
Introducing Richard Woodchuck, Who Soon Will Forecast Weather

By VIRGINIA LEE

Meet "Richard," the Lucas scion of that Woody Woodchuck family that the nation's weather-minded populace will be eyeing come Wednesday, Feb. 2 (Ground Hog day to you).

Richard's friends won't predict what he'll do on that date but they know what he's already done and they'll have you know he's not as dumb as you might think.

"He predicted colder weather last October by carrying mouthfuls of scrap paper to insulate his nest, so we won't be too surprised if he comes out to survey the spring situation," said members of the Robert Mowers sr. household where Richard also resides.



BOBBY AND RICHARD

When Bobby Mowers, a last year's senior at Lucas high school, went out to gather blossoms for commencement decorations last May, he came across Richard, a cuddlesome little ball of fur, wandering alone into the cold world along Mt. Zion road.

He lodged the orphan in a little wire cage and began the task of trying to keep him well fed. When Bobby went to a Chicago trade school in late June, his family began providing Richard with milk, bread, vegetables and greens. Guss Culler, Bobby's 79-year-old grandfather, picked the choicest dandelions and clover for the pet who learned to follow him around and come quickly when called by name.

Richard grew to weigh more than 12 pounds and got so domesticated that he even "whistled" for attention. His playmates, besides people, included Michael, the Mowers family cat. No longer constrained, Richard was free to go where he pleased, but he evidently liked village life. He took up residence beneath the Mowers garage. If he didn't appear voluntarily at meal time, a mere call for "Richard" brought him quickly until November when the roly poly fellow laid down for a winter's rest.

Several centuries before Christ the Greeks experimented with crude hydraulic machinery.

Lucas Vets 5 Wins 2 Games

LUCAS — The Lucas Vets basketball team won two more games here last night to run its record to 15 wins in 19 games.

The Vets knocked off Lucas Lutheran in the prelim, 27 to 24, and Richland Beverage, 40 to 36. Dick Roberts of Richland was the top scorer with 14.

Oberlin Beats Eagle Cagers

OBERLIN —(AP)— Oberlin's Yeomen kept their basketball record at their new field house clean last night by winning their fifth straight game there last night, 58-54 from Ashland college's Eagles.

The Eagles, however, after trailing at the quarters 15-12, 35-25 and 42-39 went ahead in the last three minutes 53-51. Two long shots by Bill Gearhold, a Yeoman substitute forward then saved the game for the home team.

Forward Johnny Blackwell's 16 points for Oberlin were the high individual scoring total. Guard Dick Cooper led Ashland with 11.

Bellville 5 Second In Court Loop

Lexington, a team which has slumped considerably after a brilliant early-season start, will have a chance to get back into the limelight Friday night.

The Minutemen are scheduled to invade Ontario for a Richland County league basketball tilt and need a victory to preserve a mathematical chance for the title. Lexington is three games back with three to go.

BELLVILLE HAS CHANCE

A victory for Ontario Friday night will leave only Bellville with a chance to share the crown. Ontario is scheduled against Bellville Feb. 11.

The Warriors have now won 12 straight games without defeat, 11 of them in league competition.

Other games Friday send Union to Plymouth, Bellville to Shiloh and Butler to Lucas.

Outside of the featured game at Ontario, the Union-Plymouth game will be the most important as far as affecting the standings.

TIED FOR FIFTH

Union and Plymouth are now tied for fifth place along with Butler. If Lucas dumps Butler as expected, the winner of the Union-Plymouth game will take a full game lead in the No. 5 slot.

★

Individual scoring in the league has become strictly a two-man race with Howard Sunnucks of Ontario and Desmond Donnenwirth of Plymouth having things all to themselves.

Sunnucks still holds an eight-point lead but yielded valuable ground Friday when he tallied only 14 to Donnenwirth's 23. The Ontario ace has 173 points.

Tire to Have Athletic Field

A six-acre employes playground has been leased by the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company athletic commission company, it was announced yesterday.

The playground will be opened in the spring with softball fields, horseshoe courts and an archery range.

The playground is located to the rear of the Ohio Public Service sub-station on the Olivesburg road, approximately two blocks from the plant. The lease was for five years, according to John Hoffman, chairman of the company's athletic commission.

The field will not be lighted.

Gump's Quint Wins, 49 to 40

SHELBY—Gump's remained unbeaten in the Shelby basketball league last night by defeating Shelby Salesbook, 49 to 40. The win practically assured Gump's of the league title.

Leroy Dill topped Gump's with 15 points while Bob Laubie had 13 for Salesbok.

In other games, the Shelby Merchants defeated Bing's store, 45 to 31 and Ohio Seamless Tube won over American Legion, 30-23.

Next set of games will be played Saturday, Feb. 5.

Cincy Sextet Signs for '49

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds, announced last night the receipt of signed contracts from six players.

They include pitchers Johnny Vander Meer and Howard Fox, who are expected to carry a big share of the Reds' hurling load in 1949.

Vander Meer won 17 and lost 14 last year for the seventh place Reds and Fox won six and lost nine.

Others who sent in contracts were utility infielders Claude Corbett and Benny Zientara, catcher Ray Mueller and outfielder Danny Litwhiler.

Mueller missed a big part of last season because of a broken ankle but reported he is back in shape. Litwhiler played most of the season in the Reds' outfield and hit .275.

Giles also announced that three-year contracts have been signed by three rookies, acquired since the end of last season. They are outfielder Bill Van Heuit and pitcher Mike Savransky, who played with Sunbury in the interstate league last year, and catcher David Poole, who was signed off the campus of Davidson college.

Takes Austin Coaching Job

SHERMAN, Tex. — (AP) — Ray Morrison yesterday became head football coach at Austin college. He resigned last Thursday as head mentor at Temple university.

Morrison formerly coached at Southern Methodist university and Vanderbilt.

He succeeds Will Pierce as coach of Austin college, which is a member of the Texas conference. Pierce resigned Dec. 6 after being coach two years.

The length of the contract and salary were not disclosed by Austin college officials. Morrison is to report here March 1 to start spring training.

Barons Set Record

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Johnny Holota scored four goals and Fred Thurier three as Cleveland's Barons racked up their highest total of all time last night to crush the Washington Lions 14 to 4 in an American Hockey league game before 10,628 fans.

In 72 Southeastern conference football games played in 1948, a total of 2496 points were scored, an average of nearly 33 points a game.

Charley Stine:

Finds Union Hi On Move

Union high school may be near the bottom in present Richland county basketball league ratings but will move to the top of the ladder in a couple years if plans of Coach Bill Pedigo mature.

STINE

Until talking with Pedigo last week we did not realize that Union has one of the largest enrollments in the county system. Over 80 boys attend the school. the caliber of basketball is due to lack of elementary teaching, not the lack of potential material.

Pedigo's plan (not what he would like but the best he can manage) is to have the three feeder schools for Union to send their boys to the high school gym several times a month for regular practice sessions. Then on nights when Union plays home games, the grade school boys divide up and play a preliminary.

Just how this will pay off can be easily imagined by taking a look at Union's current varsity. The boys are as big or bigger than the average in the league, are normally smart, but lack fundamentals. Even a once-a-week outing on a gym floor in the seventh and eighth grades would have made quite a difference.

Union and Greenwich reserve teams played a game and a half at Greenwich Tuesday night before Union won, 29-26. The game was tied 25-all at the end of the fourth quarter and in the first three-minute overtime each team made one foul shot. Neither team dented the bucket in the second overtime and still no score.

Union's Lyle Boyce finally became the hero in the fourth overtime period when he caged a free throw and then tossed in a long shot from the center of the floor a minute later.

Still another story from the little school up state route 545 concerns the game with Ontario Coach Pedigo let one of the subs enter the game after the player assured him that he wasn't nervous. "Shucks, what is there to get excited about," the player said.

Then the boy ran out on the floor without reporting to the scorer's bench or waiting for a dead ball.

Fans (or just plain people) who are free at 4 p. m. on Mondays and Thursdays are missing some fine entertainment if they don't take in one of the grade school basketball games. The kids can expend more nervous energy in one game than the average high school team does in a whole season.

However, for the best basketball of the regular season, don't fail to see the Fredericktown-Lima St. Rose game Friday night at Kenyon college.

Red Flaherty Named to Head Chicago Pros

CHICAGO —(AP)— Ray (Red) Flaherty, once a coaching hero of the rival national football league, yesterday was named head coach of the rebuilt Chicago Rockets in the All-America conference.

The surprise announcement by league Commissioner O. O. Kessing swept out coach Ed McKeever after a lamentable one-season showing. The Rockets won one game and lost 13.

Flaherty said he had signed a one-year Rocket contract, but did not disclose his salary.

McKeever, signed for three years at $65,000, must settle with the league for the remaining two years of his pact, Kessing said.

Flaherty's selection was the All-America's answer to the challenge of dragging the inept Chicago entry up by the bootstraps for a Chicago box office showdown with the nation's powerful Bears and Cardinals.

Pena-Tread
Bites
THE ROAD!
On slick ice . . . snow . . . and greasy blacktop, you'll want the proven skid control and double safety of Pena-Tread. Over 2,000 tremendously strong steel claws, imbedded in your tire during the treading process, give you life-saving penetration in addition to conventional tire traction.
Only Pena-Tread — Treads-of-Steel — offer:
1. "Coat of Mail" protection which deflects glass, pieces of metal and sharp rocks
2. Greater skid-control
3. Safer, straight-line stops and faster starts.

Wants You to Meet

SCOTTY

This Lovable, Money-Saving Scotchman. The only thing he gives—is advice. But believe us when we tell you it is given HONESTLY and SINCERELY.

Why Scotty Came to Us

Well, it was this way: It is a known fact that the Scots have a "nose" for BARGAINS and VALUES. That noseyness led him straight to our USED CAR DEPARTMENT. His eyes lit up and he went into a dance, which we believe was the Highland Fling, when he saw some of the cars traded in on

THE NEW 1949 FORDS

Of course, all of these cars had been through our modern shop, the same as all of our USED CARS,, for we believe this is the way to make friends and keep them. Getting back to Scotty though—he was so impressed with the Used Car Department that he will be back soon and give you some hints about other money saving departments and service, offered by Moorhead's.

He'll Be Back Tomorrow -- WATCH FOR HIM!

PENETRATION • TRACTION

THE ROAD!

On slick ice . . . snow . . . and greasy blacktop, you'll want the proven skid control and double safety of Pena-Tread. Over 2,000 tremendously strong steel claws, imbedded in your tire during the treading process, give you life-saving penetration in addition to conventional tire traction.

Only Pena-Tread — Treads-of-Steel — offer:

1. "Coat of Mail" protection which deflects glass, pieces of metal and sharp rocks
2. Greater skid-control
3. Safer, straight-line stops and faster starts.

Take a ride with your Pena-Tread Dealer today!

SCOTTY

This Lovable, Money-Saving Scotchman. The only thing he gives—is advice. But believe us when we tell you it is given HONESTLY and SINCERELY.

Why Scotty Came to Us

Well, it was this way: It is a known fact that the Scots have a "nose" for BARGAINS and VALUES. That noseyness led him straight to our USED CAR DEPARTMENT. His eyes lit up and he went into a dance, which we believe was the Highland Fling, when he saw some of the cars traded in on

THE NEW 1949 FORDS

Of course, all of these cars had been through our modern shop, the same as all of our USED CARS,, for we believe this is the way to make friends and keep them. Getting back to Scotty though—he was so impressed with the Used Car Department that he will be back soon and give you some hints about other money saving departments and service, offered by Moorhead's.

'Y' Reports 66 Per Cent Gain In Year

Young Boys Pace Membership Growth

Mansfield YMCA membership has jumped almost 66 per cent in the past year, according to yearly reports released yesterday by Irl L. Fisher, president of the YMCA board of trustees.

Memberships on file the first day of January, 1949 totaled 1,327 whole only about 800 were on file the first of 1948.

The largest gain was among young boys where 270 new members were secured in 1948, and the highest percentage of gain was in the ranks of business men which has more than doubled over the previous year.

Similar increases were shown in actual participation in the YMCA program. Total participants for 1948 amounted to 112,836 whereas 96,000 were recorded in 1947. There were 188 different groups meetings in 3,954 separate sessions last year, against 177 groups participating in 3,100 meetings the previous year.

Maurice W. Taylor, "Y" general secretary, said: "This stepped up program which requires three men to use one locker in many instances, illustrates the Y's urgent need of new facilities which can be incorporated only through a new YMCA building."

The yearly report also calls attention to the $15,000 rehabilitation program completed at 'Y' last year, the newly-adopted constitution, and the recently inaugurated administrative system.

Sues In Gambling

IRONTON, — (AP) — F. A Copenhaver of Huntington, W. Va., has brought a suit in common pleas court asking a judgment of $5,100 against the Continental night club at Chesapeake. Copenhaver charged he lost that amount gambling at the club between Dec. 12 and 19, 1948.

Mansfield Senior High News

Dates For Year-End Events Announced

By MARGIE GOODMAN

Monday begins the second semester of school. For seniors this means sixteen more weeks of school. These last ninety days are crowded with thoughts of class day, graduation, and our all-night prom.

Here is the first announcement of those all-important dates. Shaw dance—May 21, Class day—May 27, Class prom—June 3, Baccalaureate — June 5, and Commencement—June 9.

Most of us are getting worried about when we're going to get the necessary studying in during the next few months. But other seniors have solved this problem and I'm sure we will, too.

The girls' varsity volleyball team has really been burning up the hardwoods, so to speak. They have played several out-of-town teams and have a date with Madison Feb. 4.

MARGIE

The boys seem to rate all the publicity but the girls have just as much spirit and teamwork as any team we've seen. A little moral support would go a long way, though, so, come on kids, let's get out there and give a little cheering to the so-called "weaker sex." You won't think them so weak if you could see some of those "Charles Atlas" wallops they give that ball.

Under the leadership of Bob Schmitt, the YMCA director, the sophomore, junior and senior Hi-Y's have formed an executive committee. The officers of all three clubs are on this committee and are planning programs and speakers for the remainder of the year. They have been studying parliamentary procedure and also on their agenda is the induction and inauguration of the sophomores into the organization.

Here is something new—a water polo game between the senior and junior boys. And in the co-educational department, the senior Blue Tri has invited the senior Hi-Y to a Valentine Day party on February 14.

The junior class sponsored the dance to the gym after the Columbus game. Shirley Lay was in charge of tickets, Janet Hardin, posters, and Bob Ward and Frank Plaut, publicity. It was called the Snow Flurry Whirl, (how's that for a name) and Dick Butts and his orchestra provided the "noise," as it frequently called.

Another deal up the juniors' sleeve is a chartered bus for the Sandusky game February 11. It is open to the whole school and if it is a success they plan to do this for several other games.

C. Findley Bowser will present an assembly entitled Skyland Trails on February 2. It will consist of photographs Mr. Bowser has taken during camping and hiking trips, and will show action shots of moose, bighorn sheep, mountain goats, and beavers.

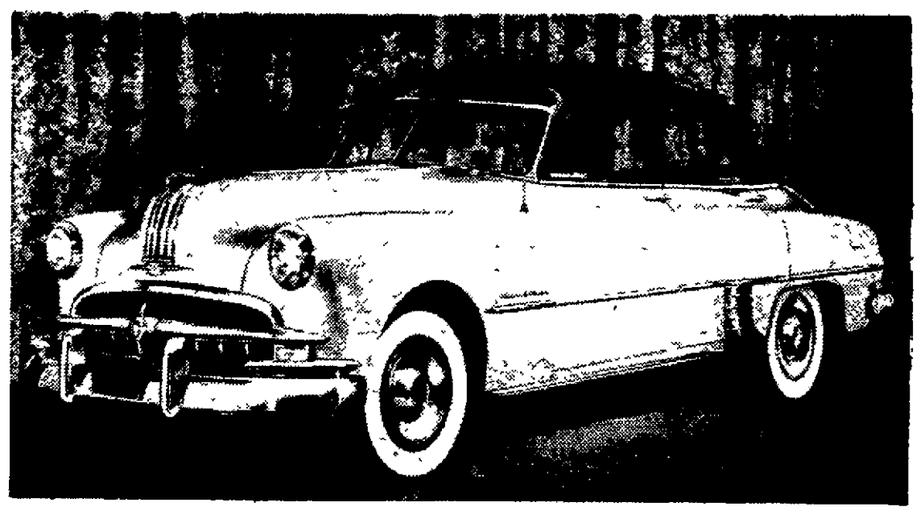
Describe New Dairy Methods

The new central laboratory system of the Northern Ohio Breeders association was explained to a board meeting of the four members of the Richland County Dairy Service unit in the county agent's office Friday night.

The new system of testing milk for butter fat content will be initiated in Richland county to supplement the owner-sampler system now in use. Samples of milk from Richland county farmers will be collected by Charles Gunder, the county artificial inseminator. Samples will be sent to the association's new laboratory in Tiffin.

The board voted to hold the annual meeting of the county dairy service unit Feb. 14 in connection with the first session of the dairy barn clinic The place will be announced later.



NEW PONTIAC ARRIVES—First of the 1949 Pontiacs in Mansfield is on display from noon to 4 p. m. today at the Weidner Pontiac salesroom, 22 East Second street. Like the car pictured above, the Pontiac on display is of the four-door Chieftain series. The Chieftain has 120-inch wheelbase and has roof lines lowered without sacrifice of comfort. Both the Chieftain and Streamliner Pontiac have 38 per cent more glass area. The visor on the car pictured is an accessory.

Defendants Go Before Court

Arraignment Set For Wednesday

Arraignment of at least 24 defendants indicted by the January term of the Richland county grand jury last week has been set for Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. One of the defendants will enter pleas on two charges.

Others against whom secret indictments were returned will be arraigned if they have been taken into custody by Wednesday. Defendants will enter their pleas before Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

Meanwhile only one civil case will be heard during the week in common pleas court.

In an action scheduled for Thursday, Anna Mae Berry, of Akron, asks $21,800 from the estate of the late James Herlihy, contending she is entitled to the sum for keeping house for him for 218 weeks.

Her petition states that she put in a claim with James Herlihy, of 137 West Fifth street, nephew of the deceased man, but the claim was not allowed. The estate is valued at $34,664. Her attorney is George W. Biddle and Anderson, Will and O'Donnell represent the defendant.

Heads Cattlemen

BUCYRUS — Vaughan Bell of Wharton is the new president of the Crawford-Wyandot Counties Guernsey Breeders' association. Burton Honsberger of Texas township, Crawford county, has been named vice president and Clifford Hoover, Bucyrus, secretary. The association has nearly 80 members in the two counties.

Tonic Made A Difference

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche was eating alone at a cafeteria downtown yesterday when one of the waitresses, after studying him closely, came to his table and said:

"Pardon me, sir, but you look familiar. Aren't you Senator Taft?

"Why yes," was the Lausche rejoinder, "but I've been using hair tonic."

Vishinsky Gravely Ill

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia —(AP) —Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky is "gravely ill from a nervous disorder," a staff member of a Russian army sanatorium at Karlsbad said last night.

"Mr. Vishinsky is unable to concentrate on anything," the staff member said. "He cannot be seen by anyone."

Staff employes and a nurse made no secret of their concern over the condition of Vishinsky, one of the top figures in Soviet diplomacy.

The statement of his illness was the first official disclosure that Vishinsky was in Czechoslovakia. It was given out after a conference with one of his attendants.

Union Silent About Girl Bull-Fighter

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Pretty Conchita Cintron, 25-year-old bull fighter from Peru, wants a chance to display her talents here.

The powerful bull fighters union says no, the ring is no place for a woman.

Provincial bull ring operators sent a joint letter to the union yesterday asking permission to engage Conchita. No ring dares contract her until the union approves, for fear it would lose all its other fighters. The union remained silent.

Home Gets Larger Staff

through the boarding home program, particularly for pre-school children, and adoption. During 1948, 166 active cases came to the attention of the board. Of this number 49 were children in the home, 40 in the homes of parents, 14 in the homes of relatives, 36 in free foster homes, 25 in boarding foster homes and two were cared for through other channels.

One hundred and forty-seven children were received last year at the home while 111 were released to parents or relatives. The home assisted 23 unmarried mothers.

QUARTERS ENLARGED

Facilities for caring for the children brought to the attention of the Child Welfare board have been more adequate since the board office was moved to the Children's home, and Reece was made executive secretary. A large living room is used as the waiting room and there are two offices, one for consultation and the other for private work.

The Child Welfare board collected a total of $8,488 during 1948. Of this amount $3,207 was paid out directly for board or support, and $4,721 was returned to Richland county for reimbursement for board, medical or hospital care. The board collects or has applied for social security benefits for three families who have a total of 12 children now in the home.

Of the balance of 37 children, 13 are being supported to the best ability of the parents, according to the judgment of the court. Parents of 14 children are physically or mentally incapable of earning an adequate income. Four children have been deserted by the parents.

2 Face Charges Of Non-Support

Robert Duffee, 30, of Union Furnace, was held by sheriff's deputies yesterday on a charge of non-support. The warrant was sworn out on an affidavit signed by his wife charging that he failed to provide for their two children.

William Ervin, 34, of 116 Purdy street, was held in the county jail for the sheriff of Hocking county where he is wanted on an indictment of non-support returned by the Hocking county grand jury.

Seek to Plug Border Leaks

BERLIN —(AP)— Brig. Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, famous police official, yesterday took charge of a drive to crush a smuggling racket which has mushroomed in western Germany.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor, announced he had assigned Schwarzkopf, his deputy provost marshal, to find and plug the loopholes through which $200,000,000 worth of goods is smuggled across the border annually.

Schwarzkopf is a former head of the New Jersey state police.

The U. S. Air Force has announced a series of arrests of persons of various nationalities. French police, it said, arrested three Americans in Austria yesterday.

Hefty Twins Born To 95-Pound Woman

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif —(AP)—Birth of twin boys, with a combined weight of 14½ pounds, to a woman weighing only 95 pounds, was reported yesterday by Valley hospital in nearby Van Nuys.

Heaviest twins ever born at that institution, they and their mother, Mrs. Loren L. Stevens of Canoga Park, who is only four feet, 11 inches high, are doing nicely.

MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

Members of the Johnny Appleseed Orchestra and Band Parents club will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the school cafeteria. Lowell Bricker, president will have charge of the business meeting and Mrs. Jack Robbins, the program. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

3 Brotherhood Week Essay Judges Appointed In City

Rev. John G. Gensel, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran church, Rev. Matthew G. Madden, pastor of the First Congregational church, and Rabbi Moshe Goldblum, of the B'nai Jacob Synagogue, will be the judges for the essay contest ocmmemorating National Brotherhood Week, sponsored here by the B'nai Brith lodge.

The three were named yesterday by Mrs. David Cousins, 495 Forest Hill road, who was appointed chairman of the contest by B'nai Brith officials.

Mrs. Cousins said letters have been sent to members of the Ministerial association, giving information concerning the contest and asking cooperation for the children of their particular churches.

Theme of the essays is to be "Brotherhood in Our Daily Lives." The contest will mark the week Feb. 13 to 20, devoted to the promotion of freedom from racial and religious intolerance.

Any school boy or girl in grades seven through 12 may enter the contest. Only one essay may be submitted by each contestant, Mrs. Cousins said. Essays must be written on plain or ruled white paper, using only one side and must be written in ink or typewritten.

Entries are to be mailed to Mrs. Cousins' home.

Irate Landlords Get Their Raise

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—The landlords got a $90 rent increase. And it came right in the middle of a meeting they called to discuss a revolt against pending rent control legislation.

A note was handed Thurman L. McCormick, executive director of the Property Owners association of Kansas City, during the association's meeting.

It said the rent on their meeting place had been raised from $10 to $100 a night.

Typhoid Cases Said Sporadic

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The State Department of Health announced Loudonville's reported cases of typhoid apparently were "sporadic" rather than the beginning of an epidemic.

Dr. John D. Porterfield, state health director, said "all possible safeguards" are being taken at the Ashland county town to prevent outbreak of the disease. Doctors, he said, are checking closely into suspected cases.

The director's statement followed an inspection tour yesterday with local physicians and specialists from his own department.

Two Cut In Fight

Robert Cruthers, rear of 258 North Franklin avenue, received a deep cut on the left wrist yesterday in an altercation at 26½ East Sixth street, police reported. He was admitted to the Mansfield General hospital for treatment. Robert Truly of 285 East Second street, received a cut in the right cheek, police reported. He was treated and released.

Cites Healing of Tumor By X-ray

DAYTON—(AP)—How the use of X-ray "evidently" cured a kidney tumor was described here yesterday by a Dayton physician.

Dr. Harry Snow reported to a cancer symposium that the kidney was not removed after the X-ray treatment, as is customary in such cases.

Some 100 doctors, nurses and public health workers attended the symposium, sponsored by the Dayton and Ohio departments of health.

Dr. Snow said he began X-ray treatments on a boy 12 years ago. Last week, X-ray pictures of the kidney showed it to be "healed and evidently cured."

'Smear' Tactics Shield Red Actions, Says Investigator

Its goal is simple: the destruction of life as we know it, and of the liberties we won at such heavy cost.

It is not an easy conspiracy to combat. Communist forces now maneuvering clandestinely in our government, labor, education, research, religion, entertainment, journalism, radio and other spheres of American life represent a cancerous growth.

Treatment of that cancer cannot be routine, for it is deep-seated and diffuse. It avoids a showdown. You will never see a communist stand in the middle of an American street, waving his hammer and sickle and daring you to fight.

They are much too smart for that. Their is a war the normal American cannot understand. And being bewildered, physically unhurt and essentially trusting, the normal American is inclined to believe that it is no war at all.

But it is a war, and to call it "cold" is a comfort to the enemy. It is being waged against us by men and women—a great many of them native-born—who are regimented far beyond the regimentation of our armed forces.

Our homegrown and imported Red agents are brilliantly trained, fanatically dedicated, physically brave, and industrious beyond the comprehension of Americans who wishfully insist that we are at peace with all lands.

You may say that there are scarcely 75,000 confirmed communists in the United States, and perhaps no more than two or three times as many fellow travelers with devotion enough to follow the most extreme orders. The sum is not great, compared to our 148,000,000.

But the communists my ten years of study have proved beyond question, are an unfissionable cadre, tougher, more determined, more alert and less hampered than the action-taking cadre of our native millions. And almost as large.

We all have seen the communist nucleus in operation. We have seen our ports tied up as effectively as if destroyed by bombs. We have seen our key industries crippled by single commands from Moscow, though our workers may have believed that they themselves stimulated the strikes.

PICKET WHITE HOUSE

We have seen the White House picketed and our President debased when our policies clashed with those of the Party line. We have seen our hard-won atomic secrets and our inventive know-how stolen and transmitted to Russia. We have seen our diplomatic files boldly rifled.

We have seen communists or their dupes rise so high in government that one among the latter, Henry Wallace, stood within a heartbeat of the Presidency through the years of tremendous decision between 1940 and 1944.

We now see indicted a distinguished young man, Alger Hiss, who sat with Roosevelt at Yalta when Poland and the rest of Eastern Europe were abandoned by the West, and the Far East was laid open to communist aggression.

Mrs. Earl Browder, a communist and therefore sincerely dedicated to the overthrow of the United States Government, was given a visa to enter this country at the direct request of President Roosevelt. Roosevelt did not wish to face the embarrassment of Stalin's questions about her.

Nathan Gregory Silvermaster Russian-born accused Communist who rose to several influential posts in the Government, was protected by Secretary of War Robert Patterson after the Office of Naval Intelligence had demanded his removal from a post of great importance.

Dr. Edward U. Condon, whom Henry Wallace peremptorily appointed Director of the National Bureau of Standards, has an extended association with known subversives. A 3½ page F.B.I. letter concerning Dr. Condon's associations is being withheld by President Truman despite a 10-to-1 Congressional committee vote demanding its release.

Gerhart Eisler, identified by a number of former Communists as the secret head of the Red conspiracy in this country, was sentenced last March 25. One prominent Washington attorney was offered a "fee" of $100,000 if he could arrange a postponement in Eisler's trial. Eisler has not served an hour of his time.

Eisler's brother, Hanns, hailed in the Soviet press as the foremost revolutionary composer, won a visa to this country through the intercession of many prominent Americans including Raymond Gram Swing, Dorothy Thompson and Eleanor Roosevelt.

OBTAINED URANIUM

The Soviet Purchasing commission flew a ton of lend-lease uranium oxide and 25 pounds of uranium metal out of the U. S. over the protests of Gen. Leslie R. Groves, in the midst of our secret development of the A-bomb.

George Silverman, second highest-ranking official assigned to Air Force planning and purchasing from March, 1942, to August, 1945, refused to answer Congress when asked whether or not he was a Communist.

More of all this later.

All of the above is but a suggestion of the scope of the Red infiltration. No purpose could be served if, in these subsequent articles, I relied on personal indignation to present this case.

What will follow are documented facts, painstakingly gathered over the past decade by what seems safe to say is the most misunderstood and maligned committee in the history of the Congress.

New Novel Of Africa At Library

'West at Bay' on Non-Fiction List

"Southern Cross," a novel of South Africa by Kathleen Sinclair, who writes under the name of Brigid Knight, tops the fiction list of books being released Monday at Mansfield Public library.

Elizabeth, principal character in the book, was born in a concentration camp during the first Boer War, and at the age of nine came under the influence of an embittered aunt who bent her whole will toward developing her hatred of the British. This intolerance and disunity follows through several generations and three wars only to be partially broken at the close of World War II.

FRESH WIND BLOWING, by Grace Campbell, is a pleasant story with its setting in Saskatchewan. Young people facing the problems of post-war Canada provide an interesting group of characters.

THE HOPEFUL HEART, by Philip Gibbs, is a story of post-war England. After three years in a Nazi concentration camp, Capt. Francis Allingham goes back to England to pick up the threads of his family life. The war has left its mark, but the captain manages to work out a way of life without compromising with his ideals.

Other fiction:

TREAT OF DRAGONS, by Davis; TEN DAYS WONDER, by Queen; ROUNDELAY, by Moser.

On the non-fiction shelves will be:

THE WEST AT BAY, by Barbara Ward, a careful analysis of the situation in Western Europe and its relation to the world crisis. The author is an assistant editor of the London Economist, and is most convincing in her own field of economics. She describes the collapse of the old order and takes stock of America's role in the reconstruction. This book could easily form the basis for a current affairs discussion group.

A MAN CALLED WHITE is the autobiography of Walter White, the leader of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The story of his life also is the story of the American Negro in this century, since he has always identified himself with his own people in their struggle for self-improvement.

NO PLACE TO HIDE, by David Bradley, the impressions of a medical man assigned to study radiological effects of Bikini bombs. Although much less dramatic, it is reminiscent of John Hershey's HIROSHIMA. The author's point is that there are neither defenses or counter measures against atom bombs and that the physiological effects are insidious and increase in deadliness with the passage of time.

EDUCATION IN A DIVIDED WORLD, by James B. Conant, a discussion of the function of the public schools in our unique society. The author subscribes to the theory that our public schools do not provide adequate preparation for living in today's world. He contends that if we wish to preserve democracy, our education must teach democratic values and our educational equality must be made real through increased facilities and decreased costs.

Other non-fiction:

PRODUCTION WITH SAFETY, by Dickie; MONEY MARKET PRIMER, by Madden and others; WHOLE OF THEIR LIVES, by Gitlow; INVENTIONS AT YOUR SERVICE, by Kramer; RUSSIAN ARCHITECTURE, by Voyce; AFTER DINNER SCIENCE, by Swezey; BASKETBALL ILLUSTRATED, by Hobson.

Calmness Urged By Lilienthal

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Atomic Chief David E. Lilienthal urges Americans not to get "hysterical" over the incompletely solved problem of getting rid of waste matter sometimes teeming with dangerous radiation.

Government atomic plants go to fantastic lengths—burial in special tanks, mixing them in volcanic ash, or dumping steel tanks of them far at sea — to dispose of the hazardous "garbage" of the growing industry. Injuries and even lethal to man if he's overexposed, these by-products must be hidden far from human contact, or otherwise disposed to dilute or dissipate the radiations.

Tiny Hotel Room Gives Up Hoard

AKRON —(AP)— From the hotel room of an aged woman recluse, administrators of her estate emerged yesterday with bonds, jewelry and other valuables they estimated were worth more than $500,000.

Wrapped in an old newspaper on the floor of a closet were $300,000 in government bonds while in an old sugar sack was a small fortune in diamonds, rubies, pearls and jade.

The owner of this wealth, Miss Frances Louise Butler, about 80, died Thursday in City hospital of pneumonia.

THIEF ENTERS CAR

Mrs. Hazel Mettler of Cardington, R. D. 3, reported to police yesterday her car was broken into Friday night on an East Fourth street parking lot, and a box of candy, $9 worth of groceries and a flashlight taken.

Names Same, But Fellows Are Different

The coincidence of name similarities proved embarrassing to two Perrysville brothers bearing the same name as two men indicted earlier in the week by the Ashland county grand jury.

Harold and Robert Lozier were indicted on two counts of breaking and entry and grand larceny. The news dispatch did not carry their home addresses.

Saturday the News-Journal received a written protest from Harold and Robert Lozier of Perrysville, stating they were spending time answering questions about their indictment. A call to the sheriff in Ashland county disclosed the indicted duo, by the same names, reside at 184 Oak street, Mansfield.

Temperature Goes Down

The temperature went down to nearly one degree above at 12:30 a. m. today, making this the coldest day this winter. That was the report from the CAA communications station at Mansfield airport.

The station also reported that one and one-half inches of snow yesterday fell on the ground. The weather was clear early today, with a wind velocity of 10 miles per hour, headed in a westerly direction.

Strongest winds were reported at 12:15 p. m. yesterday when the peak was 27 miles per hour, with strong gusts up to 35 miles an hour.

The cold spell brught icy pavements, which in turn caused several minor traffic accidents in the city. In one of the accidents minor injuries were reported.

Mrs. Minnie H. Fraifogl, 28, of 44 Wise avenue, suffered a bruised knee and her three-year-old son, John, received a laceration on the head as a result of a collision caused by yesterday's icy pavements.

Police said George A. Mead, of 65 Blymyer avenue, told them his car began to slide on the icy pavement and struck the car driven by Mrs. Fraifogl, coming in the opposite direction on Woodhill road near Marion avenue.

In four other accidents automobiles received dents in the bumpers, fenders or radiators as the result of collisions caused by icy pavements yesterday and last night.

Shiloh Man Dies In Springfield

SHILOH — J. J. Pittenger, 77, a native of Shiloh, died yesterday at the Masonic Home in Springfield. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. J. B. Zeigler of Shiloh and several nephews and nieces. He was a member of Shiloh lodge No. 544, F. & A. M.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2:30 p. m. in the McQuate funeral home in Shiloh. Rev. C. S. Gladfelter will officiate. Burial will be in Mt. Hope cemetery, Shiloh.

SYRUP RUN BEGINNING

RAVENNA — (AP) — Farmer Carl Schaefer of nearby Randolph already is advertising 1949 maple syrup for sale. He said he began tapping 350 trees on his farm Jan. 5 and converted 1,920 gallons of sap to 60 gallons of syrup.

Change at Tire Plant Puts Stevens In Wainright Post

J. S. Wainright, general sales manager of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company for 28 years, has resigned his post, but will remain active in company affairs. Edward E. Stevens, assistant sales manager, will assume the post Tuesday.

Wainright's action parallels that of his friend and associate, G. W. Stephens, who resigned as president a month ago and was elected chairman of the board. He was succeeded by H. B. Soulen, former vice-president and factory manager.

Wainright is a vice-president and director of the company. Neither official retired but will remain active in company affairs. Their steps were made to relieve themselves of many responsibilities attached to them for more than 30 years.

Wainright, who became associated with the company in 1916 as a district sales manager, was made general sales manager in 1921. He will remain active in a sales advisory capacity and as vice-president and director of the company. He was elected a vice-president April 4, 1946.

Before joining the Mansfield Tire organization, Wainright was in the automobile business in Newark, N. J., for two years, and prior to that was head buyer for Butler Brothers, New York City, largest wholesale mail order house in the nation.

Stevens was appointed assistant general sales manager four years ago soon after his return as a lieutenant commander from three and a half years of service with the U. S. Navy. Prior to becoming associated with the company, he was connected with the newspaper industry in the editorial and sales fields.

In addition to being assistant general sales manager and now general sales manager, Stevens has been assistant treasurer of the company for the past three years.

ELYRIA —(AP)— Residents were assured today of an addition to Elyria Memorial hospital when a community-wide drive to raise funds went over the top with a total of $1,185,975 pledged.

Swiss Firm Wins Contract

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Swiss concern of Brown Voeri corporation was awarded a contract for two municipal light plant turbogenerators yesterday on its low bid of $1,140,000.

The Swiss firm's bid was nearly $400,000 lower than the lowest of bids by three American companiees — AllisCh almers company of Milwaukee, General Electric company and Westinghouse Electric Manufacturing company.

P. F. Bauer, central region manager for Allis-Chalmers, the lowest bidder among the American companies, argued that Europe needs everythings Swiss manufacturers can make to further itse industrial recovery. He urged the city to give "domestic preference" on the order.

Mayor Thomas A. Burke replied that the three American bidders "do business all over the world, just as does the Swiss company."

399 DP'S TO ARRIVE

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Homes in 21 states and the District of Columbia await 399 displaced persons scheduled to arrive Feb. 1 at New York. Thirteen will journey to Ohio.

Mansfielder To Get Degree

Charles Augustus McClure, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McClure of 267 Vennum avenue, next Sunday will receive a Bachelor of Laws degree at the University of Illinois. He intends continuing his studies there to receive a Master of Science degree this summer.

A Senior high school graduate here in 1939, McClure received his B. S. degree from Oberlin in 1943 where he graduated with honors into the Phi Beta Kappa honorary fraternity.

A captain in the Air Force for four years, he spent most of his wartime service in Italy.

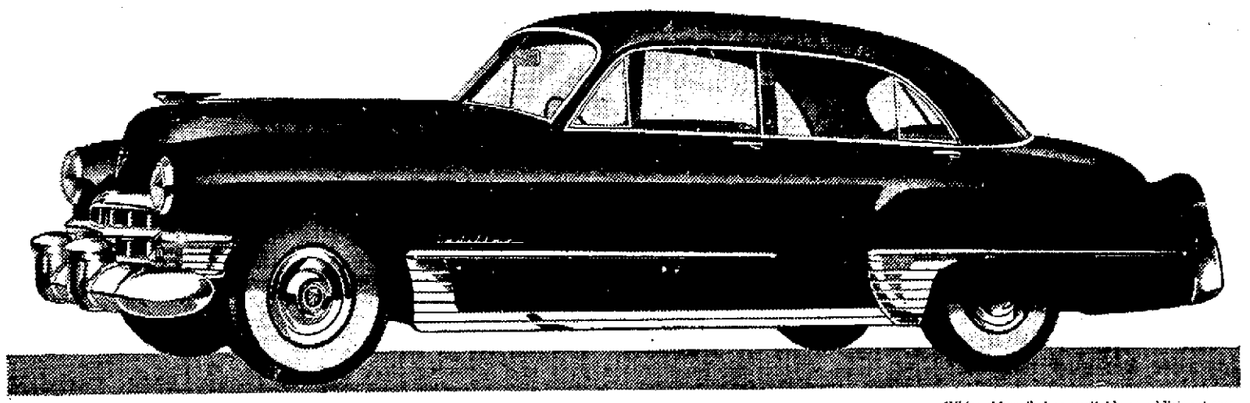
The Nicest Distance Between Two Points



White sidewall tires available at additional cost.

In their admiration for Cadillac's beauty, and its wonderful world-wide reputation for quality and goodness, people sometimes overlook one of the greatest Cadillac virtues of all—its marvelous comfort. To ride in a Cadillac is to experience the supreme satisfaction that can be derived from personal transportation. The person at the wheel is the quickest to sense this—for he is the special beneficiary of Cadillac comfort. He enjoys, of course—in common with the other occupants of the car—the matchless benefits of Cadillac balance and springing and roadability. But he enjoys, in addition, the driving ease of a feather-light steering wheel; a quick, powerful, responsive motor that knows no counterpart for agility and smoothness; big, dominant brakes that are as soft to the pedal as sponge rubber; and an over-all sure-footedness on the highway that reduces driving strain to the minimum. Somebody has said that, once you have driven a Cadillac, you're unhappy at the wheel of any other car. Certain it is that a ride in a Cadillac—whether as driver or passenger—is the nicest distance between two points! Have you driven a 1949 Cadillac—or ridden in one? If not, you ought to do so. You are welcome in our showrooms at any time.

Pledge of Allegiance to Flag

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Only for Those Who Cannot Pay

AS RICHLAND COUNTY moves toward a new sanatorium for treatment of tuberculosis, an association of interest is found in the fact that a hospital in Denver, Colo., devoted to similar service, is now entering its fiftieth year. Local interest is increased by the fact that a Mansfield young man—Warren J. Rusk—is among those privileged to share in the benefits of treatment in that institution.

Reference is made to the National Jewish hospital, which was opened in December, 1899, with an initial capacity of 65 patients, from which it has grown to a point where it now treats nearly one thousand men, women and children each year.

Although founded and administered by Jewish groups, and largely supported by them, the hospital is nonsectarian in service and patients represent all creeds and every section of the United States.

At the entrance is displayed the motto: "None May Enter Who Can Pay—None Can Pay Who Enter," conveying the thought that here is a fine manifestation of the ideal of brotherhood, which, if generally accepted and practiced, would make quick and tremendous changes in human relations, not only in this country but all over the world.

The program of the hospital has been developed along four lines: Free medical and surgical treatment for all patients; rehabilitation services; research work in battling tuberculosis, and professional education for physicians, medical and nursing students.

Remembering Warren Rusk's early newspaper work in Mansfield it is of special interest to note that his name appears as editor of the hospital bulletin, a mimeographed publication of which a copy has just reached this desk—filled to the brim with articles, items and pictures which reflect optimism and good cheer.

Comparison Reveals Similar Aims

WHILE there is sometimes an appearance of conflict between employers and employes, closer scrutiny often reveals a striking similarity of aims, as is pointed out by one large industry, Warner & Swasey, of Cleveland.

For instance, the workman wants a steady job. The company wants steady (in fact growing) employment, because that indicates increasing demand, on which the company depends for success.

The employe desires high wages. The company wants to pay high wages (so long as they are earned) because that is proof the management is competitive with, or better than other management in the area.

As to "opportunity for a better job"—that also applies to employe and employer alike, for management's greatest problem is to find men capable of taking on greater responsibilities.

Comfortable and safe working conditions are also matters of mutual concern, and intelligent management knows that without them they won't get good workmen.

The worker wants lower prices, to which management responds that it also wants lower prices, because only as a company can provide better and better products at lower and lower prices can it hope to compete, stay in business, and grow.

At a time when inflation is still at a dangerous stage in this country and when it is realized that only a gradual leveling off of some extremes in prices, wages and profits can prevent a disastrous depression, it is important that there be clear thinking and sound leadership in employe-employer relations—with recognition of mutual interests as an essential factor.

Ideas as Weapons of Peace

ONE of the agencies of the United Nations which has for three years been quietly going about its business with comparatively little recognition is the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

George V. Allen, assistant secretary of state for public affairs, who recently returned from the conference of the organization at Beirut, Lebanon, asserts that he is greatly impressed with its possibilities. Assuming, he says, that all the United Nations organizations were set up for human betterment, and that the basic need of humanity is peace, this group is an extremely efficient means for attaining it.

The agency's work appeals to the better instincts of mankind, and is implemented by the intellectual leaders of all the countries represented. Some means must be found, says Mr. Allen, to interest the masses of these countries in its work.

Its power lies in the fact that it deals in ideas. Education, science, and culture, which in this case includes religion, are the weapons of peace. They must be allowed, like patience, the time in which to make their work perfect and powerful.

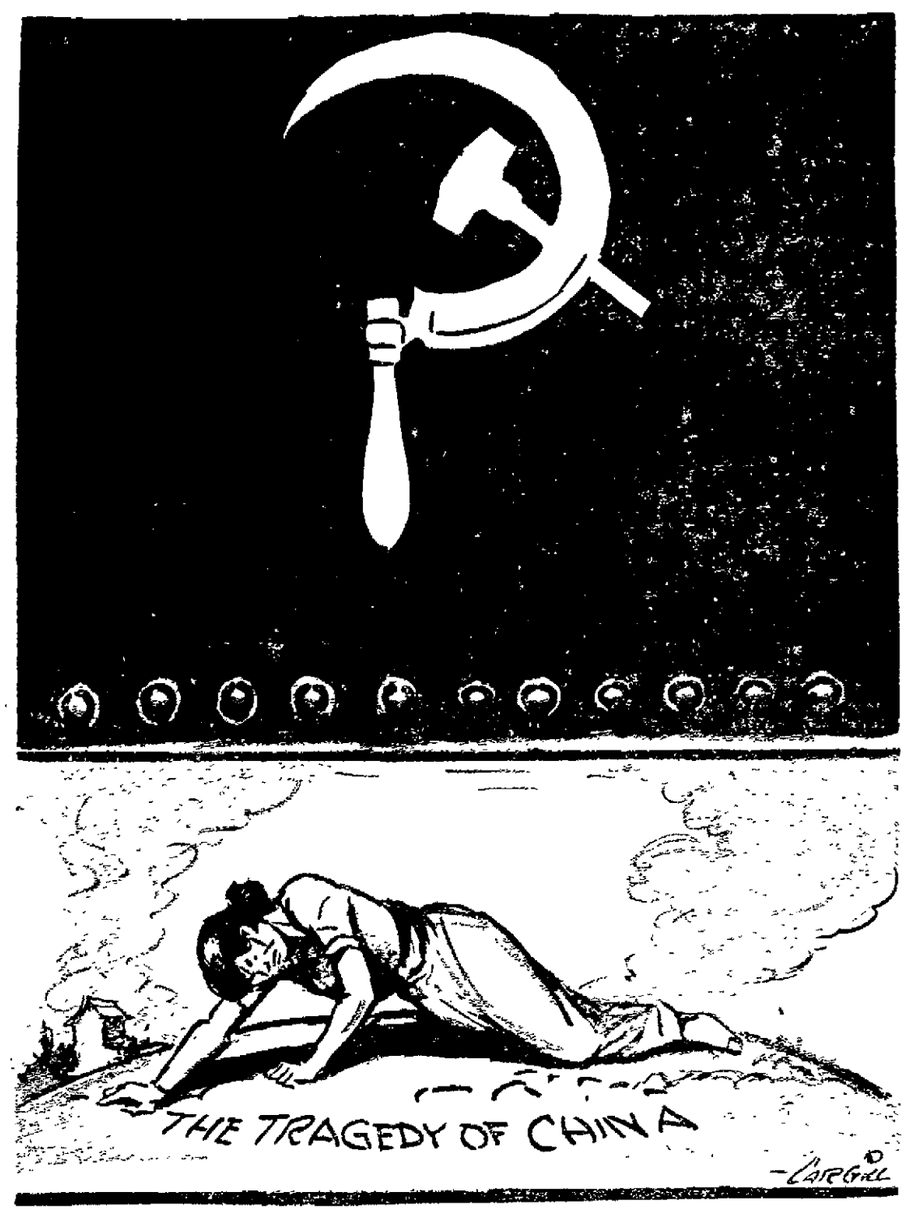
Old Question, 'What Is Art'?

WHAT IS ART? The Metropolitan Museum of New York should be able to answer this age-old question, but is it? Many persons, artists by profession or by taste, have long felt that the Museum stuck too closely to the great masters of the past, and was cool to present-day sculptors and painters. The Museum of Modern Art in New York City was founded to house contemporary works which the Metropolitan did not want.

Now James N. Rosenberg, a retired lawyer of New York who paints for amusement, has published a series of open letters to the Metropolitan, attacking its policies. Not a single painting by Van Gogh or Matisse is owned by the Metropolitan, says Mr. Rosenberg. Its one Picasso is not hung in the Museum, but is out on long loan to the Museum of Modern Art.

Many laymen, it might be remarked here, will agree with the Metropolitan, since they themselves cannot make much sense out of some of the ultra-modern paintings. But if good critics think that some of the contemporary works are art, then perhaps they are.

Mr. Rosenberg has brought to a head an old dispute, which it is safe to say will not be settled this year or next.



Final Glimpse As the Iron Curtain Drops.

A Voice From the Country

Thoughts About Ponzi, War Bonds, Etc.

By LOUIS BROMFIELD

THE DEATH of Ponzi, the sensational swindler of the Twenties, the gigantic appropriations requested by the military forces and Mr. Truman's own gigantic budget, have all reminded the writer of his own career as a swindler during the recent war. At that time he spent weeks and even months touring the country selling goldbricks. Sometimes he sold them to small groups, sometimes in municipal auditoriums filled with fifteen or twenty thousand people. And always he had a fine medicine show entertainment to help him to do the job. Sometimes there were two or three bands. There were a cappella choirs and pageants and, on one tour, he was even assisted by the great Gypsy Rose Lee. Never was there a finer or more expensive medicine show before selling the snake oil.

BROMFIELD

At a certain time, the writer stepped from the wings into the spotlight and, after making what he hoped was a stirring speech, urged the audience to buy his snake oil, good for man, child or beast.

The snake oil happened to be U. S. war bonds. He pictured how, among other things, a little bond purchased at only $18.75 would, if you kept it for ten years, grow magically into twenty-five dollars.

Together with similar snake oil merchants, he sold a good many thousands of these little bonds, together with great hunks of big bonds that went to banks and insurance companies. (That market was already rigged before the show opened and it was a fine part of the fellows who bought the little bonds got swindled).

* * *

An Old Act Abroad.

IT MUST be said in very weak defense of the writer that he never stepped on to the stage to do his act without a bad conscience because he had been through the snake oil act in other countries and knew how it worked.

All the time he was selling those little bonds, he suspected in his heart that by the time the buyers waited around for ten years for them to turn into twenty-five dollars, inflation would make them worth less than the eighteen seventy-five the buyer had paid for them.

The ten years isn't yet half up and it has already happened. It's just possible that things could change during the next five or six years and that the bonds will regain their value, but it certainly won't happen if Mr. Truman's gigantic budget is raised and spent and the military and naval forces are given the billions and billions they ask for, because every time they spend another billion or two under the present circumstances your dollar and mine will buy less and our little $18.75 bonds will be worth a little less.

If it did happen that prices, wages and government expenditures were reduced and the bonds began to regain a little of their dollar value, and if this happened too rapidly, we would certainly all be in a pickle because tax revenues would shoot downhill and it would simply be impossible to raise enough revenue to run the American government with a deflated dollar on the astronomical scale proposed by the Truman and Democratic administration.

Conceivably the situation could become so bad that the government would face bankruptcy and then the snake-oil bonds wouldn't be worth anything at all. It would not be the first time such a thing had happened in the history of a nation, even a great nation.

* * *

The Great Plan.

IT WOULD all be a part of the Great Plan by which we all live by taking in each other's washing. The Great Plan is already well under way with the farmers, organized labor, the veterans, the elderly, the indigent, the lazy, the incompetent all hoping to get something for free from the government, or from the economic structure which is represented by the nation.

It is the old "each man, each group, for himself" plan which brought France to disintegration, inflation and the deep humiliation of defeat and occupation by the enemy, and this despite gigantic military appropriations for the Maginot Line and other assurances of security against an aggressive enemy.

All the military machinery turned out to be useless in a crisis, when the morale and the economic structure of the nation itself deteriorated.

It is the easiest trick in the world for the politicians and even the government to sell snake oil to its citizens because you simply tell them they are all going to be taken care of by bonuses and subsidies, by pensions and higher wages.

Old Ponzi, dead in a slum hospital in Rio, never thought up a slicker operation. But in the end, brother, somebody has to pay for all this and in the words of the old song "That somebody is you!"

* * *

Pay In Many Ways.

AND DON'T think that because you don't pay an income tax you aren't paying. You're paying in a hundred ways—every time you go to the movies, or buy a radio or a bottle of liquor or a package of cigarets or a gallon of gas.

You, who own automobiles but don't pay income taxes, sometimes keep a check on what you pay out each year in federal and state gas taxes.

And you pay in higher and higher and higher prices and each time prices rise that little $18.75 bond shrinks a little more while you're paying more taxes out of the other pocket.

In Europe I've lived with the system of everybody taking in everybody else's washing. In France it was called the Front Populaire. In Germany the National Socialist Plan. In Soviet Russia the Five-Year Plan.

In this country at present it is called the Welfare State or the Fair Deal, but shuffle the cards as you will, the game always comes out the same with the great majority of the people still collecting most of the washing and the smart guys, the politicians, the dictators and a monumental bureaucratic government sending in the laundry for you to scrub.

And once you've destroyed a good free enterprise economy, you don't restore it overnight if ever, and once you've built up a colossal bureaucratic and military machine, which eats up each year more and more of the earnings you make, you don't get rid of that either.

Don't think that the politicians or even your own government can't and won't swindle you. The men running the U. S. treasury if they had any sense at all, knew as well as I did that when I was selling war bonds, I was selling gold bricks. They helped to make them gold bricks by the way the war was financed—the easy way so you didn't feel it until now and from here on out.

The trouble is that your government is you and when the swindle occurs, you're only swindling yourself. That's the trouble with most of the Utopian plans where we are all supposed to be prosperous, and happy by taking in each other's washing.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Grain Surplus Anticipated By Brannan

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Forthright Secretary of Agriculture Charlie Brannan warned a closed-door Senate session this week that the government may have to buy up 800,000,000 bushels of grain this coming year. Reporting to a private session of the Senate agriculture committee, Brannan explained that farmers are overplanting grain and cotton, that prices may go into a tailspin. In this case the government will have to take the crops off the farmers' hands. The money to do this, Brannan cautioned, is limited.

PEARSON

"Next year," he declared, "it is entirely possible we will have all of our working funds committed."

Though the secretary of agriculture could use more funds to protect support prices, it isn't likely that Congress will add to the $4,750,000,000 now available. This means the government will probably be forced to lower support prices.

Senator Milton Young, North Dakota Republican, asked whether Brannan favored support prices kept as high as 100 per cent of parity, such as demanded by the Farmers Union.

"It is desirable," replied the secretary of agriculture, "but looking at the other aspects of the price-support program, I don't believe it is at all possible."

He pointed out that the agriculture department not only couldn't stretch its money that far, but that 100 per cent of parity would encourage even more overplanting. Result would be an oversupply of commodities supported by the government and a scarcity of commodities not under the price-support program.

In the end, it would be the housewives who would pay the bill, cautioned the secretary of agriculture. Abundant commodities would cost more because of the high prices paid by the government to farmers, while scarce goods would also cost more because there wouldn't be enough to go around.

"The American people," Brannan shook his head, "will not stand for extreme costs."

* * *

Senator Thomas' Elevators.

SENATORS were amazed and amused when Chairman Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, the speculating senator, put forward an idea for curbing speculation.

The man who was once up to his neck in the commodity market urged laying aside tremendous stocks of cotton and grain in order to discourage speculation.

By taking large bulks out of circulation, Thomas argued, the speculators would have less to work with.

One senator bit his tongue to keep from smiling. For it was the very same Thomas who delivered speeches on the Senate floor blasting the OPA for trying to restrict speculation, together with other speeches bound to influence the commodity market following which his friends cashed in. When colleagues started investigating Thomas, he scared off over-snooper Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan with a letter threatening to expose some of Fergusons' activities.

Note—Maybe the reason Thomas has changed his tune, now favors government purchase of warehouse and grain elevators, is that his speculating friend, Dyke Cullum, has been urging this.

* * *

Brannan Says No.

SECRETARY Brannan didn't think much of Senator Thomas's suggestion. He wants Congress to remove the GOP-imposed restriction limiting the storage space which the government can lease, but he did not want the government to go into the business of buying or constructing elevators and warehouses. The agriculture department would rather help farm co-ops build storage, he said.

The secretary of agriculture also dropped this significant hint to the closed-door senatorial meeting:

This year's crop will not be used as a basis for figuring future acreage allotments under crop controls.

Many farmers are planting heavily in order to increase their acreage allotments. Brannan explained, just in case crop controls are ordered. But expanded production won't do them any good, because this year's crop won't be taken as the yardstick.

* * *

Citrus Fruits.

FLORIDA'S Senator Spessard Holland raised the question of price supports for tree crops—such as Florida's citrus fruits, tung oil and pecans. He cited a letter from Ralph Trigg, head of Production and Marketing, reporting that the agriculture department contemplated no supports for tree crops.

Brannan replied that these commodities are indirectly supported by heavy government purchases for school lunches and the European Recovery Program.

* * *

Lodge Bill For Workers.

A LITTLE-NOTICED bill affecting several million workers and several thousand factories has just been introduced by Senator Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican. It would require firms that do business with the government to hire their employes by the year.

The company that has the security of a government contract, argues Lodge, should pass that security on to its employes.

"The employe who receives this assurance then knows where he stands," explains the senator from Massachusetts.

"He can make commitments for the education of his children, for necessary dental or medical work, for payments on his house and for the other things which raise his standard of living.

"Unless he receives a guarantee that his wages would be paid for a year, he cannot make these commitments. Although he might by the end of the year have earned as much money, the fact that he had no assurance of it would require him to live virtually a hand-to-mouth existence."

Assignment: America

Still 'Junior' at 75

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK—Think you have problems? Give a heed to how the other half lives and sympathize with the six kids of John D. Rockefeller jr. Yesterday was Papa's seventy-fifth birthday anniversary, and what could they give him for a present? He already has everything, including a coat with a fur collar, international esteem as financier and philanthropist—and a half-nelson on one of the world's great fortunes. It is a jolt to realize that this quiet, retiring man who so stubbornly clings to the "junior" at the end of his name has reached his diamond jubilee.

INEZ ROBB

Out of deference for his father, he has never dropped the "jr.," convinced that his father was the one, the only and the irreplaceable John D. sr.

When the New York Social Register insisted Rockefeller drop the "jr", he won after a stiff skirmish by simply sending the register a check signed "John D. Rockefeller." The bank refused to cash the check until the "jr." was added. The register caught on.

Since the death of his wife 11 months ago, Rockefeller has lived quietly. His six children and most of his 19 grandchildren gathered 'round him yesterday in a strictly family party, and what is a birthday anniversary without a cake?

Rockefeller still takes an active part in the conduct of the family business and its vast, world-wide philanthropies. He goes regularly to his office in Rockefeller center. But since his five sons reached maturity, Rockefeller has little by little placed control of the empire in their hands.

* * *

Widespread Benefits.

THE MAN who has reached 75 likes to think of himself as a philanthropist rather than a financier. And he has every right to regard himself in the former light. It is estimated by the Rockefeller interests that the late John D. sr. and John D. Jr. have given away more than $750,000,000 in the past 50 years.

While the elder John D. spent his life-time accumulating one of the largest American fortunes, the junior John D. has devoted his life to giving it away.

There is not a single member of the human race whose lot has not been substantially improved by Rockefeller millions spent through the Rockefeller Foundation. The Foundation was established in 1913 for the general well-being of man throughout the world. The Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research has advanced medical horizons for all mankind.

The development of blood plasma, yellow fever vaccine and the medical use of penicillin are only a few of the more universal and dramatic discoveries supported by Rockefeller funds.

His father was already a rich man when John D. jr., was born. But John D. sr., saw to it that John D. jr., learned the value of a dollar and earned his spending money the hard way. His father paid John jr. 15 cents an hour to saw wood and carry rocks on the family estate.

If John D. jr., needed more money, he could always pick up an extra five-cents per hour by practicing the violin. In later years, John D. jr., played the pipe organ and well.

Rockefeller's philanthropies have included everything from $2,500,000 to restore Rheims cathedral, Versailles and Fontainbleau after World War I to $20,000,000 for the restoration of the beautiful colonial capital of Williamsburg, Va.

His most spectacular recent gift was $8,500,000 paid out for a home site for the United Nations on New York's east side.

Unlike his father, John D. jr. does not play golf and has never given away shiny dimes.

Somehow, Rockefeller has managed to raise six children, none of whom has ever been arrested for juvenile delinquency, been caught in a police raid or been locked up for night-club brawling.

This is a remarkable record these days even for a poor parent. For a rich one, it's par for the course.

That Unwritten Letter

By ELSIE ROBINSON

I'M WRITING this for you, you lazy lug! I'm writing this for the letter you didn't send . . . the letter to the old folks that you'll never send now, though you'd give your right hand to do so.

Yes, I know . . . you were kind to them in your way. You sent them wonderful presents at Christmastime and sometimes you even managed to see them at Thanksgiving.

Or you'd dictate a note saying how busy you were, how sorry you were because you couldn't come.

They waited for those notes, Dad and Mom did. You'll never know how keenly they waited for them, pardner, how they read them over and over to the neighbors till they were worn thin.

Yes, I bet Dad trudged twenty times down to the mail box while Mom waited outside the kitchen door.

Seemed as if the whole world swung around on those rare times when a letter came. For, don't you remember, you were all they had. They spent their life on you and never grudged you anything.

They'd say—"Perhaps he'll write next week," or "Perhaps he'll send news soon."

But he won't write and Mom will never hear again. They've gone beyond the hoping and the ache.

What would you give to write to them today? What would you give to put your head in Mom's kind lap and feel her dear hands smooth the pain away? Or put your arms across Dad's bent back or watch him make a kite or fix a rabbit trap?

How gladly you'd run if he should call you now!

But it's no use. They've gone where hearts don't stand and wait.

But think of all those left who still are waiting for a word. Think what that word would mean to those who have no word, but empty air.

They are not far away. They're just across the hall or down the street. They live by hundreds in your very town. They pass by hundreds on your way to work.

And all their eyes are stretched like pleading hands, pleading that someone, somewhere, will be moved to write today.

Just a word, a word that carries love.

Could you not write? Could you not send them that one word to heal their loneliness?

It Says Here:

—By KEN WOODMAN

TWO THINGS happened in Mansfield last week that are of prime public importance. The brief ceremony at the laying of the cornerstone of the new Tuberculosis Sanatorium symbolized years of work—running back to the day when pictures revealing deplorable condition at the present sanatorium were first made public. There was plenty of discouragement for everyone concerned, as high costs of construction again and again seemed to have stymied the project. But now the walls are going up and every campaigner, every voter, and every official who had a hand in the work can feel gratified.

* * *

Almost at the same time the cornerstone was being laid, still another grand jury was pointing out the decrepit, primitive, unsanitary facilities in the county jail.

* * *

Sheriff E. P. Long has hopes that this time something will be done about the jury's recommendations. Indeed, plans for improvements were drawn up long ago, but that's as far as the improvements got. Jail conditions have been bared in picture and story time and again. The public remains apathetic. The contrast with the county's progress in TB-fighting should stir some action now.

WELL, oily Franz Von Papen, arch conspirator and slick operator against Uncle Sam in two world wars—and whose name is as familiar to Gold Star mothers and blinded veterans as Kaiser Wilhelm and Hitler — has been cleared as a war criminal. A German de-nazification court even gave him his property and money back.

* * *

The court cited somebody's claim that the "Old Fox" had made strong efforts to obtain peace and had been helpful to U. S. interests. Justice would appear to be not only blind but a sufferer from an overdose of sleeping pills.

The Von Papens are the type necessary in the backfields of all warlords. They are essential in every play. Besides their kind, the hanged generals were attractive, lily white heroes in my book.

If Franz rated no longer stay in the hoosegow than some fellow who shoots ducks out of season, robs a jukebox or gets into a fight at a night club, it's all done by revolving mirrors. I wonder if he'll get his money back with interest.

Tree In Spring

—By ANNE CAMPBELL

The tree that I shall plant when Spring
Fetches its tulips to my door
Will be a slender little thing
That needs a prop, so it may store
Strength to resist the wind and storm
And grow up proudly, safe from harm.

All young things need our loving care.
And as I tend my budding tree,
I shall be glad my children bear
Religion's prop, that they may be Conditioned to the gales that sweep
About them when the way grows steep.

Chennault Flays U. S. China Policy

Claims Battle's Not Yet Lost

NEW YORK—(AP)—The U S is losing the Pacific war to communist expansion and World War III is in the making in the Orient Maj. Gen Claire L Chennault (Ret) warns

But there's still time to do something about it in China, he says, despite Chinese communist military victories that have forced Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist regime near the brink

The doughty Chennault, first American to fight the Japanese in the air, swings a policy pen this time pointed at Soviet aims to tip the world balance of power in the far east and also at U.S. "brass hat" bungling, which he says contributed to China's civil war debacle.

Leader of the "Flying Tigers" against the Japanese, and since head of an airline in China, Chennault tells his story in "Way of a Fighter," published Monday by G P Putnam's Sons

His old CBI theater commander, the late General Joseph Stilwell, and former Secretary of State Marshall are singled out for special criticism

A complete communist victory in China, Chennault writes, could touch off other victories in southeast Asia, giving the reds a string of bases from Saigon to Siberia "Then the stage will be set for the unannounced explosion of World War III

He seriously questions that Russia will make any more than probing skirmishes in Europe until her Asiatic flank is secure

Insisting that it is not too late for effective action in China Chennault holds that U S military aid should be given top priority—that a military decision is necessary before political and economic reforms can be attained

"It is certainly not impossible for a small force of stout men who know the terrain to apply the best of modern equipment against critical communist weak spots and halt the advance in its tracks" he writes This would save the lower Yangtze valley and south and west China as a base in which Chinese Nationalism could reorganize . . ."

He apparently has in mind an air force such as he led against the Japanese invaders

Gen Marshall who went to China in the fall of 1945 as a special emissary, is blamed by Chennault for forcing a truce in the civil war at a time when the central government forces were winning.

US military aid was withheld he relates, and eventually as the result of truce moves the Chinese communists got into Manchuria where they had access to the Japanese military stockpile seized by the Russians.

Workers In Ohio Company Spend Time Making Faces

FINDLAY — (AP) — How would you like to sit all day long and make funny faces? Or would you rather sit it out pulling hair?

There's a spot in Findlay—one of only three in the country—where you can do both of these things and get paid for it!

Or if you don't like that work you might sit in the office and open mail which reads thus

"Please send me at once—one dozen young ladies with permanent wave, assorted color hair, one gross crying babies, one half dozen dutchmen, one dozen pairs ears, two gross chickens, six frogs, two lighthouses"

All this happens at the American Mask company's factory. Business is booming, and 25 employes spend their time making grotesque and funny disguises, the majority of which will find their way to New Orleans Mardi Gras.

Almost anything you might dream up in a masquerade outfit, the factory here can supply There's a life-size mummy, donkey heads with moving ears and mouths, life-size eagles; angel wings ears of corn big enough to hold a man, giraffes elephants, buffaloes, elks, moose—all life-size and most of them two-men capacity.

Or if you want to be a knight in shining armor, you can be, complete with visored helmet

There is no slack season, and orders come from all over the country

A boys' club in Baltimore, Md ordered a two-man elephant for an indoor carnival A lodge in Philadelphia asked for three skeletons An embalmer in southern Ohio has a standing order for shoe tips Year-round orders are received from hospitals for surgical masks

Findlay's fun factory was established in 1884 by Oscar Kirsten who came from Germany Deft with clay, he started by spending his spare time to amuse the neighborhood with false faces of witches and goblins.

Kirsten and a friend, Kryst Hein, settled in Cincinnati when they came to America. Then hearing of the great gas boom of free fuel for heating the ovens and molds their business would require, they moved here.

The business flourished and Oscar's brother Otto joined him

Otto and Hein retired in 1921, but Oscar continued on for a number of years Kenneth B. Champ now owns the company.

Ray Fenstermaker, general manager, says the business has shown him that there is something in most people which makes them want to scare other people There are, the grotesque, the unusual, the downright scary false face as the most popular

But the employes have no preference Ask any of the women painting eyes on the tigers, pulling hair for wigs, rattling skeletons and painting spots on leopards They'll say they like them all

Crop Control Issue Linked to Farm Price Support Fight

Agricultural Bloc Splits On Question

Leaders See Need For Support

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Back of a fight developing in Congress over future government farm price supports is the issue of whether there should be a return to prewar crop controls.

There appears to be general agreement that the government should do something to keep agriculture from taking another tailspin into a depression like that which nearly wrecked it —and the nation—after World War I.

This view is held by President Truman. It is shared by most members of Congress, the major farm organizations and most farmers themselves.

But the big question facing the government's policy makers is whether it is possible to have government aid programs without measures which would tell the farmer just how much land he could plant to particular crops and just how much he could sell.

The powerful farm bloc in and out of congress is divided sharply over this question. Outwardly the division is centered on price supports. Actually it is a debate over farm controls

The idea that the government should support prices by putting floors under them so as to prevent a collapse in farm income seems to have general acceptance. Such influential consumer groups as organized labor endorse it.

The argument is made that price supports help both farmers and non-farmers. They are said to insure farmers of buying power with which to secure city-made goods. A good rural market for city goods materially would help in turn to keep urban workers employed.

But just how high should farm price supports be? That is the question that is being argued. Supports were raised to unprecedented levels during the war to encourage maximum production.

Some groups in and out of congress want to keep the wartime support level. That level was 90 per cent of parity for most major products.

(Parity is a legal standard for measuring market prices of farm products. It is designed to be fair equally to farmers and those who buy their products.)

Another group wants a system of flexible supports. Under this plan the support level for a crop would vary from year to year with the size of the supply. In years of big supplies price supports would be reduced. In years of shortages they would be raised.

Such a flexible system was included in a long range farm law passed by the Republican-controlled 80th congress. It authorizes supports ranging between 60 and 90 per cent of parity for major crops and from zero to 90 for others, beginning with 1950 crops.

Under the flexible system supports would tend to average from 10 to 20 per cen less than the present 90 per cent minimum.

This does not mean that supporters of the flexible system want lower returns for farmers than the first group. Each contend their respective method is the only sure way of assuring farmers a fair income and the nation an efficient agriculture.

Advocates of the flexible system contend the higher, rigid 90 per cent supports would encourage overproduction and the piling up of surpluses at the cost of billions of dollars to the government They say such a result would eventually discredit the whole farm program

Those wanting the 90 per cent supports come back with the argument that overproduction and surpluses could be prevented by use of controls over production and marketings. They would return to acreage allotments and marketing quotas inaugurated by Henry A. Wallace when he was secretary of agriculture in the '30s.

But foes of the high supports argue that farmers don't want to go back to controls. Leaders in the fight against controls are President Allan Kline, president of the powerful American Farm Bureau federation, and Albert S. Goss, master of the National Grange.

Advocates of high supports deny farmers are opposed to controls. At a recent meeting in St. Louis, farmer committeemen who help carry out agriculture department crop programs went on record favoring 90 per cent supports with controls.

HERE'S 'SUDS IN YOUR EYE! — And it's a laugh-packed show that gets such a toast, too, for the Mansfield Community Players Feb. 8 and 9 at John Simpson auditorium. Now in the final rehearsal stages under the direction of Burns Kattenberg, assisted by Mrs. Trudy Clark, the play has proved to be as popular in scenic form as it was in the book form where it gained its first popularity. Top photo shows the "summons" scene from the play where Bruce McGinty, acting as a policeman, delivers the summons to "pay the taxes" to the fiery Irish junk yard proprietor, Mrs. Fealey, played by Mrs. Jean Sauter, third from right. Chinatown, the adopted nephew, played by Lloyd Lewis, listens from left, and Mrs. Fealey's drinking companions, Joan Kullman and Janet Hahn, watch at right. The love interest of the show, second photo from top, is supplied by Helen Crawford and Don Fatkin, with Mrs. Fealey showing her approval at left. Director Kattenberg, second from left, points out a few details in the script to McGinty. Helen Crawford seems to be doing a pretty good job of auctioning off her item by the enthusiasm of the "crowd," left to right, June Ross, Dorothy French, Clarice Clark, Eleanor Hattman and Irving Bookatz. Bookatz, it seems is a little anxious to leave. Getting right down to the theme of things (inset left) Valerie Kent and Clark Manger seem to be enjoying themselves but Howard Clark maybe needs a little fresh air. Three good fellows are Dick Airhart, Fred Talcott and Norman Fleming in inset at right. (News-Journal staff photos)

YWCA Volunteer Training Sessions Start on Tuesday

The first in a series of volunteer training sessions for YWCA workers is scheduled for Tuesday from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m., it was announced Saturday by Miss Dorothy Hainer, business and industrial program director.

A similar meeting is scheduled for Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., it was announced. Miss Agnes Kessler, executive secretary of the association, will speak on the topic, "Our YWCA."

The discussion groups will hear Mrs. S. H. Campbell and Miss Betty Blackstone speak on "Committee Work, and How?"

Meetings are open to all members of the YWCA board and committees, as well as to those who are interested in working on committees, it was said. This marks the second year such meetings have been conducted at the YWCA.

Bank Exhibit Marks Lincoln's Birthday

Shows Copy of Gettysburg Address

To commemorate Lincoln's birthday, Feb. 12, the Richland Trust company will have on display in its lobby a reproduction of the original copy of the famed "Gettysburg Address."

Display of the copy is a part of the Freedom Train exhibit which the bank has planned for the coming months. The Lincoln speech will be exhibited for the first two weeks of the month.

The reproduction of Lincoln's Gettysburg address is one of the series reproduced from photographs of the documents as they were displayed on the Freedom Train which missed Mansfield.

It is brought here so that Mansfield and Richland county residents may have the opportunity to see some of the Americana missed on the Freedom Train.

With the exhibit will be an historical background, telling of the chance invitation which produced one of the oratory gems of the nation. The occasion was the dedication of the Gettysburg cemetery, where thousands of Civil war soldiers fell.

Although president of the United States, Lincoln was asked to speak only as a last minute thought.

For Washington's birthday, on Feb. 22, the bank will display a reproduction of the famed Revolutionary war general's description of Valley Forge. It will be exhibited from February 14 to March 1.

GALION—Two Republicans already have filed in the mayoralty race while the Democrats have not come out with an announcement. Deadline for candidates to file is Wednesday and a full slate of candidates is expected for the May 3 primary.

The municipal power plant controversy heads a list of several local issues doubtless supplying stimulus for the unusual activity in political circles here. Dr. Fred H. Hartmann, Democrat, is incumbent.

Lee L. Johnston, 27, Navy veteran who operates a wallpaper and paint store, Saturday filed his petition in Bucyrus for the Republican nomination. Earlier Jay F. Nichols, grocer who served as mayor during 1924-25 and former councilman and assistant state fire marshal, filed his petition.

Johnston has been active in civic affairs and last week called a meeting of industrialists and business to organize a Chamber of Commerce. A former athlete, Johnston attended Ohio university, Colorado Western State college and the University of Toledo.

He is active in First Methodist church and wed a Galion girl, Maxine Camplin, in January, 1942.

Nichols is chairman of the East Side park commission and is affiliated with the Elks, Eagles and Moose lodges. During the W. M. King administration Nichols served as service-safety director.

1950 Institute Group Appointed In Iberia

IBERIA—Plans are underway for the 1950 Farmers' Institute as Kenneth Grooms, Charles McAnall, M. Doyle Rusk and Mrs. Ralph Garverick were named to conduct next year's sessions.

Executive board members are Preston Burggraf, Rev. Paul Brodt, R. Stark Beard, Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. Kenneth Grooms, Aaron Smith, M. Doyle Rusk, Homer Thatcher, Virgil Garverick, Elmer Leathem, Mrs. Lowell Burt, Mrs. Lester Kunze, Mrs. Wayne Longacre, Edwin Swartz and Foster Roesch.

Washington Township Gets Fire Protection

IBERIA—Citizens of Washington township now are assured of fire protection according to Walter Noe, chairman of the Washington township trustees.

Arrangements have been made with the new Edison fire fighting equipment to be on call for fires in the township. Residents should call the Mt. Gilead central and ask for the Edison Fire department, Noe said.

The trustees have purchased special fire extinguishers for public use at the Midway Service station, Miller's Service station and at Walter Noe's residence.

Will Strip Orchard

SALEM — (AP) — One of the most productive apple orchards in this region — the 42-acre planting of Loran Matthews—has been sold to the Mahoning Construction company of Youngstown which will begin strip-mining it for coal within a month.

Monroe Among Signers of Farm Deed At Willard

WILLARD—When Milo Huff recently purchased a farm near Willard, he received several deeds in connection with the purchase. Most interesting of all was one dated 1819 and signed by James Monroe, fifth president of the United States.

The sheepskin manuscript is well preserved, and both printing and writing can be read easily.

Huff believes that President Monroe acquired the property as a government land tract grant and then deeded it to John Limber of Crawford county, Pa., who came to Ohio.

Racing Card Arranged

BUCYRUS — Four afternoons of harness racing and five evenings of special attractions already have been scheduled for Crawford county's annual fair to be held here next Sept. 5-9.

George Damschroder, secretary of the fair board, reported today that the opening night program on Labor Day would be a home talent show while on Tuesday night a traveling "hill-billy" show will be presented.

A "white horse" show and Ward Beam's Daredevils, an auto thrill show, have been booked for Wednesday and Thursday nights while on Friday night a horse show will be held.

Bloodmobile Due In Galion On Thursday

GALION — Galion citizens are being called upon for the first time since the war to donate blood to the bloodmobile which will visit Galion Thursday. It will be located at First Methodist church.

The mobile unit will spend the day in Galion, and blood donated by Galion citizens will be returned to the Columbus regional center for medical examination and typing, after which it will be sent to the Galion City hospital for storage as needed.

The Galion chapter of the American Red Cross is sponsoring the bloodmobile visit in Galion, with arrangements for the visit in charge of Rev. Herbert S. Garnes, jr., pastor of First Lutheran church.

Ankenytown

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Peck and family of Buchanan county, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Peck and family of near Amity, moved to the R. E. Workman home here.

The Home Makers Sunday school class held their meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Leitt and family near Palmyra.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Kershner and family of Wabash, Ind., were dinner guests with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kershner.

A shower was held last week at the Church of the Brethren for Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Bechtel called at the William Swihart home recently. Mr. Swihart is confined to his bed with a broken leg.

Woman Attorney Becomes Ashland Probate Judge

By VIRGINIA LEED
N—J State Correspondent

ASHLAND — First woman ever to hold an Ashland county office is soft-spoken Mrs. Mildred I. Myers, 43-year-old Ashland attorney who will assume the obligations of county probate judge in early February.

The attractive and earnest attorney, mother of an 18-year-old son and wife of C. B. Myers, prominent Ashland businessman, Mrs. Myers is preparing for her new job with the same zeal which has marked her 21 years in the legal profession.

With a quiet smile she recalled that all-important day as an eighth grade student in Ashland schools when her civics class was taken to a court trial.

"Right then and there I knew what I wanted to do," she says. "I was determined to be a lawyer and I never lost sight of that goal. Before I was out of high school I began working in the office of the late Attorney M. V. Semple where I continued as secretary after completing high school. All that time I was reading law under his guidance. His aid was truly valuable, for he was one of the most successful attorneys in this section of Ohio."

Valiantly the young high school graduate, then Miss Mildred McKibben, plodded through the stacks of law books in preparation for the state bar exams. That was shortly before the law required a formal college course in law and many young aspirants, most of them men, were "reading law" in preparation for the exams.

Came a January day in 1928 and young Mildred found herself in Columbus at the Deshler hotel, earnestly wading through the difficult legal examination which would determine whether or not her years of work had been worth while. Surrounded by graduates of fine law schools, she came through with flying colors and that part of the battle was over. She was a lawyer.

Continuing with Attorney Semple for another year, she opened her own office after her marriage to tall, genial "Bert" Myers. Shortly afterwards they established themselves in a downtown apartment which provided a first-floor office for the new feminine attorney.

When young Phil arrived 18 years ago his mother went right on with her profession and cared for her baby at one and the same time. That neither was neglected in the least is attested by the stalwart young man who was once that baby and the flourishing legal profession which had its early beginnings in the downtown apartment.

Her first court case was a divorce action for a local woman. Mrs. Myers won the case and the woman was so pleased when she discovered it was her attorney's first case that she sent a box of beautiful handkerchiefs as a special gift.

Court appearances have been infrequent for the woman attorney, however. Like her tutor, the late Attorney Semple, she has specialized in probate law, including guardianships and administration of estates. This, coupled with her energetic efforts in behalf of unfortunate children, has provided her with an ideal background for the judgeship she will assume shortly.

In counties with larger cities, there are both probate and juvenile judges but in Ashland county, the probate judge is both.

Mrs. Myers, an active Republican, is succeeding 80-year-old Judge S. H. Boffenmyer, who is retiring from office. A close friend of his feminine successor, Judge Boffenmyer has given her every opportunity to learn the routine of her new office. He has invited her to attend juvenile court sessions and is leaving the court's records in perfect condition, Mrs. Myers declares.

"I want to keep in mind what Attorney Semple used to say to me so often, that a poor settlement is better than a big lawsuit," she says. "It will be my aim to straighten out juvenile cases without making the juveniles feel themselves criminals, yet making them realize the seriousness of their offenses. I shall continue as a member of the county welfare board for in that capacity I can have a better insight into the juvenile problems which I am so anxious to handle wisely and well," she added.

Holly Hill is the name of the beautiful home and grounds which house the three Myers, their eight rollicking red cocker spaniels and three riding horses. Here Mrs. Myers relaxes from her legal duties in one of the beauty spots of Ashland. The lovely modern home, set back on five acres of landscaped lawn is reached by a winding lane. Surrionding the landscaped section are 15 acres of woods and pasture. Two of the cockers have the run of the spacious home, the others making headquarters in the large garage. All of them have the run of the acres.

The big living room with its wide fireplace, houses a large desk where the legal career centers in the home. It is not too far from the ultra-modern kitchen where Attorney Myers can quickly become Housewife Myers and whip up delicious meals.

Outside her home, Mrs. Myers is active in such things as the Ashland County Bar association, of which she is a former president and secretary; the Ohio State Bar association; more recently the Ohio Probate and Juvenile Judges association and also the Ashland Altrusa club of which she is a charter member. Then there is the county child welfare board which has provided her with an opportunity to assist unfortunate children.

A staunch supporter of careers for married women, Mrs. Myers says she feels it adds to the well-being of any woman to have such interests outside her home. Her own career demonstrates her point as she prepares to begin new work as probate judge of Ashland county.

Still Found, Confiscated In Crawford

$500 Fine, Jail Term Given Kentuckian

BUCYRUS—Confiscation of the first still found in Crawford county since 1938 Saturday brought a $500 fine and six-month jail term to Richard Wilburn, 29, Kentucky native now residing in Whetstone township. State and county authorities confiscated a 40-gallon still at his home Thursday night.

Wilburn was arraigned yesterday before Common Pleas Judge C. U. Ahl and pleaded guilty to a charge of manufacturing spirituous liquors without a permit. The raid was made at the Wilburn home, eight miles southeast of here.

The raiding officers confiscated the still and 12 pints of ready-to-sell whisky. They destroyed three 50-gallon barrels of mash. The still, which was in operation when the officers arrived, was located in an upstairs room.

Wilburn, father of three children, was arrested at the Crawford Steel Foundry plant here where he is employed. The family moved two months ago to Whetstone township.

Judge Ahl said arrangements are being made for Wilburn to serve his jail term in Columbus, if possible. The jurist told Wilburn to send his family back to Kentucky or be charged with three other counts as a result of last week's raid upon his release from jail.

Doctor Free Under Bond

ASHLAND — Dr. Wayne E. Young, 58-year-old Mifflin physician is free under $1,000 bond Saturday after pleading not guilty before Common Pleas Judge H. E. Culbertson Friday to charges of illegal practice resulting from two alleged attempts to secure abortions.

Taken into custody following his indictment by a grand jury Wednesday, Dr. Young, former Mansfield physician, was held in the county jail without bond until after the preliminary hearing. The case will be heard in common pleas court Feb. 21.

The physician, charged with performing an abortion Nov. 19, 1948, was indicted following receipt of statements by Sheriff M. F. Rickenbrod from two women upon the physician allegedly performed abortions.

Heidelberg Choir To Sing In Willard

WILLARD — The Heidelberg college concert choir will present a concert here in the Evangelical United Brethern church Saturday.

The choir of 75 voices is under the direction of Ferris E. Ohl and is considered one of the outstanding college musical organizations of the country. Miss Mary Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rogers of Willard is a member.

Blue Star Mothers Elect at Willard

WILLARD — Mrs. W. F. Walker has been elected president of the Blue Star Mothers. Other new officers are:

Mrs. Vernard Jacobs, senior vice president; Mrs. Jesse Rettig, junior vice president; Mrs. Marie Teagarden, financial secretary; Mrs. Harold Burdge, treasurer. Officers will be installed Feb. 21.

Swine Marketing Day Set In Huron School Thursday

NEW HAVEN — Huron county swine producers are urged to attend the Swine Marketing day to be held at 1:30 p. m. Thursday in the local high school. John K. Wells, associate county agent, invites swine producers to participate in this important affair.

New marketing methods for hogs have brought about a change which gives the premium to the hog producer who is marketing to meet the consumer demand.

Changes in marketing methods at the Cleveland Union Stock Yards from the old method of giving top price to any market hog between 180-225 pounds to a new method of bidding on quality is of vital importance to the farmer. It is this change that has brought about the Swine Marketing day.

In order for farmers to determine what actually makes for a high dressing percentage on a market hog they must see carcasses of these various dressing percentages. Three market hogs will be slaughtered and on hand for this marketing demonstration. The live hogs, of similar quality, also will be exhibited to show the comparison between the live hog and a dressed carcass.

The program offers P. L. Yarling, Cleveland Livestock Producers Co-Operative spokesman, explaining "The City Housewife's Demand in Pork Quality." Eldon Greer, graduate assistant, department of Animal Husbandry at Ohio State university, will speak on "Comparison of Pork Cuts to Dressing Percentage."

Herbert Barnes, extension animal husbandman at OSU, speaks on "Producing More Hogs to Meet Market Demand." C. W. Hammans, extension economist in marketing at OSU, is scheduled to speak on "Change in the Trend of Today's Hog Market."

2 Gold Teeth Found In Craw Of This Rooster

BUCYRUS — The proverbial goose which laid a golden egg had nothing on a rooster in the flock of the Frank McKeehens, Crawford county farmers.

Mrs. McKeehen reported while she was preparing a young rooster for the family dinner, she found two gold teeth in its craw.

Her husband took them into the general store at nearby Sulphur Springs in an unsuccessful effort to find the owner.

Dates Set for Tax Meetings

COLUMBUS —(AP)— C. Emory Glander, state tax commissioner, has called five district meetings of Ohio county auditors and their deputies to discuss tax collection procedure.

Richland County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe or a representative of his office will attend a meeting at Columbus Feb. 11 along with representatives from Knox, Morrow and Crawford counties.

The Ashland representatives will meet with the state authorities Feb. 8, while those from Huron county will attend a third meeting, Feb. 9.

Bucyrian Finds Caves In Alps Being Hollowed Out

Swiss Store 2-Year Supply of Food

BUCYRUS—Fearful of an atomic war, the Swiss are hollowing out caves in the Alps to accommodate nearly half the country's population, a Bucyrus resident reported today following his return to his native Switzerland.

Alfred Schrier, who operates a cheese factory here, said it is no secret the Swiss are making plans for safety in case of another war.

"Enough food has been stored to last two years," Schrier revealed, "food is plentiful and one can get a full dinner in a good restaurant for about 60 cents."

The Bucyrian stayed with a sister, Mrs. Freda Staempfli, in a suburb of Berne. He was in Switzerland for both Christmas and New Year's Day and attended services in the Reformed Evangelical church where he was confirmed and later married. Mrs. Schrier had planned to accompany her husband on the trip but was prevented by illness.

Schrier learned the cheese making business in Switzerland and established his own factory in Millersburg, O., shortly after coming to the United States 28 years ago. He moved here about 11 years ago.

He made the trip both ways by plane. The trip from New York to Geneva took only 18 hours, he reported.

Galion Finance Firm Head Quits

GALION—Ralph W. Graham, local councilman who is helping form a Chamber of Commerce here, has resigned as manager of the Colonial Finance company. He has been manager since the firm opened its office here in 1939, coming here from Bucyrus. His resignation, sought last fall, wasn't accepted until a replacement was found.

George M. Hinesman, manager of the Willard office for the firm for seven and a half years, will succeed Graham John Notis, Fremont office manager, will be the new manager at Willard.

DONATES RECORDER

WILLARD—Municipal hospital here received last week a Wilcox-Gay Recordio machine which was purchased through funds raised by Mrs. Ella Collins and her husband, the late A. B. Collins.

Hand Labor At Willard Exchange Hit

Modern Machinery Speeds Handling

WILLARD — Installation has just been completed at the Willard Farmers' Exchange of a hammermill grain pit and sheller, which has not only modernized the facilities there but has eliminated much of the hand labor connected with the elevator.

The new 50 h.p. hammermill can grind any type of grain including ear corn and features a strong magnet which removes iron from feeds. The new grain pit enables the bulk grain to be dumped and moved by power to the mill to be ground.

Previously, the sacked grain had to be lifted from the truck to a platform, dragged to the mill, ground, re-sacked, and returned to the truck.

The new sheller permits a wagon of ear corn to be emptied and reloaded immediately with the shelled corn.

All trucks and wagons now are dumped by a power lift which eliminates hand shoveling.

PROUD OF THE NEW FIRE TRUCK—Fire Chief Carl H. Laubscher (right) and Gene Wells, assistant fire chief, stand at the cab door of the new Springfield Township Volunteer Fire department high pressure pumper truck outside the remodeled engine house on Paris street in Ontario.

Community Giving Ontario Firemen All-Out Support

By BILL HERRING
(News-Journal State Editor)

Springfield township and Ontario village residents are giving their volunteer fire department all-out support in a campaign to raise funds to properly equip the 20 members of the fire fighting unit stationed in the village.

Last summer the first step in rejuvenating the local fire department resulted in remodeling of the abandoned school house on Paris street. The building was partitioned off into a meeting room for the members and a garage for the new high pressure pumper truck.

The truck, equipped with John Bean apparatus on an International chassis, was delivered in July and has answered five fire calls since then. Five of the 20 departmental volunteers are eligible as drivers and one remarked the truck is capable of a speed in excess of 68 miles an hour.

Public subscription raised $3,000 of the $7,200 purchase price and the balance was privided by the township trustees.

John Newcomer, who operates the school buses in Ontario, donated the first aid equipment to the department. Two benefit basketball games have helped swell the fund to purchase needed personal equipment.

In this category are boots, helmets, bunker coats, respirators or oxygen masks and Indian tanks for fighting grass fires. The Marine club of Ontario donated $100 for respirators.

The volunteers meet monthly in the remodeled engine house and are called to fires by the sounding of a siren atop the building.

During a test run the fire fighters assembled, mounted the truck and were driven to the alarm scene three miles distant within eight minutes, Chief Laubscher reported.

Duties Assumed In Millersburg

MILLERSBURG — John R. Shoup has assumed the duties of field representative in Holmes county for the Farmers Production association of Ashland. His office is located in the Koch building here and he replaces Fred C. Schnell, recently resigned.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Shoup of Ripley township, he was active in Big Prairie high school, 4-H club work and a former president of the Junior Fair board in this county. He attended Wooster Business college, Ohio State university and Ashland college.

During the last war he was a night fighter pilot after receiving chemical warfare training. Prior to taking his new post Shoup was credit manager of the Sears, Roebuck and company store in Elyria. He, his wife and son are residing on North Crawford street.

Show to Aid Youth Center In Willard

Minstrel Slated There On Friday

WILLARD—"Fun For a Night" is the name of the minstrel show to be presented Friday, in the high school auditorium for the benefit of the Willard Youth Center. High school students and adults will participate.

Ed Haynes and Harry Jones will perform after an absence of 25 years from minstrel shows, and with them will be their sons Gene Haynes and Paul Jones; Lee Gordon and Elwood Tackett also will be on the program, with Harry Jump acting as interlocutor. The male chorus will include many members of past minstrel shows given by the Elks.

Featured in the second act will be the four Stowers Sisters who will present a program of acrobatics.

"Twenty Minutes of Charm," a program of vocal and orchestral music, will comprise the third act, under the direction of Miss Agnes Moore. The cast will include 25 high school girls.

Between-act specialty numbers will be a trombone solo by James Rieker, band director; light opera numbers by Mrs. D. O. Ward and Wesley Watson; and music by an accordion trio composed of Mrs. Jay Lydy, Marcia Fast and Edna Hayes.

Child Care Group Meets

GALION—First meeting of the Advisory Board of the Galion Child Care Center, Inc., since it was incorporated, was held Thursday night at the Center Home on Harding Way East.

Mrs. George Finney presided for a business meeting. A financial report for 1948 was submitted by Mrs. R. B. Smith.

A report of activities during the past month by the supervisor of the Center, Mrs. Sara Beegle, included the open house which was held recently. She also reported that a group of women had volunteered to paint equipment that is used at the Home.

Mrs. Beegle said the enrollment at the Child Care Center is unusually high at this time.

Heads Highway Patrol Auxiliary

GALION — Leslie Crissinger of Galion was re-elected captain of the Crawford County unit of the State Highway Patrol auxiliary at a meeting, at the American Legion home. Terry Drake and Firmin DeRoche were chosen to serve with Crissinger as lieutenants.

The group includes legionnaires who are receiving instructions by officers and men of the patrol. Patrolman C. H. Brown of Marion met with the grop.

Hospital Group To Meet Monday

CRESTLINE — The annual meeting of the Crestline Emergency Hospital association will be held in the High School Cafeteria Monday, at 8 p.m.

All residents of Crestline and Jackson township are invited to attend the meeting. There will be an election of board members and annual reports of various subjects to be presented to the public.

Daugherty Voted President Of Shelby Salesbook Firm

By JOHN E. PATRICK
(N-J State Correspondent)

SHELBY—R. S. Dougherty, a native of Cleveland who has been with the Shelby Salesbook company for 29 years as sales manager, vice president and general manager, Saturday was elected president of the local firm. He succeeds W. O. Critchfield who retired.

Daugherty also is a director of the Citizens Bank of Shelby and the Business Forms Institute.

Critchfield was a pioneer in the high powered rotary press method of printing. Many of the improvements in the equipment and processes used in the printing industry are a result of his creative ability. His retirement culminates a career covering a 60-year period.

He was factory manager of the Simple Account Salesbook company in Fremont when that firm was merged with the local company and he came here in 1921 in the same capacity for 19 years. In 1940 he was elected second vice president and on March 16, 1945 became first vice president and general manager. He was elected to the presidency on Jan. 31, 1947.

Critchfield will continue as a director of the company this year and serve as a consultant.

Directors elected yesterday: R. M. Boyd of Cleveland; R. J. Carter of Fostoria; W. O. Critchfield, R. S. Daugherty, R. E. Dudenhaver, R. D. Hurl, H. E. Sheets, Walter Sotzen, F. B. Stevens and J. G. Van Horn of Sturgis, Mich.

Officers chosen were Sheets, chairman; Daugherty, president; Stevens, vice president; Hurl, secretary; Dudenhaver, treasurer and S. E. Smith, assistant treasurer.

Chest Elects At Ashland

ASHLAND — A nine-member board of governors was elected at the annual meeting of the Ashland Community Chest following adoption Wednesday night of a new constitution providing for nine instead of seven members.

New members of the board are Mrs. R. W. Bixler and David P. Enck. Re-elected were Curtiss Ginn jr., present chairman of the board; T. J. Budd, S. F. Jameson, Floyd Knapp, Edgar Koehl, Glenn Stackhouse and Mrs. Clyde Wharton.

Loudonville Masonic Inspection On Feb. 11

LOUDONVILLE — Members of King Cyrus Chapter 207, Royal Arch Masons, will hold their annual inspection here on Friday, Feb. 11 at the Masonic Temple.

Ben Filkin, inspector of the ninth district of Royal Arch Masons of Ohio, will be the inspecting officer with degree work presented in the past masters degree. The meeting will be preceded by a 6:30 dinner in the lodge rooms served by the ladies of the Eastern Star.

On Diocese Board

WILLARD — Walter Frederick of Willard has been appointed a member of the administrative board of the National Council of Catholic Men of the Toledo diocese.

Chesapeake Bay OYSTERS Nature's Gift

Keep The Oyster At The Top Of The Menu.

As a food the oyster is one of the greatest delicacies obtained from the sea. The oyster is easily digested, nutritious and wholesome, and is rich in elements of importance in our diet. It's composition is of such character as to make it more nearly self sufficient as a diet. In this respect it resembles milk and needs but the ordinary ingredients used in cooking, starches and fats to give it "balance." One pound of oysters will furnish 7 per cent of the energy a man needs daily, 8 per cent of the protien, 35 per cent of the calcium, 53 per cent of the phosphorus, and 136 per cent of the iron.

INGRID BERGMAN
★ ★ ★
Portrait From Afar

Household Normal Despite 2 Careers

By HOWARD C. HEYN

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Portrait (from afar) of a celebrated Hollywood household:

A famous actress, blonde and bland. Her husband, a noted neuro-surgeon. Both foreign-born, each deeply respectful of the other's career. Their daughter, 10. And their house—sturdy, dignified—into which the public is never permitted to peer.

Ingrid Bergman fronts for the family. And her talk never includes domestic relations. Now and then the avid fans get a second-hand peek beyond the stout front door that closes off her private life. But these are about as significant as, for instance, the fact that Miss Bergman likes to scrub and polish. Or that she smokes and the doctor does not.

As for Dr. Peter Lindstrom, he discusses wife and work not at all.

I have never spent a Sunday evening in the Lindstrom home. But I can imagine such an evening. A solid Swedish meal, prepared by Ingrid herself (she cooks on Sunday, the servants' day off). A fire on the hearth. Daughter Pia fussing with her dolls.

★

I told Miss Bergman (at the studio) that I thought it was nice they were both so successful in widely different fields.

Came the reply:

"But they're not so different. We are both trying to help others."

Well, her talents are a boon to Miss Bergman, too. And, until recently, to David O. Selznick. Three of her pictures grossed nearly $18,000,000 in 1946.

Miss Bergman is freelancing now. Usually she gets a salary and a cut of the profits. Most of her pictures make a great deal of money.

Of course, there was "Arch of Triumph." That cost over $4,000,000. It flopped. "Joan of Arc" cost $4,500,000, and will have to make $9,000,000, it's said, before it pays off for Ingrid. The critics haven't all been overly enthusiastic about "Joan."

Ingrid is big, handsome and very nice. She knocks herself out to be nice. She worries about a persistent rumor that she's inclined to be unapproachable.

Off the set she doesn't look like an actress and she doesn't act like an actress. Thousands know her in pictures, yet she can go many places unrecognized.

★

She is conscious of her height (nearly five feet, nine inches) and dislikes high heels. Sometimes she plays emotional closeups in her stocking feet. Or even while standing in a shallow trench.

Does she ever wear high heels? "Yes, in a scene depicting loneliness. I think a woman walking alone on a dusky street looks far lonelier in high heels."

Her yearning to play Joan of Arc dated from childhood. After her first Hollywood picture ("Intermezzo") she returned to Sweden, and Selznick lured her back with a promise of the role. "But then there was always some reason why it couldn't be done. The war was one. I almost decided it would never happen."

It didn't during the Selznick association. The stage was to provide the opportunity. And with her high success in "Joan of Lorraine" a movie version was inevitable.

"It must have been gratifying to achieve a childhood goal," I suggested.

"I'd like to do it again," she said promptly.

★

The late Victor Fleming, who directed "Joan," once said Ingrid was an angel. On another occasion he conceded she had lots of temperament, "but she controls it." She is never really happy, he added, unless she is working. A good scene elates her, "but a bad one almost makes her ill."

Ingrid, holding some 30 awards and rating consistently among the top ten stars, needs nothing. But she could use a haggard look, and a few films in which she does not come to a sorry end.

These sound contradictory? So are some of her roles. She simply can't look convincingly dissipated, sick, or emotionally and physically spent, without a false face. Yet she defends her right to essay characters like Camille.

One desperate director ordered her to stay up all night before playing a scene in which she was supposed to look dissolute and derelict. Ingrid toured the all-night beaneries and movie houses with Ruth Roberts, her diction coach. At 8 A.M. they returned to the studio, Ruth drooping from weariness and her eyes darkly circled.

Ingrid looked positively radiant. She always looks wholesome, however she feels. "Scrubbed" is the overworked but only word for Bergman.

There are other wholsome touches. She sleeps long and well, works hard, dresses simply, loves to take Pia to cartoon movies. Scouring and polishing, says she, "make you feel that your house is really your own." She eats as she pleases between pictures. Believes excessive dieting has ruined the health of many an actress. She can gain or lose 10 pounds at will. Ordinarily she weighs 120 pounds.

She never smoked until "Arch of Triumph." The part called for cigarettes, and she discovered that she liked them. "Smoking is so companionable" she explained.

Ingrid is 31 now, and thinks her audience needs a rest from the overly-serious Bergman. She wants to do comedy. "It must be a very special kind of comedy, of course," she said. "Perhaps the kind (director) Leo McCarey could do. Not Slapstick."

The Theater

2 Expensive Productions Do Nosedive

NEW YORK—(AP)—In the sometimes morose mirrors of the theater, there comes for most every producer an, occasional "morning after" when he has to look at his brand new show and admit to himself that he owns a costly ostrich egg which won't hatch a penny in return.

Such a "morning after" hit two worthwhile Broadway producers in two successive first nights with the premieres of the drama "Leaf and Bough," and the musical revue, "All for Love."

Charles P. Heidt, after 14 years absence from Broadway, returned to the Rialto especially to produce "Leaf and Bough."

After three performances, "Leaf and Bough," which was an expensive production, came to a close with a $97,500 loss.

The night after the "Leaf and Bough" premiere, there came another resplendent Broadway premiere which rededicated one of the most luxurious of white way playhouses under the name of the Mark Hellinger theater, renamed for the late and popular Broadway columnist who went on to become a successful Hollywood producer.

For the first attraction, Anthony B. Farrell, an Albany, N. Y., businessman with seemingly limitless finances, produced a musical revue, "All for Love." It was received by most of the critical observers with biting remarks about its lack of humor, lack of good material and lack of being a good show. The beauty of costumes and other such material items were the only things praised.

So Producer Farrell, who, incidentally explained that he named his luxurious playhouse after Hellinger solely because he enjoyed reading Mark's column when Mark was covering Broadway for the New York Daily News, stands to lose quite a sum unless a box office miracle happens.

DORSEY'S COMING — Jimmy Dorsey, making a nation-wide tour with his band, will visit Mansfield on Monday for an appearance at the Ohio theater. During his current tour, Dorsey and his musicians will visit some of the most noted amusement places in the U.S. before he returns to Hollywood for another film assignment. Dorsey classes his present orchestra as the best he has ever had.

Experience at Last

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Singers and dancers are always complaining that, in pictures, they never get a chance to sing or dance. They should sympathize with Phillip Tully, a stage, radio and screen character actor.

Tully has owned a large saloon and restaurant (Harvey's, on Beekman street in New York) for a long time, but only now, after 15 years in show business, has he been cast as a bartender—in "Illegal Entry." He says he has always trained his bartenders himself for duty in his saloon.

Happenings In Hollywood

Actress Studies Human Side of History

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Corinne Calvet, pretty young French actress, is preparing for American citizenship. This entails some knowledge of American history.

Corinne, like many another newcomer, found the facts interesting but the textbooks dull. So she turned to the newspaper archives.

What she expected to be a rather tiresome chore thus became a fascinating study, she said.

"Newspapers have real depth," the actress declared. "They make the past return to life. This way I'm learning what the American people thought—not merely what their leaders thought."

Miss Calvet is cast with Burt Lancaster in the Hal Wallis film, "Rope of Sand," which will mark her Hollywood cinema debut. She spends several hours of her spare time each week in newspaper libraries, going over old and yellowed files.

The little Parisienne and Actor John Bromfeld were married only a few weeks ago. She has been in this country 18 months. Citizenship will not be available until she has lived here two years.

Paramount brought her to Hollywood, but failed to assign her to any pictures. She moved to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, but fared no better. Directors feared her accent was too strong.

Then Wallis took over her contract and put her in the hands of a diction coach. Her speech improved almost at once, and the coach now says Corinne's accent is barely perceptible.

Mae West Recovers;

NEW YORK — (AP) — Mae West, recovered from her illness, will reopen her revival of "Diamond Lil" at the Coronet theater on Broadway beginning Feb. 5.

Actors Equity is urging a U.S. National theater since the British parliament voted to set up one in England at a cost of $4,000,000.

Elsa Shelley has completed her new play, "Tomorrow is a Secret" which will be seen soon on Broadway. Miss Shelley is the actress-playwright who once played the only role in a single-character play which was produced on Broadway.

★

Malibu Beach Scene Duplicated In Studio

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The most elaborate set at Universal-International studios is the recreation, on a sound stage, of Malibu beach near Hollywood.

Producer-Director Irving Brecher ordered 200 tons of beach sand, 50 umbrellas, two cottage fronts, a barbecue pit 20 feet in diameter containing six gas stoves, and 75 extras. He also called for 50 pounds of hamburger and similar quantities of wieners and buns to complete the picnic setting.

Brecher stood in the center of the barbecue pit and ordered the fires turned on under the wieners and hamburgers. In a few moments he was engulfed by clouds of smoke and steam, rising all around him.

Making his way out of the murk he announced:

"Kill the fires. This is too much like a story conference."

Cowboy Star Busy, Even On Vacation

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Roy Rogers currently is enjoying his longest rest from films since he began making pictures 10 years ago. He finished his last picture, "The Far Frontier," on Aug. 16, and he wasn't due back to Republic for his next, "Susanna Pass," until Jan. 17.

But he hasn't been idle. He spent two months on a rodeo tour. He made 15 personal appearances in the past three weeks. And the deal for his wife, Dale Evans, to make a series of westerns of her own is hot again, with two studios (not including Republic) showing interest.

In many savage tribes, a person's name is thought to be so intimately connected with his personality that it is seldom if ever used.

'Packaged' Mortgages Aid Builders

Plan Eases Tight Credit Regulations

Use of the "packaged mortgage" to include household equipment in monthly payments on the home receives new impetus from the tightened credit regulations by the federal government, it is pointed out by the Construction Research Bureau, New York clearing house for building information.

Under the renewed Regulation W credit curbs, a 20 per cent down payment must be made on equipment such as refrigerators, stoves, dishwashers and laundry machines.

This imposes a heavy financial load on the home-buyer, as the equipment must be paid for in 18 months with resulting high monthly payments in addition to the payments on the house. Including the equipment in the over-all mortgage reduces payments considerably, adding only three or four dollars a month to the mortgage payments.

Inclusion of equipment in the long-term mortgage, a plan worked out several years ago by a few mortgage lenders, was not widely used while home-buyers could purchase equipment with a 10 per cent down payment and extend payments over two or three years.

BUILDERS USING PLAN

Tighter credit rules have now brought a wider demand for the "packaged mortgage," especially from builders. By including all equipment in one mortgage, the home-buyer deals with only one lender, not three or four as happens when home equipment is financed through separate installment contracts.

The FHA permits payments to be spread over 25 years, enabling a home-buyer to move into a new house that is fully equipped without adding appreciably to his monthly financial obligation.

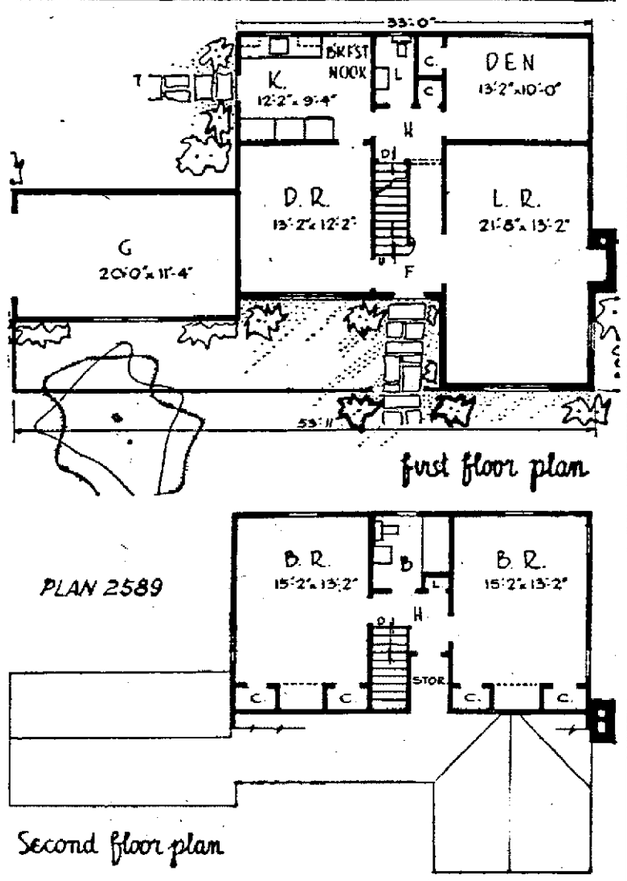
Biggest obstacle has been overcome by legislation in various states, many of which have revised their laws requiring equipment to be "attached" to the house.

Plug-in refrigerators can be included in FHA mortgages in all states except Arizona, Delaware, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, and the city of San Francisco.

Permanently installed washers can be included in the house mortgage in all states except Illinois, Kansas, Mississippi, North Carolina, Vermont. Dishwashers and garbage-disposal equipment are permitted in practically all states.

Only 14 state permit inclusion in the house mortgage of automatic ironers-Alabama, Arizona, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Maine, Maryland, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Utah, Wisconsin, and the city of Spokane, Wash.

Many lenders predict the time will soon arrive when all needed equipment—possibly even furniture—will be as much a part of the over-all home mortgage as the furnace.



BIG BUT SNUG—A two-story home with the snug appearance of a cottage, this Plan 2589 by Rudolph A. Mattern, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N. Y., has a floor area of 1,521 square feet including both floors. The first floor den can be used as a maid's room or guest room.

By omitting the garage, the house can be built on a very small lot. The architect suggests an exterior of fieldstone, white clapboards and a slate roof for an impressive job, although the design lends itself to more economical materials as well.

Floor Construction Requires Use of Fully Dried Lumber

Building experts stress the importance of using adequately dried joist lumber and subflooring boards to prevent floor squeaks in a house.

They say that squeaks rarely originate in the hardwood finish flooring. This is due, they point out, to the fact that modern hard wood flooring, in addition to being air-dried for long periods before processing, is scientifically kilndried at the mill.

The squeaks which sometimes develop in floors often can be traced to the use of wet or "green" joist lumber or subflooring boards, although inadequate nailing frequently is responsible, the experts declare.

They explain that "green" joists and subflooring boards eventually lose most of their moisture. In so doing they shrink and pull loose from the nailing. Weight placed on the floor then causes a slight movement and consequent squeak. Home builders can guard against this condition by making certain that properly dried lumber is employed.

Authorities on floor construction assert that while hardwood flooring is dried scientifically to prevent excessive expansion and shrinkage after it has been laid, ordinary precautions should be taken to protect it from dampness. Preferably, too, installation should be entrusted to skilled mechanics familiar with the approved methods.

In recommended practice the flooring is laid only after the plaster has dried thoroughly and all work except the final interior trim has been completed. It is advisable to have the flooring delivered to the site four or five days before installation and piled losely in the building. A temperature of about 70 degrees should be maintained in the structure.

In this way the flooring, having been reduced to a low moisture content in kiln-drying, adjusts itself properly to the atmosperic conditions inside the house. The degree of shrinkage or expansion after installation is there fore so small that it does not affect the floor.

New Showerhead Is Self-Cleaning

A new showerhead, made of only six parts, has 28 stainless steel pins which clean the head by punching out all lime, alkali, and scale formations. Besides cleaning out the showerhead automatically, the 28 stainless steel pins ride in the center of the stream of water and insure a free, even flow. A small hand lever on one side of the showerhead can be set for a coarse drenching shower, or a fine needle spray, on any variation in between.

Gains Made In Supplies

This is the time to go ahead with plans for that extra bathroom or the new heating system, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries bureau in calling attention to the fact that plumbing and heating materials, with some exceptions, will be in better supply in 1949 than in 1948.

In some lines, production in 1948 exceed all previous records and equipment was supplied not only for a huge residential building program but also for commercial, industrial, and institutional buildings, as well as other types of construction.

The cpacity is there, the bureau points out, for even greater output in 1949 in many lines Barring unforseen events, 1949 should be another good year for the plumbing and heating industries with nearly all types of equipment in sufficient supply to take care of anticipated demand.

Supplies of steel pipe, cast iron soil pipe, and water closets are still insufficient to meet the demand. During 1947, manufacturers produced about two and one-half million water closets. The production in 1948 is likely to come close to three and one-third million.

Ranch-Style Homes Showing Steady Gain In Popularity

A growing nationwide preference for modern, ranch-style homes over the traditional or colonial style is noted by Tomas H. Creighton, of the American Institute of Architects and editor of Progressive Architecture.

This preference for modern homes is particlularly noticeable when a model home has been opened for inspection in a community. Whenever the public has an opportunity to see such homes architects and builders are swamped with orders.

People like the warmth and friendliness of a modern house, Creighton says. They like the great glass areas that seem to make the room and the garden part of each other. They like the floor-to-ceiling windows elsewhere in the house.

The informal one-story buildings with dining rooms directly adjoining large, light living rooms, are especially popular, according to Creighton who also sees the low-sloping roofs of modern architecture as an accepted trend.

Trend to the open-style architecture is not limited to any one section of the country, building authorities point out. With the introduction of insulating type windows, people in the north may have large glass areas in their home without sacrificing comfort.

In the south through use of insulating glass, proper overhangs to shade the window are at certain seasons of the year, and through air conditioning systems, homes may be opened up by window walls and large picture windows.

Faucet Does Double Duty

A new faucet with two handles, one for temperature and the other for flow, represents a radical departure in design.

One handle controls the temperature of the water. It can be left at any desired setting and will regulate and maintain temperature within 2 degrees It eliminates the inconveniences of adjusting two handles to obtain the temperature wanted.

The other handle controls the volume or flow of water. Because only the amount of water is used which is actually needed, and since the temperature is closely controlled, savings are said to result in both water and in fuel to heat water.

Strong Grip Still Held By Franco

Monarchists Aiding Regime

By ALBURN D. WEST

NEW YORK — (AP) — "Is Franco going to fall? Do the Spanish people like Franco? Are things pretty grim in Spain?"

These are the questions most frequently asked this correspondent on his return after three and a half years in Spain. The answers, lumped together:

Foreign observers in Spain is no present visible threat to the Franco regime. Diplomats are reporting of their governments that the Republican opposition is decimated if not liquidated. Communism has been and is ruthlessly suppressed.

The interest of diplomatic observers is now centered on the possibility of the return of a king to the throne of Spain. They see every indication of increasing cooperation in the regime by the monarchists.

The rendezvous of Generalissimo Franco and Don Juan, pretender to the Spanish throne, aboard Franco's yacht in the Bay of Biscay last August has been interpreted generally as taking the starch out of anti-Franco monarchists.

As a result of that meeting, Prince Juan Carlos, Don Juan's ten-year-old heir, is now studying in Spain. Whether he or his father, now living in royal exile in nearby Portugal, ascend the Spanish throne is a question that only generalissimo Franco can answer.

Spain's present government is generally described as a police or military dictatorship. The leaders of the armed forces named Generalissimo franco chief of state. They have the unquestioned power to remove him from that office. Yet both official and unofficial foreign observers in Madrid hold such a step a most remote possibility.

Do the Spanish people like Franco?

The answer to this question can only be answered by a plebiscite held with freedoms of speech, press, assembly and organization. Such freedoms are not now enjoyed by the Spanish people.

For almost thirteen years, since the start of the Spanish civil war, July 18, 1936, Spaniards have lived under censorship of one kind or another. Since the end of the civil strife, April 1, 1939, Spain has been without the freedoms of speech, press, assembly or organization.

ROBBERY SUSPECTS HELD

'You Just Can't Win,' Says Expert on Gambling Games

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Your wife cashes in on a horse because she likes the color of the jockey's jacket. You collect non-negotiable tickets because you follow breeding lines.

Ever wonder why?

A man who has been studying gambling for 15 years says he's found out it's because "you just can't win."

Feeding slugs into his own slot machine, Dr. Ernest E. Blanche said:

"It's mine and it's honest, but it pays me only 70 per cent."

Dr. Blanche, a 36-year-old mathematician, once wanted to be a physician. Instead, he has been diagnosing the probabilities of gambling success.

He aims his preaching against gambling from the practical rather than the moral viewpoint.

"People don't want to be told they can't win," he says. "My theory is that they'll always lose if they stay at it. The ones who can't be convinced are the ones I'm trying to reach."

Some of his conclusions:

You've got one chance in 17 of making four straight passes with the dice, shooting for seven, 11 of your point.

If it's eight straight winning throws, the chances are one in 287. If it is 10, you have one chance in 1,181—unless the dice are crooked.

From the mathematical standpoint, he says he has tried all the angles—from roulette to hunting the red-coated piece of candy that would entitle him to a free peppermint stick.

His own home is a cache of gambling equipment—all experimental and some of it phoney. He says he has been kicked out of some places merely for taking notes.

Besides being a doctor of philosophy in mathematics, Dr. Blanche is chief statistician in the logistics division, army general staff, and a former newspaper reporter in Passaic, N.J.

Hasn't he ever found a winning system?

Says the doctor: "Don't think I wouldn't have used it if I had."

Bus Service Hits Snag

Stockholders of the Flying Cloud Bus Line are scheduled to meet this week in an attempt to iron out financial difficulties and resume operations.

Since Jan. 15 the company has suspended service because of financial troubles, H. T. Manner, the firm's attorney, said yesterday.

He explained the state public utilities commission has been notified and agreed to give the firm time to work out its problems.

If the company is unsuccessful, it faces loss of its franchise which could be awarded to another firm desiring to serve the area, Manner said.

Persons in the area east and southeast of Mansfield, who formerly depended on the bus line for transportation into the city, have had to arrange for other means of travel.

The line operated from Mansfield to Millersburg, servicing intermediate points.

Lake Rudolf in Kenya, Africa, was once twice its present size and may have been the original source of the Nile.

Food Probe Underway

COLUMBUS — (AP) — State Welfare Director John H. Lamneck launched a study of food served in Ohio's mental institutions Saturday.

The director placed the study in the hands of the department's mental hygiene advisory council, a five-member group headed by Probate Judge Clifford M. Woodside of Youngstown.

"I want this survey to be impartial," said Lamneck. "There have been some comments made about the quality of the food served in the state's mental institutions.

"If inmates are not properly fed, I want to know about it. I want to do something about it."

Fire Companies Answer 2 Calls

Firemen answered two calls yesterday. Companies One and Two went to 229 North Adams street at 2:30 p. m. where an overheated stovepipe burned a small hole in the ceiling. Damage was slight, firemen said.

Company One went to Fourth street and Pleasant avenue at 7 p. m. where alcohol in a car overflowed and caught fire. Firemen said there was no damage. Owner of the car is C. M. Oswalt of 17 Swanger avenue.

By ANN SCHOENMAN

"Ten thousand strong sing we a song,
Oberlin to thee.
Oh, worthy art thou of fame.
In lands afar, shineth thy star,
Setting bondsmen free.
Beloved is thy glorious name."

Whenever students of Oberlin college gather for a social evening, this song is bound to be sung. It stands for Oberlin at home and abroad.

In the lines of this song is a hint of the school sponsored by Oberlin in China. During the Boxer Rebellion several Oberlin missionaries were killed in that area. Today, in Shansi province there is the middle school and college in China sponsored by the Oberlin-Shansi Memorial association.

Representatives of the senior class, one or two are chosen each year, go to these Oberlin-in-China schools on the teaching fellowships to teach for three years. After their stay in the Orient, they return for a year of graduate study on their campus in Oberlin, Ohio.

The beautiful Memorial Arch which now greets visitors at Oberlin is a tribute to the missionaries who died in the rebellion. Students graduating pass through it for baccalaureate services, commencement exercises and inauguration ceremonies.

Oberlin has quite a list of famous men to add to their alumni. Such famous men as Charles M. Hall, who discovered the electrolytic process of making aluminum while a student at Oberlin; Robert A. Millikan, a Nobel prize winner in physics; H. H. K'ung, former vice premier of China; John R. Rogers, co-inventor of the linotype machine; Elisha Gray, co-inventor of the telephone, as well as college presidents, authors, preachers, teachers, social workers, business men, scientists, industrialists and engineers.

Standing on the steps of the Memorial Arch are Roger Brucker, son of Mrs. Franklin Brucker and the late Mr. Brucker, 26½ West Main street, Shelby. He is a sophomore and plans to major in English literature. He is the associate editor of the college yearbook, Hi-O-Hi. Martha Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Armstrong, 39 North Gamble, Shelby, a senior majoring in English. She is a member of the Women's Self-Government League, Women's Athletic association, YWCA, and junior counselor. David Husung, son of Mrs. William H. Husung, 101 Rowland street, and the late Rev. Husung. Dave is a junior majoring in Latin. He is a member of the men's glee club and musical union.

Martha Armstrong, Roger Brucker, David Husung, Betty Armstrong and Paul Rondell were snapped talking in front of Carnegie library on their bikes. Betty is Martha's sister. She is a sophomore who plans to major in sociology. Betty is a member of the YWCA and the Women's Athletic association. Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Rondell, 592 Arlington avenue. He is a senior candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, pre-medical major. He is a veteran of this last war and a member of the YMCA and Cosmopolitan club, a student group composed of students who are natives of foreign lands or who have lived or visited abroad.

Audrey Garvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Garvin, 156 West Main street, Shelby, is a freshman in the conservatory of music, which is known the world over. She is studying voice and a member of the a cappella choir.

Mary Meihack is shown with her oil painting in the art rooms of the college. She is the daughter of A. W. Meihack, 985 Park avenue west. She is a senior majoring in art. Mary is a member of the YWCA and has worked on the Yeoman, campus literary magazine, and Hi-O-Hi.

In one of the rooms in Talcott girls' dorm is shown Margaret Ann Lindley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lindley, 300 Park avenue west. Margaret Ann is a freshman on the campus. At the far desk is Mary Pierre, freshman from Ames, Iowa. Mary shares the room with Margaret Ann and another student on the campus. Nancy Geibel is shown knitting. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Geibel, 569 Arlington avenue, and has plans to major in Spanish.

David Weimer, a married veteran on the campus, is pictured fencing with Lou Smith of St. Louis, Mo. Dave is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Clifford Weimer, West Townview Circle. He is majoring in English literature and was president of his class during freshman and junior years. He was captain of the 1947 fencing team. Dave is also co-director of a campus dance band.

PRESIDENT OF WAR BRIDES CLUB WED IN BUCYRUS

BUCYRUS — The marriage of Mrs. Ivie Schifer, Bucyrus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rowell of Manchester, England and Walter Mead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mead, Bucyrus, was solemnized Jan. 23 in an open church ceremony at Good Hope Lutheran church here.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. H. H. Glick of Norwalk, formerly of Good Hope church.

The bride was given in marriage by Carl Schifer of Brokensword. Miss Vera Mead, a sister of the bridegroom and Dale Schifer of Galion were the attendants. Verne Schifer and Virgil Marquardt were ushers.

Mrs. Mead wore an attractive two-piece gray suit with navy blue accessories and a corsage of carnations.

A reception was held after the ceremony for the immediate families at the Carl Schifer home.

The bride came to America three years ago. She is president of the newly-organized International Friendship club, composed of overseas brides in the county.

Mr. Mead, a Navy veteran of World War II, is employed by the Powers Construction company here. The couple will live here.

W. H. Myers Observe 50th Anniversary

WILLARD—Mr. and Mrs. William H. Myers of 568 W. Laurel street, Willard observed their 50th wedding anniversary Jan. 23 with open house at the Willard Grange hall from 2 to 4 and from 7 to 9. Mrs. Myers, the former Mabel Grubb, was born in Huntington county, Pa., and her husband was born in the town of Huntington. They met at a social and were married in 1899 at Startannery, Va. They lived in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland before moving to this community in 1914.

Before his marriage, Mr. Myers drove a lumber wagon from a mill to a railroad in Startannery, which he states was no small accomplishment since the six-mule team was guided with one line, a type of driving not practiced today. He began working for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in 1913 as a car repairman and continued with the same company until his retirement in 1937.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Myers have hobbies—his, that of hunting, especially groundhogs, and hers, piecing quilts.

The couple have seven children: Mrs. V. L. Striker of Willard; Mrs. V. M. Vance of Mansfield, and Mrs. S. R. Wyatt of Fort Wayne, Ind.; Herbert and Simon of Willard and L. L. and Charles of Bucyrus.

Mrs. William Teeter, sister-in-law, is the only living attendant. Mrs. Cates is the former Mary Files. The couple has lived on a farm in Richland county all of their married life.

They are the parents of eight children, Mrs. Glenn Secrist, Mrs. Raymond Secrist, Mrs. Leonard Koontz, Mrs. Walter Reed and Gerald Cates, all of Mansfield, Mrs Leland Zody of Perrysville, Mrs. Paul Laribee and Charles Cates of Butler. They have 23 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren, all of whom will attend the celebration today.

Travel Talks Given When Group Meets

NORTH FAIRFIELD — The For Efficiency Farm Women's club met Jan. 20 at the home of Mrs. Grace Fisher with twenty-seven present for the meeting. A delicious luncheon was served at the noon hour by the hostess, with Mrs. Mosetta Lawrence and Mrs. Virginia Ruggles as assistant hostesses. Mrs. Ethel McPherson presided at the meeting, and Mrs. May Cherry presented the devotions.

During the business session it was voted to give ten dollars to the March of Dimes Fund. For the program, "Travel Talks" were given, Mrs. Ruby Ryerson telling of her trip to Texas, Mrs. Marian I. Smith told of her vacation trip up the St. Lawrence river, and Mrs. Helen Smith, of her trip to the Smoky Mountains, all of which were very interestingly told. Roll call was "The Most Interesting Place I Have Visited." The February meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Nettie Atherton, Feb. 16.

The Excelsior Farm Women's club met with Mrs. Susie Lewis Jan. 20, with fifteen members present, all enjoying a bounteous pot-luck noon-tide dinner. A comforter was tied by the group during the day. Mrs. Frieda Palm presided at the meeting, and the devotions were in charge of Mrs. Vera Barker. Mrs. Isabelle McIntyre read a selection from McGuffey reader ,and Mrs. Lewis gave a paper on sewing, "From Thorn To Needle", which was of much interest. The February meeting will be with Mrs. Isabelle McIntyre.

* * *

The North Fairfield Parent-Teacher association sponsored a benefit dance Jan.28., at Forest Lake park. The proceeds will go towards the school hot lunch program. At the regular meeting of the P-TA held Jan. 20, a round table discussion on various school problems, was led by Mr. Donald Phillips, with everyone taking part in the discussions. Mr. Robert Robellard played several piano selections which were enjoyed.

* * *

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet Friday afternoon of this week at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Bond.

* * *

The Ready To Help Class of the Methodist Sunday school met this past week at the home of Mrs. Virginia Snyder with a co-operative dinner to be served at noon. Mrs. Snyder spent the past week in Ashland with her daughter and family, Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Sanders and sons.

Mrs. Mabel Woodruff was a Sunday dinner guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woodruff.

Mrs. Joe Bock and Son Return From Month's Trip to Germany

LAKEVILLE—Mrs. Joe Bock and son, Johnny, and her two sisters, Mrs. George Pinis and Mrs. John Roll, of Massillon, have just returned from a visit to their mother, Mrs. Sofie Young, and several sisters and brothers and other relatives in Germany. They left the U.S. by plane on Dec. 20th and returned here on Jan 20th, a month's trip. The plane made the trip going over, in 22 hours, but the return trip took 34 hours on account of stormy weather.

After leaving Ireland, instead of coming by the shorter Northern route, they flew as far south as the Azores islands, landing at Santa Maria, where the weather was balmy and flowers, fruits and vegetables were growing in profusion. After refueling there, they flew to Goose Bay, Labrador, where the weather was 10 below zero. From there they flew to New York and on to Canton, Ohio, where Mr. Bock was there to greet them.

They said the Germans are working hard on farms to supplement their rationed foods, fuel and etc, and are hopeful of the future, and grateful for the help they are getting from the U.S. and other Allied countries. Their visit covered the area between Stuttgart and Frankfort. Johnny Bock, a Lakeville Hi school student took many pictures on land and sea, with his moving picture camera and hopes they will be good enough to show the Lakeville school at some future date.

Miss Young Becomes Bride Of Mr. Hall

MISS Wanda Elaine Young, 46 West Prospect street, became the bride of Frazier Frederick Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall, Windsor road, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock before the altar of St. Paul's Lutheran church. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. O. J. Wise, 46 West Prospect street, and Earl Young, 544 Newman street.

Rev. John Gensel officiated at the single ring service before a background of white carnations and palms.

For her wedding the bride chose a skipper blue tailored suit with blue and white accessories. Her blue hat was trimmed in white with blue feathers. Completing her ensemble were white handmade gloves, a gift from the bridegroom. She wore two large white gardenias with red roses, tied with white ribbons.

Miss Sally Smith, a close friend of the bride, was maid of honor, attired in a grey box jacket suit with pink accessories. She wore pink camillias with silver ribbons.

Mrs. Wise, mother of the bride, wore a three-piece brown tailored suit with dark brown accessories and wore a corsage of yellow carnations. Mrs. Hall chose a black dress with blue flower print. Her hat was of feathers and her accessories in black. She wore corsage of white carnations.

Jack Hall, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The couple will reside at 201 Euclid avenue.

The bride attended Mansfield Senior high school and Andrews' School for Girls, Willoughby. She was graduated from the Minnick's Beauty School. Mr. Hall, who attended Mansfield Senior high school, spent three years in the army, two of which was overseas. He is employed at the A. B. Grafton company.

Public Installation Held For Order of Rainbow Girls

THE PUBLIC installation of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, Assembly No. 32, was opened Saturday evening at 7:30 at the Masonic Temple by the retiring worthy advisor, Miss Harriet Lutz. After giving a resume of the activities during her term, Miss Lutz was presented with a white Rainbow Bible, gift from her officers, by Miss Marilyn Staup.

A rose ceremony following the presentation. The court was formed by Miss Lutz's officers, through which she entered and received a red rose from each officer. During the rose court the officers sang "Over the Rainbow."

Miss Kathryn Robinson, past worthy adviser, led Miss Lutz in the short ceremony of signing the large white Rainbow Bible, which made her a member of the past advisors group.

During the intermission while the newly elected and appointed officers were preparing for installation, Joe Dech, a past master councilor of Order of DeMolay for Boys, sang the "Lord's Prayer."

The installing officers were Miss Marion Friend, inviting marshall; Miss Gerry Hoffman and Miss Harriet Lutz, installing officers; Miss Colleen Stewart and Miss Norma Stewart, installing marshalls; Miss Kathryn Robinson, installing chaplain; Miss Helen Crawford, installing recorder; Mr. Dech, installing soloist, and Miss Martha Shiplet, installing pianist.

Immediately after Miss Marilyn Staup, daughter of Mrs. Allene Arnold, 23 South Adams street, took the oath of the worthy advisor's office at the lighted altar, Mr. Dech sang "My Task." At its conclusion Miss Crawford presented Miss Staup with a bouquet of roses, a gift from her mother. The scene was lighted by two seven branch candelabra. Palms and beauty baskets of pink gladioli decorated the room.

The following officers were installed in their turn: Miss Betty, Hopper, worthy associate advisor; Miss Nancy Gutchall, charity; Miss Carol Hamman, hope; Miss Mary Lou Boling, faith; Miss Gerry Hoffman, recorder; Miss Eleanor McVicker, treasurer, Miss Marolyn Harter, chaplain; Miss Norma Reader, drill leader; Miss Thelma Frietchen, love; Miss Evelyn Ulrich, religion; Miss Marilyn Schuler, nature; Miss Margaret Southall, immortality; Miss Gloria Weimer, fidelity; Miss Jackie Bodley, patriotism; Miss Jean Robinson, service; Miss Rosetta Dech, choir director; Miss Janet Mayer, musician; Miss JoAnn Christman, inner observer; Miss Patty Wright, outer observer; Miss Evelyn Beemer, flag bearer, and Miss Leona Kindinger, banner bearer.

After Mrs. Roscoe Mangan was installed as Assembly No. 32's mother advisor, Mr. Dech sang in her honor "Wonderful Mother of Mine."

The following members of the Order of Eastern Star, Ruth Chapter, No. 17, were installed as the advisory board; Mrs. Edward Davis, chairman; Mrs. Mangan, mother advisor; Mrs. Forest Domer, associate mother advisor; Miss Donna Campbell, secretary and treasurer; Dale Lanning, Virgil Hartman, C. M. Hunter, Walter Burrier, Mrs. John Roman, Mrs. Dan Lamneck, Mrs. Harry Colbow, Miss Ada Steward, Mrs. Lester Wendland, Mrs. William Martin, Miss Pearl Wierman, Mrs. Maurice Lybarger, Mrs. Damon Smith, Mrs. Donald Borchart, Miss Nellie McIlvaine, Mrs. Leroy Hopper, Mrs. E. B. Boling and Mrs. H. Downard.

The honorary dad, Roscoe Mangan, was introduced by the drill leader. Miss Staup introduced her mother, Mrs. Arnold, and presented her with a corsage.

Violet had been chosen as the color for the term, and the motto is "Help make the world a better place and life a worthier thing." Miss Staup announced the trustees for this term. They are Miss Minerva Scott, Miss Sandra Barnett and Miss Marjorie Hopper.

The new worthy advisor announced that there would be a practice today at 2 p. m. The next meeting will be held on February 2, at 7 p. m. at the K. of P. hall.

Mrs. Virgil Hartman presented the past advisor's jewel to Miss Lutz and commended her on her achievements, her acceptance and fulfillment of the responsibilities during her term of office.

Guests present at the service were Mrs. Hartman, district deputy of Order of Rainbow for Girls, representatives of the Order of DeMolay for Boys, Sullivan, Crestline and Bucyrus, Ohio.

Refreshments and dancing were enjoyed after the service.

Miss Brauchler To Be Wed Feb. 26

Mr. and Mrs. John Brauchler jr., 318 Second avenue, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Norma Jean, to Robert Simpson jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson sr., 329 Fourth avenue. The ceremony will be an event of Feb. 26 at the First Methodist church at 7 p. m. Rev. Charles Stoneburner will officiate.

Miss Brauchler has chosen as her attendants, Mrs. Duke Hergett, matron of honor, and Miss Effie Christ and Miss Lee Ann McCullough, bridesmaids, all close friends of the bride-elect. Mr. Hergett will serve as best man. Open church will be observed for the formal wedding.

GUILD MEETING

Members of St. Margaret's Guild of the Grace Episcopal church will meet on Thursday at noon in the undercroft of the church for luncheon and program. Hostesses will be Mrs. C. E. Schreidt, Mrs. A. L. McConnell, Mrs. William R. Williams, Mrs. T. H. Fenton and Mrs. J. D. Bolesky.

Baku Chapter Holds Meeting

The regular meeting of the Baku chapter, Order of DeMolay, was held at Grotto hall with master councilor, Carl E. Pfeifer presiding. Several committees were appointed by him to serve in the new term. Thirty-five members and two members of the advisory board Peter Mayer and Maurice Lybarger were present.

The next regular meeting will be held Feb. 10 at Grotto hall.

LOST 40 LBS. ADELPHIA LADY PRAISES RENNEL

Here's what Mrs. Mildred Brokaw, Box 242, Adelphi, Ohio writes us. "I am 30 years old, 5 ft. 3 inches tall and when I started taking Rennel weighed 175 lbs. I always had a miserable stuffed-up feeling and could hardly stoop to tie my shoes. Thanks to Rennel I now weigh 135 lbs., feel fine and look better. My dress size has changed from 40 to 16. I have recommended it to all my friends."

Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Rennel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Don't be switched to another product, insist on genuine Rennel.

Miss Marilyn Jane Miller Wed To Ralph Lantz on Saturday

THE CUSTOM of open church was observed for the wedding of Miss Marilyn Jane Miller, daughter of Mrs. Vera Ann Miller, 169 West First street, and Ralph Stine Lantz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Lantz, Route 1, Mansfield, on Saturday at 3:30 o'clock.

Nuptial vows were exchanged before the altar of the St. Luke's Lutheran church with Rev. Herbert S. Garnes officiating. The double ring service was used. A program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Fred H. Cahall.

John P. Breckenridge, uncle of the bride, gave Miss Miller in marriage, before an altar decorated with palms, two seven branch candelabra holding the new silver white tapers, and two all white beauty vases.

For her wedding gown Miss Miller chose a formal style frock of shimmering bridal satin, of off-white, made with a tight fitting bodice and a cumberbund at the waist, draped into a bustle effect in the back. The wide sash extended far down into the skirt. The skirt was extremely full and circular, sweeping into a very long wide train. The neckline was high with a slightly v-shaped yoke. Sleeves were long and tight with small buttons closing them at the wrists.

Matching the gown was a bonnet-shaped headpiece in satin, edged with large pearl beads of off pink. The bonnet held an imported French silk illusion veil of fingertip length. She carried a modern arrangement consisting of a white hybrid orchid with a yellow throat and stephanotis.

Miss Louise Halter of Ashland, a close friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Sally Bushman of Mansfield, and Miss Ann Lantz, also of this city, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids

All the attendants wore like styled gowns in a vivid green taffeta. They were made with a wide round neckline, off the shoulder line, which was cuffed with a bertha of bias bands. The waistlines were short and the skirts were full with unpressed boxed pleats at the top. The matching gauntlets were worn above the elbow. The young women also wore little bonnets made of green taffeta. Miss Halter's was trimmed with jonquil yellow and Talisman shades. The other two had bonnets trimmed in jonquil yellow ostrich tips.

Miss Halter carried Talisman roses and King Alfred jonquils while the two bridesmaids carried bouquets of King Alfred jonquils tied with gold bows.

Mrs. Miller, mother of the bride, wore a pearl gray silk crepe dress with gray and delicate pink accessories and a corsage of pink sweetpeas. Mrs. Lantz was attired in a peacock blue silk crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink sweepeas.

Robert Dougherty served as best man and ushers were Fred Grauer and Elmer Oesch, both of Shelby.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for 125 guests in the clubroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel. The serving table was centered with a four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. The color scheme used was of white, yellow and green.

Later in the day the newlyweds left for a trip to Florida. For traveling the bride wore a brown suit with brown topper and biege and yellow accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

After Feb. 12 they will reside at Route 1, Mansfield.

The bride was graduated from Ashland high school and attended Ashland college and Western Reserve university. Mr. Lantz was graduated from Union high school and served two years in the southwest Pacific Theater during the past war. She is employed in the office of Sun Glow Industries, Inc., and Mr. Lantz is in business with his father.

Guests were in attendance from Caledonia, Columbus, Shelby and Baltimore, Md.

A spinster dinner was given last week for Miss Miller by Miss Halter. Those present were members of the bridal party and mothers of the bride and groom. The table was centered with a crystal bowl of pink snapdragons and double candelabra. Other appointments were in pink and white color scheme.

Announcement is being made of the luncheon-bridge party to be held for members of the Mansfield Federation of Women on Feb. 10 at the Women's Club. Mrs. Warren Fort will preside as hostess at 1 p. m. Reservations must be made to the Women's Club by Monday, Feb. 7.

MRS. RALPH STINE LANTZ

St. Peter's Rectory Scene of Nuptial Vows For Miss Moritz, Mr. Beilstein

PURE WHITE bridal satin was chosen by Miss Caroline Kathleen Moritz for her wedding gown when she became the bride of Richard Charles Beilstein on Saturday at 2 o'clock in the rectory of St. Peter's Catholic church. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Moritz, and the late Anton Moritz, 114 Distl avenue. Mr. Beilstein is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl V. Beilstein, 382 Grace street.

The double ring service was used as John Moritz, of Roseville, Mich., gave his niece in marriage.

The gown worn by Miss Moritz was made along simple lines with a square cut neckline in front with a band of satin edging the yoke. The extremely full circular skirt fell into a graceful wide long train. The sleeves closed with many buttons at the wrist. Her silk illusion veil of English imported net was attached to a tiara type headpiece of orange blossoms.

She carried a modern style arrangement of gardenias, snowwhite roses and a white hybrid orchid.

Miss Francis Austin, maid of honor, was attired in a topaz taffeta gown, made with wide bertha and off-the-shoulder neckline. The waistline was empire style which was attached to a very full sweeping skirt. Below the elbow gauntlets completed her ensemble. On her head she wore a circlet half-hat of ostrict feathers in matching colors. Nestled in the feathers were contrasting velvet flowers.

Miss Marita Callender, bridesmaid, wore a gown of the same style as the maid of honor's, but in ruby red. Her gauntlets and half hat corresponded with her frock.

The attendants carried leaflet bouquets of King Cardinal and yellow carnations.

Mrs. Moritz wore a gown of forest green with brown accessories and a purple orchid. Mrs. Beilstein was attired in a gray dress with black accessories and wore a purple orchid.

Serving as best man was Thomas Schnug, cousin of the bridegroom. Groomsman was Robert Stehle, cousin of the bride.

Two hundred guests were received later in the day at a reception at Liberty Park pavilion. The serving table was dainty with arrangements of snapdragons, sweetpeas and roses.

Following a two weeks trip through the southern states and Florida the couple will reside at 114 Distl avenue. For traveling the bride wore a brown suit with green accessories and a white orchid.

The bride was graduated from St. Peter's high school and is employed as a stenographer at the National Insurance company. Mr. Beilstein, who attended Mansfield Senior high school, is a carpenter with the John Jundt Contracting company.

Guests were present from Roseville, Mich.

Honor Former Teachers At Dinner Party

New teachers were welcomed, a bride honored and two teachers who resigned were presented gifts at a family party planned by teachers of Senior high school this past week in the cafeteria. The party began with a covered dish dinner for teachers, their wives, husbands and children.

C L. Allen, who resigned as social science teacher, was presented with a portable radio and Mrs. Rex Gilbert, the former Emma Waring, who resigned as English teacher, was given a leather handbag.

Mrs. John A. Harris, the former Betty Irvin, chemistry teacher, was presented with a piece of silver to match her set.

The new teachers welcomed were Miss Patricia Pine, who succeeds Mrs. Gilbert, Miss Kathryn Hardin, who teaches business English, Edward Chatlain, commercial, and Carl Thomas, who took Allen's job in the social science department. Accordion duets were played by Joyce Bell and Helen Sampsel Arehart.

Arrangements for the party were in charge of Mrs. Margaret Conrad. Rev. Floyd Million presented the gift to Allan, Miss Frances Randall to Mrs. Gilbert and Miss Martha Eckert to Mrs. Harris.

MRS. CURLEY, MISS KRAUSE, MRS. HALL, MISS REED

Concert To Be Given Tuesday

FOUR outstanding Mansfield musicians will present a concert Tuesday evening at the John Simpson Junior high school auditorium for the benefit of Temple Emanuel. Proceeds from the program which is being sponsored by Temple Emanuel Sisterhood, will be used to purchase an organ for the Temple.

Appearing on the varied program will be Mrs. Margaret B. Hall and Miss Thelma Reed, duo pianistts, and Mrs. Kathleen MacIntosh Curley and her accompanist, Miss Louise Krause.

The first part of the concert will include selections by Mrs. Curley. These will be "A Thought Like Music" by Brahms; "The "Disappointed Serenader" by Brahms; "I Love Thee" by Grieg, and "Tell Me, Why Are the Roses So Pale?" by Tschaikowsky.

Mrs. Hall and Miss Reed will follow with "Little Windmills" by Couperin and "Andante and Variations" by Schumann. Mrs. Curley will then sing "Addio La Boheme" by Pucinni.

Following intermission Mrs. Curley's numbers will be "The Rose" by Cloqey; "Miranda" by Hageman; "Go, Lovely Rose" by Quilter; "For My Mother" by Malotte; and "How Do I Love Thee" by Lippe.

The piano duo numbers by Mrs. Hall and Miss Reed will then be "Nocturne" and "Barcarolle" by Rachmaninoff, "Dance of the Tumblers", by Rimsky Korsakoff and and "Coronation Scene" from "Boris Godounoff" by Moussorgsky.

The closing numbers will be "Romance" by Romberg, "Why Do I Love You" by Kern and "Three Loves" from "The Song of Norway" by Wright, sung by Mrs. Curley.

Mrs. Saul Doppelt is general chairman assisted by Mrs. Lester Zavelson.

Tickets are on sale at Shumaker's Drug Store, The Book Shop, Penn Auto, Rogers, City News and Cole's Neighborhood Store.

They Keep Smiling

CHEERFUL PATIENTS—Polio victims keep smiling, as these News-Journal photos taken at the infantile paralysis section of Children's hospital in Columbus prove. Most of the young people in the pictures are Mansfielders, or are related to Mansfield residents. In the upper left picture Jack Gaff, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gaff, 233 Lexington avenue, sits in his wheelchair chatting with little Bonnie Hill, aged one and one-half, of South Zanesville, one of the nurses' favorite patients. Little Bonnie's entire body is encased in braces following a serious attack of polio six months ago. In the top center photo Jack is shown receiving a treatment on his arm muscles from Miss Helen Calloway, hospital physio-therapist, while at the upper left he is shown bidding his mother goodbye after one of her visits to the hospital. The lower left photo shows 14-year-old Caroline Wheat of Columbus, being treated in the water tank by Nurse Virginia Thomas of Brooklyn, N. Y., a graduate of the National Foundation Nursing school. In the lower center photo little Denny Sipe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sipe of Delaware and the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Dunham, 533 South Main street, Mansfield, is shown in the iron lung which has been his "home" for the past six months. Denny, who was five years old in November, is shown with Miss Venoie Olson, second floor supervisor at Children's hospital. In the lower right are Nancy and Barbara Ehman, of Bucyrus, nieces of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Sand, 214 Lexington avenue. Nancy, aged 9, and 14-year-old Barbara are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Ehmans, R. D. 3, Bucyrus. Nancy entered the hospital four months ago for polio treatments and was scheduled for release this week, while Barbara, a student at Whetstone school near Bucyrus, entered the hospital two weeks after her sister's admission. The older girl has been in the iron lung for the past three months, and the picture was taken shortly after her removal from the apparatus.—(News-Journal photos by Bill Graham)

'March of Dimes' Provides Life-Giving Treatment For Infantile Paralysis Victims

By MARGARET MATTOX

It's a familiar scene in business places throughout Mansfield and Richland county these days.

You make a purchase, take your change from the salesperson and pick out a coin to drop into the cardboard box on the counter—the box on which is displayed the picture of a little girl stepping from her wheel-chair, with the caption, "Look! I can walk again".

Chances are, you make some comment about how dreadful infantile paralysis can be, or perhaps you remark about the wonderful work which has been accomplished through the "March of Dimes".

But just how much your contributions to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis mean can be revealed only through an interview with a polio victim or a visit to one of the hospitals in which infantile paralysis is treated.

On a Friday night last July, Jack Gaff, twenty-year-old student at Purdue university and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gaff, 233 Lexington avenue, was on his way home from a local dance. As he walked along the street near his home he noticed an unusually sharp pain in his back.

He slept little that night because of the severe pain and when morning came a doctor was summoned who diagnosed it 'flu. The backache was accompanied by a headache and fever which grew progressively worse during the next two days.

By Tuesday Jack had completely lost the use of his left arm and was unable to walk. Again the doctor was summoned and he confirmed the parents' worst fears—infantile paralysis.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

An ambulance was summoned and the youth was taken to Children's hospital in Columbus. There followed five weeks' confinement in an iron lung, five weeks during which hospital attendants held little hope for his recovery.

Then he was taken from the iron lung for short periods and his respiratory system began to show signs of returning to normalacy.

Next came a long period of physio-therapy, hot-pad treatments, and on Thanksgiving Day Jack took his first steps. This week, after nearly six months in the hospital, Jack received his braces, and is looking forward to returning home within the next three weeks.

Jack Gaff and his parents know all about infantile paralysis. They know, too, how much can be accomplished through March of Dimes contributions.

For six months Jack's hospital expenses have averaged nearly $300 per month, and the braces with which he has just been fitted will cost approximately $1,000, all of which will be paid by the Richland county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

DISEASE STRIKES

On Oct. 13 Mrs. Gifta Laser and her eight year old daughter, Ruth, 629 Springmill street, returned from Sunday night church services.

Before going to bed that night Ruth complained of a headache. The next day she had a fever and her back began to ache.

Tuesday morning Mrs. Laser called the doctor, who examined the child and left medicine for the fever and sore throat. It was just another case of 'flu, he said.

Wednesday morning little Ruth Laser was unable to walk, and by Thursday morning was completely helpless. By this time there was no doubting the doctor's verdict — infantile paralysis.

Ruth, who at that time was a third-grade pupil in Bowman school, was taken to Gates Memorial hospital in Elyria and received the same treatments Jack Gaff was given at Columbus.

This week Ruth is being fitted for her braces, and expects to come back home in about two weeks.

Again the Richland county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and its chairman, William C. Mead offered a helping hand.

Once again, as he has done many times in the years the Richland county Foundation has been operating, Mead told the parents, "Don't worry about the expenses involved in your child's illness. You worry about them getting well, the Foundation will worry about the money!"

Jack Gaff and Ruth Laser were two of six young people stricken with the dreaded poliomyelitis in Mansfield and Richland county. Four others who suffered mild attacks of the disease were Barbara Cocanour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Cocanour, Lexington-Springmill road; Joann Fay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fay, 109 Stewart avenue; Diana Sue Fields daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Fields, 173 East Fourth street, and Frederick Zumsteg jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Zumsteg, sr. R. D. Lexington.

Another Mansfield youngster was confined to both the Columbus and Elyria hospitals for treatment of polio. She is Patricia Morris, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Morris, 283 Giessner avenue, who was stricken in september, 1947

Patricia has been generally regaining use of her legs, but still must wear braces and walk with crutches.

While it has been generally assumed by the public that infantile paralysis is a disease which affects only children and young people, Miss Helen Calloway, physio-therapist at Children's hospital, Columbus, knows differently. The polio ward, which is located on the second floor at Children's hospital, has housed children from the age of one and one-half years to adults in their thirties. During the past year the number of adults receiving treatment was equal to the number of youngsters, she said.

Miss Calloway revealed that while some patients respond to treatment faster than others, and there have been some confinements of only two weeks' duration, the average treatment period extends over two months. Some have had to remain as long as two and a half years, she said.

Ohio U. Grid Job Beckons Buckeye Coach

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Carroll C. Widdoes, Ohio State university backfield coach, yesterday said he was being considered for the job as head football coach at Ohio university, Athens.

Widdoes gained national prominence in 1944 when he took over the reins at Ohio State from Paul Brown and produced an undefeated and Western Conference championship team.

The backfied coach said:

"I have talked with representatives of Ohio university. I know I'm being considered for the job. It looks like an interesting situation and I'm interested."

The coaching job at Ohio university has been open since Harold Wise resigned early this month to join an Athens manufacturing firm.

Widdoes became acting head coach at Ohio State in 1944 when head coach Paul Brown entered the Navy. He was named head coach in 1945.

However, in early 1946, Widdoes resigned as head coach and stepped back to backfield coach. He has held that position since.

Widdoes was named "coach of the year" in 1944 by fellow coaches throughout the country. His 1944 Buckeyes were undefeated in nine games.

Widdoes came to Ohio State in 1941 with Paul Brown from Massillon high school.

Weather Favors Resumption of Skating Shows

Officials of Mansfield's two ice skating carnivals looked favorably towards cold weather today—but with fingers crossed.

Lack of ice puts both "blade" shows on the postponed list but if the temperature remains down Frank Burton, park superintendent, expects safe ice by Tuesday or Wednesday.

The Mansfield public schools ice meet had been scheduled Jan. 22 and the second annual News-Journal Silver Skates was originally on the books for this afternoon. Both of the shows will be staged at North Lake park if ice is usable.

Directors Harry Mehock and Stan Kamen will meet with their committees to reschedule the ice shows if possible. Members of the committees are Burton, Augie Morningstar, Ennis Walker, John Fike and Fred Tharp.

Falls In Race

SYDNEY — (AP) — Mrs. Fanny Blankers-Koen of Holland, Olympic star, suffered the first defeat of her Australian tour yesterday. She tripped and fell in the 100-yard dash at Perth, West Australia, two yards from the tape. Two West Australian girls were in the lead when she fell.

About Baseball's New Drill Camps; Plus Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

OLDTIMERS TELL US that the over-all standard of professional baseball has dropped off in the last few years. . . . The war and all that, of course, caused a sharp drop in the proficiency of pro ball. . . . We're hardly is a position to know if the oldtimers are right. . . . The Stuffer has seen approximately 450 pro games in the last 10 years, but a good share of those were around Class D leagues. . . . So we'll hesitatingly take the oldsters' word about the decline of playing skill in our favorite sport. . . . But be that as it may, the big league clubs are going all out to make the national pastime the best ever. . . . They've instituted a series of baseball clinics to better equip amateur, junior and semi-pro managers and coaches to teach the game. . . . Mansfield has one of the 105 "schools" scheduled for 1949 at Senior high Feb. 16. . . . Then, too, giant spring training camps are the "new look" in sports. . . . Here the youngsters get expert supervision and instruction and a better-than-average chance to "crack" pro ball. . . . Of course, the main requisite is still skill, with a strong pitching arm or a keen batting eye as the top talents. . . . Take the New York Giant training base as an example. . . . The Giants have taken over the Sanford Naval Air Base in Florida for their drill site. . . . Five hundred youngsters can practice at once in the 50-acre Giant plant. . . . Included in the plant are eight sodded baseball diamonds, dormitories, a big faculty, a post office and recreation halls. . . . Sixteen of the 22 clubs in the New York system train at Sanford under the direction of Carl Hubbell. . . . So the candidates have a good chance for placement.

YOU MAY WONDER why we've singled out the Giant camp for mention . . . The best reason is that two area athletes will be among the 600 or so pros and would-be pros who go through their paces starting March 1 at Sanford . . . The youngsters in question are Ed Vanderbilt and Dick Poth . . . Poth was a member of the crack Madison district basketball championship team last year and starred in American Legion junior baseball as an infielder . . . He played first base but handles himself more like a second baseman . . . More important than anything else, Poth can sock the horsehide . . . Vanderbilt was a pitcher and first sacker at Plymouth high school . . . Dewey Durant, Legion ball manager, is high on the abilities of both youngsters and expects them to stick . . . Last year, some 800 athletes passed through the Sanford proving grounds and upwards of 20 full-scale games were played each day . . . The Giants have even taken a page from the colleges and installed a football-style training table . . . And to tell the candidates about the Giant possibilities, Hubbell and his staff have prepared a king-sized 16-page brochure full of pictures of the base and opportunities with the New Yorkers.

CUFF STUFF: Mansfield has two of the 23 chapters of the Hot Stove league in Ohio. . . . One chapter was organized in Mansfield last year and the other in Madison township this year. . . . Youngstown is the latest city to join the Hot Stove sports movement. . . . The basketball season is on the wane but the court sport just seems to be catching the 1949 fancies of many in the athletic fan gentry. . . . Only a month more of regular season remains but tourney plans are going strong. . . . There'll be plenty of them in Mansfield, including Richland county Class B, Class A sectional and the City-County amateur joust. . . . Then, too, there might be a chance for local fans to "catch" the Cleveland Browns football team in action on the cage court. . . . Last year, we got a kick watching the Brownie gridders go in an exhibition at Senior high. . . . We're heard that the outfit will make another appearance here but have been unable to pick up any details. . . . The way we figure it is the Browns will make the season's last court appearance here. . . . Just a guess. . . . Otto Graham, who was a cage all-America in 1944, heads the Brown squad. . . . Ohio State has already started football drills. . . . Linemen are working Tuesdays and Thursday from 4:30 until 5:30 and backs Mondays and Wednesdays at the same time. . . . Ninety Bucks are participating in the drills which will extend into March. . . . They're being held under the stadium. . . . The Big Nine indoor track meet will be held at Illinois, March 4-5. . . . The Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday purchased Pitcher Murry Dickson from the Cardinals.

Illinois Court Quintet Upsets Mighty Minnesota, 45 to 44

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — (AP) — Illinois basketball team staged a sensational comeback drive last night to hand Minnesota's Gophers their first defeat in 14 games, 45-44.

The win gave Illinois possession of first place in the Western conference with a record of four wins and no losses. Minnesota now has 5-1. Jim McIntyre led Minnesota with 15 points, and teammate Whitey Skoog had 13. Fred Green and Jim Marks had 10 each for Illinois.

With 10 minutes gone in the first half, Minnesota held a 17-5 advantage, then the Illini applied a "press" defense for the first time, and in the final 10 minutes whittled their deficit down to seven points, 27-20, as the half ended.

In the second half, Illinois press clicked beautifully. Minnesota's stalling offense was unable to function, and during the first four and a half minutes the Illini scored eight points to Minnesota's zero.

Willard Sport Banquet Slated Monday Night

WILLARD — Under the sponsorship of the Rotary club, the annual banquet for Willard high school athletes will be held Monday at the Grace Methodist church. About 170 are expected to attend.

The guest speaker will be Paul Barrett, personnel director of the Ohio Oil company of Findlay.

5 Champs Listed On Ring Card

Five of seven champions will be on hand to defend their titles in the second annual Friendly House-40 et 8 amateur boxing tournament tomorrow and Tuesday at the Colby and Earick showrooms.

Some 47 youngsters from Mansfield, Ashland, Crestline, Galion, and Marion will compete for 12 crowns in the novice and open divisions. Approximately 35 fights are scheduled in the two nights of competition which open at 8 p. m. Monday.

Only Gust Angelas and Orlando Carbetta of the 1948 champions will be missing. Angelas is attending college while Carbetta is no longer fighting.

TOP DEFENDERS

Probably the top pair of defenders are Joe Neidig, Marion Golden Gloves king, and Don Esbenshade, bellwether of the Friendly House stable. Neidig was selected as the outstanding boxer in the '48 competition while Esbenshade added the Senior high middleweight championship to his collection. Esbenshade has won seven and lost two simon pure goes.

Other defending titleholders are: Tom Weaver, F-H heavyweight; Howard Carney, F-H featherweight and Al Treiscsh, Galion flyweight. Weaver(varsity tackle on Senior high school football squad, is just rounding into shape. He has been out with injuries.

Three other Senior high champs have spots on the card. Bill Eccles will battle in the open middleweight division while Larry Inscore and John Wakely are listed as novice lightweights.

Competition for the open middle crown will be rugged. Eccles meets Charles Farina, 1948 runner-up from Galion, in tomorrow's semi-windup with the winner slated to oppose Esbenshade in the main go Tuesday.

HEADLINE BOUT

Weaver is scheduled to oppose Verlin White of Marion in the top Monday bout.

Some fighters tomorrow will have to fight two times.

Mansfield's representation is divided into four groups, including Friendly House, Senior high, YMCA and unattached. However, most of the lads will be participating in the Senior high tourney in March.

Tickets for the show will remain on sale until Monday at 3 p. m. Ducats are available at City News, Friendly House, Sandy Maxwell's, Hunt's News, Ritz Nite club, D. & M. Cigar store and Park Avenue News. Only 600 seats will be sold.

Matchmaker Mike Wentz completed pairings yesterday.

The pairings follow:

Hot Stove League To Elect Officers

Officers for 1949 will be elected at the special Hot Stove league meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the city building.

Regular meetings of the sport booster group are scheduled for the third Thursday of every month. Preliminary plans for the 1949 membership drive will also be formulated at Thursday's session.

Hilborn's Still on '600' Spree

The 645 rolled by Art Hilborn in the special match last night at the Colony alleys was the sixth "600" in his last eight bowling nights.

Art looked in for one of his better nights when he knocked off games of 245 and 237 but fell way down to a 645 on his final try.

The small, bespectacled Colony manager has become the most prominent bowler in his own establishment with the streak and a 191.5 over-all average he carries in the four leagues in which he bowls regularly.

He is tied for the leadership of the City A league with his Bissman teammate, Bob Lynch, with a 196 mark. He holds averages of 193 in the Commercial B, 191 in the Travelling league and 186 in the Club loop.

The only nights when Art isn't running the establishment from the bowling lanes are Tuesday, Friday and Saturday, and he is a frequent fill-in for other bowlers on these nights.

His recent string which has raised his averages considerably started a week ago Wednesday in the City A loop. He hit 637, 637, 625, and 656 on successive outings, then fell off for two nights but came roaring back with a 671 in the Commercial B Thursday.

Art is scheduled to roll in the City tournament with the Bissman's team Feb. 26 and again Feb. 27 in singles and with Johnny Leppo in doubles.

Michigan Cagers Surprise Ohio State Bucks, 54-48

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — Michigan fought its way back into the Big Nine basketball race last night by dumping a favored Ohio State team 54 to 48 before a crowd of 6,100.

In handing Ohio State its third loss in six Western conference games, Michigan flashed the form that enabled it to take the Big Nine title last year.

Ohio stepped off to a 5-1 lead in the opening moments of the game, but the surprising Wolverines tied the score at 8-all before five minutes were gone.

The lead wavered back and forth in the midway point of the first period before Mack Suprunowicz caught fire and dumped in three successive baskets that enabled Michigan to pull away to a 29-25 halftime lead.

GETS 19 POINTS

The Michigan junior connected on seven field goals and five free throws for a total of 19 points and honors as high point man of the night.

Both teams were in good shooting form with Michigan connecting on 19 of 63 shots for a percentage of 30.1, while Ohio hit on 18 out of 61 for 29.6.

Dick Schnittker, high scoring Buckeye forward from Sandusky, was held to three field goals, but built up a 15 point total as he sank nine of 15 free throws.

Working in a form they hadn't shown before this season, Michigan's Wolverines held an edge under both backboards through most of the contest and stalled out the last four minutes.

The victory gave Michigan an even 2-2 record in the Western conference play and revived the possibility that the Wolverines may still be a powerful factor in the race.

Admiral Five Opens Ashland County Joust

PERRYSVILLE — The Perrysville Admirals, defending champions, will battle Hayesville in the opening game of the 1949 Ashland county basketball tournament Feb. 10.

Drawings were conducted yesterday by M. W. Hunter, tournament manager and Perrysville school superintendent. Hunter said that Jack Robeson and John Mickley of Mt. Vernon and Bob Bogantz, Mansfield, would officiate the Class B meet.

Dates for the double-elimination joust are Feb. 10, 11, 12, 15, 18 and 19 and all games will be played on the Ashland college floor. Two games will be played each night after the two opening sessions. The Feb. 10 and 11 programs will start at 6:15 p. m. and all others at 7:30.

OTHER PAIRINGS

Following the Perrysville-Hayesville battle on opening night, Polk will collide with Jeromesville and Savannah will go against Nova. The other two Ashland county clubs—Ruggles and Sullivan—will meet in the first game Feb. 11.

Other games on the latter program will be between the losers of the first two games Feb. 10 and the winners of the same pair of contests.

An innovation has been added to the tournament. Coaches and teachers from the northern quartet of schools will meet a faculty club from the southern schools as a preliminary to the championship game, Feb. 19.

Ohio Gal Golfers Out of Golf Meet

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., stroked her way into the finals of the 17th annual Helen Lee Doherty women's amateur golf tournament and will meet Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta for the title today.

Miss Lindsay, who has been playing golf 13 years but never matched strokes with the veteran Atlanta miss in a tournament, ousted medalist Peggy Kirk of Findlay, O., 2 and 1, while Miss Kirby outlasted Claire Doran of Lakewood, O., to win 1-up in 19 holes yesterday.

OSU Tankers Defeat 'Cats

EVANSTON, Ill. — (AP) — Ohio State's powerful swimming team won five firsts and a half-dozen second places to beat Northwestern, 50-34, in Patten pool yesterday.

In the feature event, the 220-yard free style, Ohio State's Bill Smith edged Northwestern's Bill Heusner by a scant two feet. Both were members of the U. S. Olympic swimming squad.

Heusner came back to win the 440-yard free style. However, Smith was held out of that race to swim the third leg of the Buckeyes' winning 400-yard relay team.

Madison Plays 2 Contests

There'll be plenty of high school basketball news forthcoming this week.

But the emphasis will be on the second meeting of the Mansfield Senior high and Ashland court combines Friday. It'll be the 75th time the two teams have met in pitched battle and the A's floor will be the scene of the conflict.

Then the sectional Class A tournament drawings are scheduled Saturday morning at Senior high school and the Madison aggregation will meet two nearby high school cage teams. The Rams play at Shelby Tuesday and entertains Crestline, Friday.

FOUR IN VAN

Coach Vern Hoffman's Tygers moved four games ahead in the long series with the A's by taking the first game this year, 56 to 40, in the Bengal lair. Ashland led at the half in that one, 23 to 21, but could not match the closing drive of Senior high.

So Mansfield will go into Friday's battle rated as the favorite—but the margin looks close. Before last night, the lads of Coach C. E. Taylor had won 17 straight decisions on the McDowell auditorium floor and have always been almost impregnable at home. (Ashland played Zanesville last night).

Senior high was the last team to turn the trick on the A's when Ollie Cline and company swamped them, 47 to 39, in January of 1947. Last year, Ashland defeated Mansfield, 41 to 31, on the A's court.

The two Mansfield Class A schools exhibited their best court form of the season Friday night, outlasting a pair of strong Columbus opponents. Senior high squeezed by Columbus East, 37 to 36, for its 18th straight win in the Tyger lair while Madison edged Linden-McKinley, 62 to 60.

BOTH LOSE FIVE

Madison has won seven and lost five while Senior high lists nine wins and five losses. All of the Tyger defeats have been on the road. The Rams have averaged 45.9 points to 45.8 for the opposition while the Tyger average is 46.4 and 42.1.

The Madison club of Coach Blaine Dowler opening its season with a 42-to-35 home court victory over Shelby but lost to Crestline away from home, 47 to 45. The Rams must be rated an even chance to win both games this time.

Sophomore Ed Chelski of the Rams has blossomed into a distinct threat to Nick Gagich's all-time Mansfield scoring laurels. The rugged long-shot expert notched 29 points against Linden-McKinley to tie Jim Regula of Senior high for the fourth best effort ever made by a Mansfield cager. Gagich holds the top trio of 34, 34 and 33.

★

Tickets for the Mansfield-Ashland game will go on sale tomorrow at 8 a. m. at Senior high. There'll only be 200 adult and 150 student ducats available.

Fifty adult tickets have been saved for parents of the Tyger varsity and sophomore squads, George Sherman, ticket manager, announced last night.

Tournament details will be drawn up starting at 9 a. m. Saturday. Pairings, seating arrangements, ticket distribution, officials and other details will be discussed at the dinner meeting.

Augie Morningstar and Fred Staub of Mansfield are the tournament managers. The Mansfield sectional will open March 1 at Senior high. Competing teams will be Mansfield, Madison, Shelby, Ashland, Crestline, Galion and Bucyrus. The latter club is the pre-tourney favorite.

Stroh's Pin 5 Wins Special Colony Match

The Stroh's Beer bowling team of Detroit won a special match game over Mansfield Bissman's last night at the Colony alleys, 2,953 to 2,809.

Leadoff man Buzz Fazio of the Detroit quintet turned out three fine games to lead the individuals with a big 660. He had games of 211, 235 and 214. Art Hilborn topped the Mansfield team with 245-237-163—645 and Floyd Messmore came in with 185-190-225—600.

The nationally famous Detroit bowlers will appear in another exhibition today against the Galion Bachelor's Bar keglers at the Galion bowling center.

Mid-Ohio League To Map Program Today at Findlay

FINDLAY—(AP)—The Mid-Ohio league, new collegiate conference, meets here today to name officers and make up athletic schedules.

George Donges, Ashland college athletic director, will preside. Donges said the circuit would adopt a constitution and map its football, basketball and baseball programs in addition to naming officers. The new loop also plans and annual track meet, and golf and tennis tournaments.

Speaking of the new league's membership, Donges said:

"We go right down the alphabet. We have Ashland, Bluffton, Cedarville, Defiance and Findlay, and someone has suggested that we try to fill in the "E" by inviting the Lake Erie College for Women."

Veeck Signs Don Black for Comeback Try With Cleveland Club

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Don Black, the pitcher who was struck out by a serious injury, came back yesterday.

Bill Veeck, president of the Cleveland Indians, took a look at the latest medical report and signed the Tribe hurler to a 1949 contract.

With a big grin, Black signed on the dotted line for a salary that was the "same as last year." The figure wasn't announced.

"I couldn't very well ask for a raise, could I?" quipped the Indian pitcher.

Veeck had refused to listen to Black's entreaties previously. He maintained he could not take any responsibility for placing a player's life in jeopardy, and had told Black that while he hoped for his recovery, he could not sign him as a player.

Black was at the plate in Cleveland stadium Sept. 13, against the St. Louis Browns, as the Tribe drove down the home stretch toward the American league pennant and the world championship. Something snapped and he collapsed.

Doctors found he had suffered an aneurysm — a broken artery — at the back of the brain. For a time he was critically ill. From a hospital bed he heard the Indians were having a Don Black night, and later listened to the World Series by radio, but did not fully comprehend what was going on. After six weeks he was released ffrom the hospital, but suffered continual headaches.

On Dec. 7 Dr. Spencer Braden operated and the headaches ceased. By Dec. 23 Black was "home for Christmas." One of his two daughters, six-year-old Donna, had written Santa Claus to bring him home for the big day.

Dr. Braden reported to Veeck that the latest x-ray examinations showed there was "no possibility of any recurrence of the injury."

The surgeon said the artery condition had existed from birth, but that the operation had made Black "better than he was 10 years ago, except that his long hospitalization weakened him."

This will be Black's second chance to start over. The former Philadelphia Athletics hurler was obtained by Cleveland from Milwaukee in 1946. He credited Alcoholics Anonymous for his rise with the Indians in 1947.

Veeck was as happy as his pitcher.

"I'm tickled to sign him," said the Tribe's boss. "I didn't think I'd have the opportunity."

Black said, "I've felt considerably stronger in recent days. I'm looking forward to being some help to the ball club."

Black said he would leave immediately for some place in the south to regain his full strength and be ready to report for spring training.

Last year Black won two and lost two. One of the losses was to the Yanks, whom he shut out until a 11th inning rally took the game. In 1947 he won 10 and lost 12. That was the year he pitched a no-run, no-hit game against the Philadelphia Athletics, on July 10.

Black was the sixth Indian to sign for 1949.

Undefeated Teams Clash In Senior Church League

First Christian and St. Matthew's will feature play in the Senior Church league this week as one of the two is sure to suffer its first defeat of the second half season.

Both won opening round games last week but one will fall when they collide at 8 o'clock Tuesday night on the YMCA gym floor.

First Methodist and Park Avenue Baptist will meet an hour later in another game which rates some attention. The Methodists were first half champions while Park Avenue was first half runner-up and won its only second half game last week.

United Bretheren and Lucas Lutheran open the program at 7 p. m. Ontario holds a bye.

★

Bob Meeker and Trent Snavely, the St. Mathew's scoring twins, continue to pace the league's scoring. Meeker has 91 points and Snavely, 88. Johnny Crouse, First Methodist, is third with 86.

Ewell Shooes Aches, Pains By Operation

GLENDALE, Calif. — (AP) — Cincinnati Pitcher Ewell Blackwell, whose aches and pains matched a poor hurling record in the National league last year, thinks maybe the entire problem has been solved.

Blackwell was operated on Jan. 20 and had a kidney removed. He is due to leave the hospital today and go home for a month's convalescence and hopes to report to the Cincinnati spring training camp March 1 at Tampa, Fla.

He isn't sure, but he thinks most of his troubles last season may now be traced back to an infected kidney.

"The doctors told me infection had been building up for at least a year and a half," Blackwell said.

TEETH INFECTED

Last season he was troubled also by infected teeth. He had some removed, but his arm still didn't feel right, and "it's very possible that everything stemmed from the kidney." The right-hander won only seven games and lost nine last season.

This is quite a come down from 1947 when he was the leading pitcher in major league ball, with 22 victories and eight losses and a winning streak that extended to 16 games

Just when he will unwind that long right arm and throw a baseball is a matter yet to be answered.

Champion Wins

ST AUGUSTINE, Fla. — (AP) — Dale Lynn Spurlock of Pinehurst, N. C., former national amateur champion, won the annual Ponce De Leon cup golf tournament here yesterday with a 4 and 2 victory over James Paul of Daytona Beach

Vanderbilt Leads Point Race In 'A'

Rogers Jewelry, now tied for second place, will command the bulk of attention in the City A basketball league this week.

Rogers is scheduled to go against leading Penn Auto-Sporting Goods Monday night and tangle with Ohio Sport Center, with which it is tied, on Thursday.

A victory in both games would put Rogers in first place for the first time since the first half of the season. Defeats would practically eliminate it from the race. Rogers lost the first half championship in a playoff with Ohio Sport Center.

WAY IN FRONT

Big Ed Vanderbilt, the former Plymouth ace, is making a runaway of the individual scoring race as he has 137 points, 27 more than his nearest competitor.

★

In the B loop Frankie Mitsch's still rules the roost but is in for rough going this week. Au Construction, which is perhaps the only team in the loop with younger players than Mitsch's, will be its opponent in the 9 p. m. game Wednesday.

Au's started poorly and finished well down in the race the first half season, but the "kids" have worked themselves into a polished unit.

Two Class B High School Powers Battle at Kenyon

GAMBIER—Kenyon college's huge new field house will be the scene of Ohio's "game of the week" Saturday night when undefeated Fredericktown clashes with Lima St. Rose.

Fredericktown won its 18th straight game Friday while St. Rose, last year's state tourney runnersup has won 15 of 17 games this year. One of the losses was to Delphos St. John's and was avenged in a later meeting. The other was to a Class A power, Toledo Central Catholic.

Three starters from last year's team which lost to Eaton in the state finals are back in the Cardinal lineup. One of them, the 6-4 center, Tom Williams is the team's leading scorer with 279 points in t he first 16 games.

TWO OVER A's

Probably the two biggest victories of the Lima team were a 33-32 triumph over Hamilton Catholic, last year's Class A runner-up and a 73-34 conquest over Columbus St. Mary's, another Class A power.

Fredericktown has two games for the week before the Saturday battle but is expected to have little trouble in either. The Freddies will be host to Marion St. Mary's Tuesday and Bladensburg Friday.

Lutheran Five Aids St. John's In 'Y' League

First Lutheran gave St. John's an assist yesterday afternoon in Junior Church league basketball play at the YMCA.

The Lutherans knocked St. Paul's out of second place, 16 to 13, while St. John's won its seventh straight game at the expense of Central Methodist, 23 to 18. St. Paul's led going into the fourth quarter, 10 to 9.

In other games, First Christian defeated Grace Gospel, 38 to 23 and First Methodist won over First Presbyterian, 33 to 11. Warner of First Christian was the day's top scorer with 13 points.

Hogan Equals Course Mark

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(AP)—Ben Hogan, the Hershey, Pa., golfing king, equalled the Phoenix Country club competitive golf record of 64 yesterday as he moved into a third round lead in the $10,000 Phoenix open with a 204.

Hogan finished with a pair of birdies as his approach shot landed within six feet of the pin on the 17th to give him a three. He chipped on the 18th within two feet of the flag.

Pressing the former Texan was Jim Demaret, Ojai, Calif. He turned in a 65, even after missing a foot and a half putt on the 16th. Saturday's work left him with a 205 total.

Appling and Walker Top Major Hitters

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK —(AP)— Ted Williams and Stan Musial may have been the big stickmen in their respective leagues last year, but the lifetime leaders among today's active performers are a couple of veterans Luke Appling and Fred (Dixie) Walker.

Luke and Dixie are the only current big leaguers who are members of the exclusive 2,000 hit club. At one time last season, there were five on the roster, but the release of Doc Cramer, Joe Medwick and Arky Vaughan cut the membership to two.

STARTS 18TH SEASON

Appling, the veteran shortstop, who will be starting his 18th season with the Chicago White Sox next April at the ripe old age of 40, has collected 2,571 base hits. The 38-year-old Walker, still a regular with Pittsburgh after 16 seasons in the big time, has banged out 2,013 hits.

Appling also tops all players with 1,229 runs scored and 416 two-base hits. He ranks third in the American league with 93 triples, and second in runs batted in with 1,045.

Walker leads the National league with 1,011 runs and 372 doubles. He is third with 95 triples, seventh with 104 home runs, and trails only Johnny Mize of the New York Giants with 1,005 runs batted in. Mize, who also paces the National league with 297 home runs, has sent 1,096 mates across the plate in his 10 big league seasons.

JOE IS TOPS

Lifetime slugging honors, however, fall to Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees. The brilliant flychaser is the majors' only century man in doubles, triples and homers. He leads in the three departments. Although he has completed only 10 years in the majors, DiMag already has batted in 1,277 runs, clouted 303 home runs and 111 tripies. His 320 doubles is fourth high in the American league.

Barring injury, Joe is almost certain to join Appling in the 2,000-hit club. With 1,853 already in the batbag, he needs only 147 more to make it. He collected 190 assorted base knocks last year. In the runs department, DiMaggio is second with 1,146.

Lou Boudreau Gets Another Player Award

NEW YORK — (AP) — Lou Boudreau, Cleveland's great shortstop and manager, yesterday was named "player of the year" by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

He is the first player-manager ever to win the award. The 31-year-old ace will be presented the Sid Mercer memorial plaque at the chapter's annual dinner and show here, Sunday, Feb. 6.

Boudreau is really having the honors heaped on him this year. In addition to the New York award, the clutch-hitting, sure-fielding sparkplug of the World Champion Indians was voted "athlete of the year" in the Associated Press poll and was named the American league's most valuable player.

He is the 19th player to be honored since the New York writers started the award business in 1931. Johnny Mize of the New York Giants was picked last year.

Ace Admiral Wins Santa Anita Race

ARCADIA, CALIF— (AP) —Ace Admiral won the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity before 52,000 fans yesterday with Rose Beam second anad Dinner Gong third.

Canton Swim Star Eyes Records

COLUMBUS (AP) - An 18-year-old swimming sensation from Canton McKinley high school has his eye on some national records

Furthermore, Ohio State Swimming Coach Mike Peppe believes the Canton lad Tom Whiteleather, might garner some laurels before the end of the current indoor season.

Peppe—usually modest when it comes to predictions—thinks Whiteleather might establish new national records for the 50-yard free style and the 100-yard free style events.

The Buck coach backs up his predictions by pointing to some of the Canton swimmer's recent performances

Last Saturday in the Ohio State natatorium, the McKinley squad engaged the Buck frosh in a practice meet - and Whiteleather took individual honors from the highly regarded yearlings.

Whiteleather was timed in 23 1 (two-fifths of a second faster than the national inter-scholastic record) for the 50-yard free style and :52 6 for the century. In the latter event, he finished in a dead heat with Frank Dooley of the freshmen This time equalled the record for high schoolers.

Peppe said no attempt will be made to seek official recognition of the times for the Canton youth —the main reason being that they were accomplished in a practice meet.

There is no question about the marks, Peppe added explaining that two watches caught Whiteleather in the 50 on :23 flat and one in :23 1

Whiteleather undoubtedly will repeat- or even surpass- his performance of last week sometime before the close of the present indoor season Peppe believes. He points to the numerous opportunities Tom will have to do so, such as in dual meets, the district meet and the state meet.

The boy is no newcomer in Ohio scholastic swimming. For the last two years, he has starred in the Ohio high school championships in the Buckeye pool.

Now Peppe regards him as "the best interscholastic sprinter ever developed in Ohio" and "one of the outstanding young swimmers in the country."

Labeling the McKinley star as a "fine young prospect for the 1952 Olympics," the Buck coach thinks Whiteleather even has a world's record or two within his grasp. Tom's high school coach, Ted Brann has brought him along nicely and has been a key figure in the boy's development, Peppe said

Peppe added he didn't know where Whiteleather was going to college Then he smiled, crossed his fingers and added "—but I hope it's Ohio State"

Rhapsody In Blue
Describes the impression you will get when you step into the living room of this lovely home. Above the fireplace is a ceiling-high mirror and flanking the fireplace and mirror are open book shelves and cupboards—all painted aqua blue. This color motif is carried out in the hearth tile, the drapery cornices, and in the background of the figured wall paper. In contrast, the heavy wall-to-wall carpeting is wine colored. Full-width arch ways open into the sun room and dining room, giving width and depth to your entertainment space. Large picture window in sun room brings in the winter sunshine and light, and gives an ever-changing view of an avenue of elms and maples. The newly remodeled kitchen has double sink, white-enameled built-in cupboards and cabinets, breakfast nook, and is wired for electric range. Hardwood floors up and down. Second floor has 3 good-sized corner bedrooms and newly tiled bath with shower above built-in tub. 2 car detached garage. This frame home is located off W. 4th St. near Senior High. Priced at only $14,000.

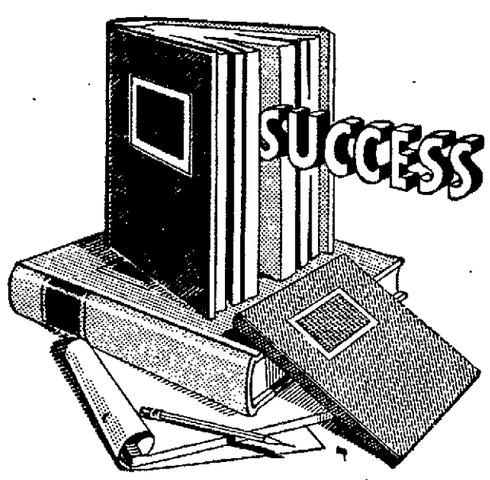
PROPERTY OWNERS!



With Ample Reason We Express— The Fundamentals of Success

"The state of the union is good." So also is the state of our business. A fact is a fact, and facts must be backed up by proof. We have the proof. The business of this organization is founded on actual knowledge and hard work. We never wait for business to come to us. The salesmen from this office are aggressive, in a highly ethical manner, and we're proud of it. We always have innumerable prospective buyers kept in an orderly and systematic state of readiness for any desirable piece of real estate which may be requested. It can't be said that we have ONE buyer, who wishes to purchase a reasonably priced duplex, for instance; because we have literally, dozens of them for such a property. And each of these "prospects" know that when we call them back again, it will be with information of considerable interest to their individual needs. The truth is, our real estate personnel have been selling property so efficiently that we just cannot obtain "exclusive listings" fast enough to keep abreast of demand. If you contemplate selling for a reasonable price, call us immediately for speedy efficiency, and exacting results. The proof will be delivered in person.

— M M —

We list property "exclusively" for three months, but to give you a fair idea of how quickly we go to work, we offer further proof of the length of time for us to sell some of them in this month alone.
